Jeanne

DRESS-A-DOLL

"Mad Men" captured a moment in time, when men ruled the workplace and women were just starting to enter the workforce in large numbers. Peggy Olson is the young striver on the show, but all of the women have interesting back stories: Betsy, the former Mrs. Don Draper, has found serenity in the suburbs with Henry; Joan Holloway, the curvy office manager who used sex to gain a partnership, is trying to reinvent herself as a career woman; Megan, the current Mrs. Draper, realizes that she'll have to follow her own dreams, with or without Don. Jeanne, our dress-a –doll, is the newest member of the cast (in our fevered imaginations!) Which way will she turn? Help us tell her story through her wardrobe. What will it be: chic suburbanite, career woman, femme fatale – or a combination of all three?

Please help by creating someAfter you've created her costumes, enter them into the Dress-A-Doll competition. And we invite you to get in the spirit of the era by dressing up for our luncheon in vintage mid-century Mad Men style – ca. 1960. Where did I put my gloves and pocketbook?

Instructions for Dress-a-Doll (Please read carefully)

--Entries will NOT be returned; they will be placed in a book to be awarded in a drawing of names of ONLY those who submit costumes (one name per person regardless of numbers of costumes the person sends). People NOT able to attend may also send costumes and are eligible to win the book.

--Entries will be numbered as received, and luncheon attendees will vote for their favorite costume. The artist who sent in the winning costume will receive a gift.

--Costumes for the doll are to be your own work, preferably in color, cut or uncut. Please put your name on the BACK of your costume(s); if the name is visible, it will be covered during the voting for favorite costume.

PAPER DOLL LUNCHEON INFORMATION 2014

The fee for attending the luncheon will be $35. The room rate will $83 + tax for luncheon attendees who are staying over on Friday April 4th (including Saturday). Please mention the paper doll luncheon when making a reservation. The luncheon will be held at the Morgantown, PA (not WV) Holiday Inn, with a sit-down meal at noon. If you will be accompanied by someone who won't be eating with us, it's unnecessary to pay for that person; they can still help you set up if you're selling items, and sit with you in the sales room.

Reservation slips including payment must be received by March 28. 2014

(No refunds after March 28)

Sales Tables: We need to know if you need a whole table or if a half-table is sufficient. If we have lots of people who wish to sell, some may have to be refused, so it will be first-come, first-served, but no more than one table per person/family. We would like everyone who wishes to sell items to have space, but this may not always be possible. There is no extra charge for table space.

Raffle items: We have never asked people to donate raffle items but sometimes people decide to do so. We certainly appreciate this but do ask that if people intend to bring a raffle item they let Linda know in advance, so tags and information can be prepared. [I'm assuming Jayne is only overseeing sales room]

Freebie table: Please bring paper doll related items that need a new home and you're willing to part with for "free'

Dress-A-Doll (Please Read Carefully):

Jayne Keller has graciously agreed to coordinate this effort once again this year. Jayne, as usual, has done a fantastic job creating the doll and costume.

We're including the instructions again, just in case you cut out the doll & accidently through them away. PLEASE FOLLOW INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY:

- Entries will NOT be returned; they will be placed in a book to be awarded in a drawing of names of ONLY those who submit costumes (one name per person regardless of numbers of costumes the person sends). People NOT able to attend may also send costumes and are eligible to win the book.

- Entries will be numbered as received, and luncheon attendees will vote for their favorite costume. The artist who sent in the winning costume will receive a gift.

- Costumes for the doll are to be your own work, preferably in color, cut or uncut. Please put your name on the BACK of your costume(s); if the name is visible, it will be covered during the voting for favorite costume.
