Cristian is a highly experienced photographer with a 20 year background in food, art and crafts. These genres suit his need for variety and his curiosity about how things are created. Cristian is just as happy photographing a cacao farmer in Colombia as he is shooting the interior of a fine dining restaurant in Mayfair. His skill set allows him to shoot a broad range of subject matter, be it portraits, reportage on location or studio based still life.

Cristian works with daylight when available but can create a soft natural look anywhere with his location lighting.

“Cristian effortlessly captured the look and feel of the new Langan’s. His images have been integral to building a new brand which simultaneously looks to the past for inspiration, as well as forward to the future. On top of that, he’s also an absolute pleasure to work with - I always look forward to our days shooting together.”
