

1:1 DIVINATORY SESSIONS - Mystic readings and evidential sittings VIVIANITE RITES

All sessions are conducted safely via the use of various magickal protocols, ritual and communion. Once reading sessions have concluded, clients receive a type-written psychic handover documenting the reading. This is for keepsake purposes and to help alongside integrative guidance.

DISCLAIMER - Please feel this is a safe space. No judgment. All walks of life welcome and space held appropriately. Please be aware that repressed emotions may arise within a sitting, this is perfectly normal and is a part of what we are here to do!

All 1:1 sessions are completely confidential. Integration guidance provided. You must be over 18 and respect that medical & legal advice is prohibited. A deposit is required in order to confirm a booking and a cancellation policy applies - Please allow 48 hours to cancel/reschedule your appointment, failure to comply with policy will result in loss of deposit.

Evidential Mediumship

A 1:1 session of mediumship consists of direct communication between myself and deceased loved ones in the spirit world. What makes a sitting evidential is bringing forth accurate information about the person in spirit which may be intimate or of private knowledge. Information that is 'unsearchable' and personal. This furthers the evidence that the soul lives on after physical departure and proves the existence of life after death.

There are numerous beautiful benefits of having a mediumistic reading. Some of the benefits are:

- Feeling a sense of closure, this can be incredibly healing.
- Promotes support within grief recovery.
- Provides validation and evidence of the existence of life after death.
- Promotes spiritual transformation and growth.

Psychometry Reading

Psychometry is the art of reading an inanimate object's energetic field in order to receive psychic information about the object's history or owner. This is to gain insight into past events or life story of the owner. You may have a photograph, jewellery, keys or any other personal item that holds sentimental value or significance to the sitter's wishes. There are two options when having a psychometry reading - they can be read mediumistically or psychically.

A 1:1 (mediumistic) Psychometry reading is an effective and fun way of gaining information about a deceased loved one in the spirit world. Maybe you have your grandma's pearl bracelet? Or your uncle's favourite hat? From coming into contact with this inanimate object that belonged to someone in spirit, I can pass information to you that evidentially identifies them and their life essence.

A 1:1 (psychic) Psychometry reading is to receive personal insight and information about the sitter and their relation to the object or the emotions/timeline held around it. Maybe you held onto your childhood teddy bear? Or have a photograph of the house you grew up in? We can then delve into the psychic information received.

Here are some benefits of having a psychometry reading:

- A feeling of closure and healing.
- Provides validation and evidence of the existence of life after death.
- Healing trauma from past life events or circumstances.
- Promotes spiritual transformation and growth.

Psychic Guidance

A 1:1 psychic guidance reading will help you obtain an understanding of where you currently stand on your journey and to remove blockages in order for you to move forward with clarity and direction.

During a psychic session, I will work with you on an intimate energetic level and gain relevant personal information from your auric field. I can identify evidential facts about yourself/your path and give you the gentle nudge you may be seeking! Working psychically is different to working mediumistically. During these sessions, there is no contact to those in the spirit world.

You may be feeling stuck at a crossroads, unsure of your next movement or be seeking some insight around a certain aspect in your life - Relationships, career, family, travel plans and much more.

There are numerous wonderful benefits from a psychic guidance sitting such as:

- Receiving closure, clarity and a stronger sense of direction.
- Promoting healing and tools to integrate life events.
- Promotes spiritual transformation and growth.
- Leave with confidence & encouragement.
