

A warm welcome to you, reader!

ORIGINS

Vivianite Rites is a sacred, enigmatic portal, birthed to facilitate those looking to embark on transcendental journeys of self discovery, awakening, death and liberation.

Becoming one with the status of mortality - whether this is by honouring the very last stages of your physical existence here on the earth plane, or you're simply seeking some magickal guidance along your waking way...

Vivianite Rites is separated into two intertwining halves -

Death Midwifery and Services of Mysticism.

To find more in-depth information regarding Mysticism services, please click on the '1:1 Divinatory sessions' button on the LinkTree.

To find more in-depth information regarding end of life care and what is offered from myself as a death midwife, please click on the 'Death Midwifery & End Of Life Facilitation - introductory sample' button on the LinkTree.

For people at end of life, this is a space crafted to assist the soul through euphoric states of equilibrium and nirvana induced by death and dying. The profound liberation that comes from diving deep into our mortality is undeniably one of the most freeing experiences any living being can go through.

Why would anybody want to miss it?!

Lets indulge and surrender to the inevitable caress that comes to all.

Let's dismantle the taboo construct of the most natural and sacred process.

Let's honour and celebrate it.

Let's go back to feeling the love, respect and let go of the fear as our ancestors practised.

Let's go back to the roots.

VR will help you do it all.

By working with the potency of death, rebirth and all states inbetween,
I invite you to join me into the world of the unseen.

THE FOUNDER

Brooke Sanders is a certified Death Midwife, Psychic Medium and Magick practitioner.

Brooke's practice of the occult began when she was around six years old, primarily focusing on witchcraft and spirit communication. She now facilitates people through their end-of-life journeys as a death ceremonialist and finds great joy in assisting others through rich and meaningful ritual.

Some of Brooke's earliest memories of practice come from her childhood years: cooking potions in her nana's kitchen, progressing to 'spirit hunting' during lunch hours in primary school, and then, in her early teenage years, discovering she could communicate with spirits of the deceased.

Brooke shares how these childhood experiences developed into a deep awareness of the soul's ability to remain conscious and alive after physical departure. This was one of the leading reasons she became a Death Midwife and pursued her career as a Psychic Medium - To ensure the soul departs gently and peacefully, in order to prevent the manifestation of earthbound spirits and trapped discarnate souls.

She began her first official training in natural witchcraft at 15 and has since received mentorship and guidance from many talented tutors across the globe.

Her training spans Western magick and witchcraft, evidential mediumship, death midwifery and more.

Brooke says she particularly enjoys creative opportunities for soul expression and the representation of otherworldly phenomena through artistic forms.

Brooke is of Romani Gypsy descent, with exactly 100 years between her birth and that of her great-great-grandmother. There are also 100 years between the births of Brooke's mother and her great-great-grandmother's mother! A fun, magical fact.

She shares that she has had many experiences rooted in otherworldly phenomena and feels passionately about helping others—the living, the dying and the deceased.

Brooke is a fully qualified Death Midwife certified through the Sacred Crossings institute in Los Angeles. Affiliated with Cynthia Spencer hospice, Northamptonshire. Professionally insured for end of life services. Practise informed by current UK legislation, statutory procedures and professional boundaries surrounding death, dying and after care.
