

ForumIAS Current Affairs Classes (Mains 2017)

(Starts August 16th , 2017) | LIMITED SEATS

Program Objective:

The broad objective of the program is to

- Cover all important issues from the Current perspective that are relevant for the Mains 2017 Examination.
- To provide adequate answer writing practice within limited time on the most probable questions for Mains 2017 in the classroom itself.

The goal is to cover every relevant issue for Mains, including all relevant dimensions in as less time as possible so as to be effective in helping candidates benefit from it and improve score, especially in GS Paper 2 and 3.

Organization of the Class

Each Class will begin with the discussion of 5-7 important issues relevant for the Mains examination. Handouts for the same will be given out, and content and context explained in the classroom.

For International Relations Classes, maps will be shown for developing better understanding of the topic using a projector.

After each topic candidates may be asked to attempt relevant questions, and given some time (between 5 – 7 minutes) to attempt an answer. A model answer then, will be discussed in the class.

Who can attend these classes?

There is an ongoing batch for these classes that is currently operating at full capacity. Based on the feedback and current demography of the class, it is deemed to be suitable for :

The class timings of the last batch was kept from 5:00PM – 7:00PM to allow working candidates to attend the classes after office hours)

- Candidates who are writing the Mains for the first time, and are unable to identify the important issues relevant for Mains 2017.
