1 Project Description

The Harvard Election Data Archive (HEDA) assembles and distributes election data from the United States and other countries. This dataset includes precinct-level election data for United States elections from 2002 to 2010. In addition, earlier data or 2012 election data is available for some states. This data set includes at least partial data for 48 states and the District of Columbia. The Record of American Democracy (ROAD), a similar project led by Gary King, assembled data for the 1980s.<sup>1</sup>

In addition to the precinct-level election data, HEDA has previously released state GIS shape files that merge election and census data with electoral geography. See <http://projects.iq.harvard.edu/eda/data> to download these files.

We thank the Arthur P. Sloan Foundation (special thanks to Paul Joskow and Daniel Goroff) and the Harvard University Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences for financial support.

Special thanks to Jonathan Rodden and Kyle Dropp.

We also thank the many researchers who have contributed directly to the archive: Jennifer Bachner, Miranda Bachman, Dave Bradlee, Peter Bucchianieri, Molly Cohen, Anthony Fowler, Bernard Fraga, Jesse Gubb, Bob Gulotty, Tony Hill, Andrew Hiller, Phil Hu, Harry Huchra, Jacob Jaffe, Aaron Kaufman, Paul Ling, Michael MacDonald, Nate Persily, Stephen Pettigrew, Melina Platas, Ben Schneer, Gaurov Sood, Hye Young You, and Ariel White.

2 Data Summary and Variable Descriptions

The data are organized into separate Stata files for each state and year. Most of the files only include general election results, but some special and runoff elections are included by availability. Primary election results are not included in this release.

Each observation (row) of each file is a single election precinct or voting tabulation district, as defined and provided by the states and counties from which we collected data. Due to precinct boundary changes, the number of observations for each state may vary from year to year, and it may not be possible to merge multiple years of data from the same state together at the precinct level.

Filenames are defined as `ST_YYYY.dta`, where `ST` is the state postal abbreviation and `YYYY` is the year. Ex: `TX_2010.dta` is the file containing the Texas 2010 general election returns.

2.1 Variables

2.1.1 Precinct Geography

All files begin with the variables `state` and `year`. The individual precincts or voting tabulation districts (VTD) are identified by a variety of variables that differ from state to state. These identifiers generally include county names or codes and precinct names or codes or VTD number, but may include other geographic data as well, such as wards, town names or FIPS codes. See the Complete Variable List for definitions of all geographic variables.

2.1.2 Legislative Districts

Legislative districts are identified by the following variables:

Variable	Definition
<code>cd</code>	Congressional District
<code>sd</code>	State Senate District
<code>ld</code>	State House/Legislative District
<code>ccad</code>	Court of Appeals District
<code>sbd</code>	School Board District
<code>sboed</code>	State Board of Education District (TX)

In some cases there may be additional variables, such as `cd2` or `ld3`, which provide district numbers for precincts divided between multiple districts. When a district is split, we use the total votes cast in each contest to order the district numbers, such that the district with the most votes cast in that election is provided in `cd`, the district with the second most votes cast is given in `cd2`, and so on. This ordering is also applied to the ordering of the election results (see below).

2.1.3 Elections

Each election variable is coded using the following format: `eYYYY.000_vv`.

Component	Definition
e	Election type: “g” for general, “s” for special, “r” for runoff, and “p” for primary. Most elections are coded “g.”
YYYY	Election year.
000	Office code. See the list of office codes below.
vv	Suffix indicating vote type. Usually “dv” for “Democratic Votes”, “rv” for Republican Votes, and “tv” for Total Votes. See the suffix notes for other codes used.

For example, `g2008_USP_dv` indicates the number of votes cast for the Democratic candidate for U.S. President in the 2008 general election and `g2002_GOV_tv` is the total number of votes cast in the election for Governor in the 2002 general election.

2.1.5 Suffix Notes

The most common suffixes are "dv" for Democratic Votes, "rv" for Republican Votes, and "tv" for Total Votes. The notes below specify other suffix variations.

Party Code	Party
d	Democrat
r	Republican
i	Independent
l	Libertarian
dr	Democratic-Republican (VT)
p	Progressive (VT)

Some suffixes include numbers, to either specify a second candidate of the same party in a contest or a precinct split between multiple districts.

Suffix	Definition
_pv#	An additional number in this position indicates a split in precinct across a cd, ld or sd. For example g2010_USH_dv2 means there are two congressional districts in one precinct, and these votes represent those in the second district (with fewer total votes). There will be a corresponding cd2 variable providing the number of this congressional district.
_p#v	An additional number in this position indicates an additional candidate of the given party running for the seat. 2 = a second candidate; 3 = a third etc. This will happen in states like Louisiana which do hold primaries, or in West Virginia where there are multi-member districts. See specific state files for further specifications, as the winner in each case is determined slightly differently.

Special Case: Arizona

Variable	Definition
gYYYY_BALL_eev	Early Voting Edge (type of voting machine) Ballots Cast
gYYYY_BALL_epv	Early Voting Paper Ballots Cast
gYYYY_BALL_lev	Election Day Edge Ballots Cast
gYYYY_BALL_lpv	Election Day Paper Ballots Cast

Special Case: Delaware

Delaware data includes information about the way in which the votes were cast. Some variables in these files include an extra letter in the suffix preceding the party code, `_zpv`, where “z” indicates the voting method. When no voting method character is present in the “z” position, the variable is the sum of all voting methods. For example, g2012_USP_adv is the number of absentee votes for the Democratic presidential candidate in 2012.

Code	Voting Method
a	Absentee
m	Machine Count

Special Case: Kentucky

Variable	Definition
gYYYY_REG_fv	Registered Voters, Female
gYYYY_REG_mv	Registered Voters, Male gYYYY_REG_ov	Voters Registered as "Other" - Not Democrat or Republican

Special Case: New Hampshire

Variable	Definition
gYYYY_BALL_atv	Ballots Cast by Absentee Voters
gYYYY_BALL_rtv	Ballots Cast by Regular Voters
gYYYY_BALL_tv	Total Ballots Cast

Special Case: North Carolina

North Carolina data include information about the way in which the votes were cast. Some variables in these files include in extra letter in the suffix preceding the party code, `_zpv`, where “z” indicates the voting method. When no voting method character is present in the “z” position, the variable is the sum of all voting methods. For example, g2012_USP_adv is the number of absentee votes for the Democratic presidential candidate in 2012.

Code	Voting Method
a	Absentee
e	Early Vote
l	Election Day
m	Machine Count
o	Onestop
p	Provisional

In 2010 and 2012 some candidates ran under multiple parties. Often the Working Families candidate is also the Democratic candidate. The results for the Democratic candidate only include the votes received as the Democratic candidate and do not include votes for the same candidate under any other party. This applies also for the U.S. House Republican candidate in district 5, where the Republican vote counts do not include votes for the same person running as an Independent.

The 2012 data includes precinct level returns for absentee, early, and election day ballots.

The 2004 data file has different results from the 2004 pdf file (both available on the state's website). The vote totals in the data file are used in this dataset but appear to be lower than in the pdf file.

3.15 Indiana

No Data.

3.16 Iowa

All data from Iowa Secretary of State's website:

<http://sos.iowa.gov/elections/results/index.html>.

2010: STH and STS data are not formatted, but are available in the source files.

2004: Hancock County Ellington Madison Forest City precinct is listed in ld 11 and 12 (no split numbers is given). This precinct is coded here as ld 11 because no democratic candidate votes were cast (there is no dem candidate in ld 11), but there is in ld12. Therefore we assume most of the voters in this precinct are in ld 11 (those precincts in ld12 had a democratic candidate and that candidate received votes).

Woodbury County, Sioux City Precinct 26 is listed in both ld 53 and 54 in source data. We changed to 54 as the other Sioux City precincts were only in ld 54.

2002: USP, USH, and STH total votes are dem + rep + other votes (no write in votes). STS total = dem + rep (no other or write in votes).

3.18 Kentucky

Data for all years downloaded from Secretary of State’s website: <http://elect.ky.gov/results/Pages/default.aspx>.

2012: Bell, Casey, Knox, Lee, Lewis, Morgan, Nicholas, Owsley, Robertson, Wolfe counties did not have precinct level available online.

2010: Bell, Breathitt, Calloway, Carter, Casey, Clark, Clinton, Cumberland, Elliott, Estill, Perry, Flemming, Floyd, Green, Harlan, Jackson, Knox, Laurel, Lee, Letcher, Lewis, Lincoln, Logan, Madison, Magoffin, McCreary, Menifee, Morgan, Nicholas, Owsley, Pendelton, Perry, Powell, Pulaski, Robertson, Rockcastle, Russell, Wayne, and Wolfe counties did not report precinct level data to Secretary of State. County level data reported as precinct named “County”.

AB = Absentee Precinct (generally one per county). In counties where there were multiple State House Districts, we collapsed the AB districts. Therefore the AB district is on the county level (as opposed to the district level).

3.19 Louisiana

Data for all years downloaded from Secretary of State’s website: <http://staticresults.sos.la.gov/>

Louisiana does not hold primaries for US House races. Therefore, there are multiple candidates for each party in many races. The following coding is used in naming variables: `g2012_USH_p#v` where:

`p` = party (d or r, and t for total)

`#` = candidate number if there is more than 1 per party

`g2012_USH_d2v` indicates the democratic candidate winning the second most votes. `d3v` would have won fewer votes than `d2v`, and `_dv` won the most votes overall.

2010: Not all precincts have congressional election data: Charles Boustany (R-7) ran unopposed. Unopposed races are excluded from the source data throughout.

2000–2008: Some precincts contain multiple congressional, state legislative, or state senate districts. In these cases, the district with the most total votes is assigned to the normal variables (e.x. `USH_dv`, `USH_rv`, `USH_tv`) for that precinct and additional district vote totals are given in additional sets of variables (`USH2`, `USH3`, etc). District totals are not combined within a precinct. When a precinct contains multiple districts, additional variables identify the districts corresponding to each set of votes (e.x. `ld`=legislative district. `ld2`, `ld3`, etc. will identify districts for which votes are contained in `STH2`, `STH3`). Additionally, indicator variables `mult_ld`, `mult_cd`, `mult_sd`, equal 1 when that precinct contains multiple districts of that type. The most common occurrence of multiple districts is in Early Voting observations, but this also occurs in precincts.

2001–2009 (odd years): Louisiana holds most of its state and local elections on odd years. Candidates run in non-partisan blanket primaries, followed by runoff elections if no candidate receives a majority of the vote. Coding for these years is as follows:

“`gYEAR`” variables contain vote counts for the first election (the non-partisan primary).

“`rYEAR`” variables contain vote counts for the following runoff elections.

Because the non-partisan system allows multiple candidates from each party to run in the same election (and the standard HEDA coding identifies vote counts by party) we present the data in two ways. The standard variables `gYEAR_office_v` contain vote counts aggregated by party. When multiple candidates from one party run in the same contest, their votes are added together to construct this variable.

Note for 2007: A few state legislative districts held races twice in the same year. No easy explanation could be identified for why multiple elections occurred. The additional elections have been identified with the coding “`s2007`” or “`sr2007`” in the case of a runoff.

Note on headings: In 2002 and 2004 the “vtd” variable are not numerically the same, however each has a unique variable for each precinct.

Precinct_code values are unique within each county: there are multiple precincts with precinct_code = 5, but only one within each county. Therefore, combining the county with the precinct_code would yield a unique value with each vtd.

We received the source data from the Missouri Secretary of State.

St. Louis City elections are collected by a separate election commission, but were included in source data. However, the 2010 St. Louis City results are precinct level, but the wards are missing. For statewide races without districts (USS and AUD) we were able to match with 2008 wards.

3.29 Nevada

Data provided by Nevada Secretary of State and individual county election offices.

Nevada does not report results in precincts with fewer than 5 voters. Therefore, it was necessary to find county totals and then subtract the total for reported precincts before dividing the remainder by the number of precincts that did not report due to size. This yields an average vote across all missing precincts per county.

2010 county vote totals are available from the Nevada state website, and include Democratic and Republican vote counts.

3.31 New Jersey

In the New Jersey State Assembly, the lower house, each district contains 2 members. Thus, in a given precinct, 2 members of a party may be running for the assembly. The first member of a party's vote totals are given by the variable coded `gYEAR_STH_`. The second member's vote totals are given by the variable coded `gYEAR_STH2_`. The mean votes of the two members are given by the variables `gYEAR_STHa_`. It was not possible to identify which vote counts belong to each candidate. Simply the first instance of a party's vote count was coded as `STH` and the second instance as `STH2`.

3.32 New Mexico

2012 data are from the New Mexico Secretary of State website: http://www.sos.state.nm.us/Elections\_Data/2012.aspx. Source files are all pdf files, extractable to .csv files.

New Mexico reports by precinct four different vote types: absentee, early voting, election day, and total (sum of absentee, early and election day votes). There are some precincts that are so small that for privacy reasons they only report the total for each precinct. These precincts have all absentee, early and election day votes listed as missing, and are notated by the variable "small" equal to 1.

Variables are named using the following:

gYYYY_000_tpv where t = type: a = absentee; e = early; l = election day; no value = total

For example, g2012_USP_adv indicates absentee votes for the US Presidential democratic candidate in 2012, while g2012_USH_rv indicates the total (sum of absentee, early and election day) votes for the Republican US House candidate in 2012 in the given congressional district.

3.33 New York

2006-2010: Results are at the VTD level, not the precinct ("election district" in NY) level. Results were obtained from data filed by NY State LATFOR with the Department of Justice. The relationship between election districts and voting tabulation districts is usually one to one. This is true for about 93% of the data. However, there are instances where many election districts are associated with one voting tabulation district. In these cases, all electoral districts and wards are given for the record, but there is no way to disaggregate the data.

Additional Variables:

county = 3-digit county FIPS code

cousub = Census Bureau designated 5-digit county subdivision code ward = County election board designated ward identifier; (additional wards listed as ward2, ward3, etc)

ed = County election board designated election district identifier (VTDs with multiple wards and eds have additional districts listed in ed2, ed3, etc.)

vtd08 = Census Bureau designated voting tabulation district identifier

vtdid = combined FIPS code for state, county, and vtd

nopad_vtdid = FIPS code without the padded 0s

Please note the following exceptions to the aforementioned field names: Nassau County (059) and the 5 boroughs (005, 047, 061, 081, 085) of New York City use Assembly District (AD) number instead of ward to uniquely identify election districts within each county.

3.34 North Carolina

Data downloaded from the State Board of Elections FTP site: `ftp://www.app.sboe.state.nc.us/enrs/`

The data report multiple voting types, including absentee, provisional, election day and one-step votes. The naming scheme same as described in New Mexico above:

a = absentee
 p = provisional
 l = election-day
 o = onestop

For example, `g2012_USP_pdv` indicates provisional votes for the Democratic Presidential candidate.

3.37 Oklahoma

Data downloaded from http://www.ok.gov/elections/The\_Archives/Election\_Results/index.html.

Oklahoma does not certify write-in votes. As such, there are no write-in vote totals. Oklahoma reports various types of votes: Absentee by Mail; Early Voting; Election Day Votes; and Total Votes, the sum of previous three.

2012: There is only one precinct with two Congressional District Values: County Oklahoma, precinct 559999. The secondary district (cd = 4) appears to be an only early and absentee ballot precinct; no election day ballots were cast.

There are two precincts split between multiple legislative districts. Both again are absentee and early voting districts only. TULSA 729999 is split between 5 districts and OKLAHOMA 559999 is split between 9 districts.

There are two precincts split between multiple state senate districts. Both again are absentee and early voting districts only. TULSA 729999 is split between 2 districts and OKLAHOMA 559999 is split between 2 districts.

2010: All total vote calculations include third party candidates (if applicable), but do not include any other (write-in, over or under) votes.

3.49 West Virginia

Total votes do not include write-in votes. West Virginia has multi-member state legislative districts in both chambers. Two state senators for each district are elected on staggered 4 year terms. State Representatives are all elected every two years, so in many cases there will be multiple candidates from each party running for one or more seats. All candidates run against each other. For example, in a district where 2 seats are open, there may be 2 Democrats and 2 Republicans running for 2 seats. The 2 candidates with the most votes win the seats.

The following formatting applies for STH (lower chamber): Each additional candidate of one party running in a district will be shown as: `g2012_STH_d#v`. The # assigned is based on the number of votes within each party. If there are 2 democrats and 2 republicans running for two seats the four variables would be:

`g2012_STH_dv` - Democrat with the most votes

`g2012_STH_d2v` - Democrat with the second-most votes

`g2012_STH_rv` - Republican with the most votes

`g2012_STH_r2v` - Republican with the second-most votes

All 4 candidates are running for both seats. So the winners are the two candidates with the most votes regardless of party.

2008 Presidential election data is from the State Legislature's redistricting website.
