

Boulder County 4-H Horse Project and Show Rules

(Reviewed 10/3/2016, Approved 11/7/2016)

1. The Boulder County 4-H Horse Program follows the most recent update of the Colorado 4-H Horse Show Rule Book (LA 1500) with the following additions.
2. To participate in the Boulder County Fair, members must be enrolled by the first Friday in April. Members are eligible to show at the Boulder County Fair only those horses identified for the member on 4-H Online on or before May 1. The only exception is in the case of a death of all identified project horse after May 1. Substitution may be considered upon presentation of a certificate of death by the fair registration deadline to the county 4-H Extension Agent overseeing the horse program.
3. These are in addition to the rules outlined on page 3 of the Colorado 4-H Horse Show Rule Book 2015 edition under General Rules and Requirements. A horse may only be IDed/shared as a project horse by no more than two unrelated 4-H members. Immediate family members may share and ID the same project horse between any number of siblings (each sibling must turn in an ID on the horse). Since the horse is being shared with-in the immediate family, the same horse may also be IDed/shared by one non-family member. It is expected that 4-H members include all IDed horses in their E-record Book. For all non-owned horses it is recommended a lease agreement be in place to establish responsibilities for care.
4. Completion of the 4-H Horse Project requires the following: participating in a horse judging activity, giving a demonstration, participating in the community service project, exhibiting a project horse, attending required 4-H club meetings, actively participating in the club program and completing a horse record book.
5. If a member passed a horsemanship or showmanship rating test, he or she must attempt the written test. Failure to take the written test means the members is ineligible to show at Boulder County Fair until the test has been taken. Upon passing a horsemanship or showmanship rating test, the members will compete at that level in Boulder County 4-H shows and at the Boulder County Fair. The Colorado State Fair requires members to show at the level with which the member holds a complete advancement level card.
  - a. Advancement level cards will not be given until the member has passed both the written and riding tests.
  - b. Members may retake both the written and riding tests until they have been passed.
  - c. Members must pass both the riding and the written tests at one level before taking the riding or the written test at the next higher level.
6. A member's riding level for Boulder County Fair will be determined by the level passed at the time of fair registration deadline.
7. Administration of advancement level tests:
  - a. Copies of all written and riding tests are to be turned in to the County 4-H Extension Office by leaders of raters within 30 days of the testing date.
  - b. Member's advancement level is designated by the records on file in the Extension Office.
  - c. Level I written tests may be administered by horse project leaders or State-certified raters. Level II, III, and IV written tests shall be administered, by appointment, in the Extension Office by Extension staff.
  - d. Level I riding test may be administered by any club leader or state certified rater.
  - e. Level II, III and IV riding tests must be administered by State-certified raters who are not leaders in the member's club.
  - f. Parents shall not rate their own children.
  - g. Trainers or instructors shall not rate their students/clients.
8. Advancement levels are rated separately for each discipline: Western, English, Ranch Horse and Showmanship. Therefore, a member may be eligible to compete at different levels in different disciplines.
9. If a member is required to be rated in any discipline for any reason, failure to be rated in that discipline will result in ineligibility to show at the Boulder County Fair in all disciplines.

- a. Any horse project member who receives a Grand Champion or Reserve Grand Champion at the Boulder County Fair 4-H Horse Show must be rated before the Boulder County Fair registration deadline. Such rating is to be done by a State-certified out of county rater or a rater who is not affiliated with the member's club. Exception: Level IV riders.

Members with records that are not up-to-date and those having no record book are not eligible to show at the Boulder County Fair. Completed 4-H Horse Record Books are due to the Extension Office by the second Friday in September to be eligible for record book judging, project completion and to participate in the Boulder County Fair the following year.

16. If any unsportsmanlike conduct or action is committed by an exhibitor, or by any other person on his or her behalf, that exhibitor may be expelled from the show and forfeit all awards, as determined by show management. Abuse of a horse is considered unsportsmanlike conduct.
17. Exhibitors or parents may not approach the judge for discussion until the show has been completed. In addition, the judge shall not be approached without the consent of show management. Any exhibitor, parent or leader acting in a disrespectful manner to the judge or other show personnel will be asked by show management to leave the show grounds. All prizes and fees will be forfeited.
18. For western classes where a pattern or test is required, Levels III and IV are required to perform flying lead changes; simple lead changes must be penalized. Levels I and II are required to perform simple lead changes; flying lead changes must be penalized.
19. Standard Colorado 4-H score sheets for western riding, reining, trail, English control, show hack and working ranch classes shall be used at Boulder County Fair and shall be posted or available for review after the performance. Classes that are scored shall be in compliance with the State Rule Book.
