SUMMARY OF PROFILE:

Chor Foon TANG is a Senior Lecturer in Economics at CenPRIS, Universiti Sains Malaysia (USM). He holds a Ph.D. degree in Economics from the University of Malaya (UM). Before joining academia, he had worked in various commercial industries ranging from financial services to manufacturing for more than 5 years. He has been actively participating in academic research activities since 2006 with his seminal research outcomes appearing in several reputable academic journals in 2007. His research mainly revolves around argumentations pertaining to development economics, macroeconomics and growth catalysts in areas such as tourism, energy, savings, etc. utilising both time series and panel data econometric approaches. Dr. Tang has published more than 100 research articles in major international and local peer-reviewed journals, chapters in research books, proceedings, and discussion papers. His research outcomes and publications have contributed to both policy formulation and analysis in a variety of fields ranging from Development Economics, Macroeconomics to Tourism Economics, especially in understanding the dynamics and efficacy of growth catalysts in stimulating economic development and social well-being. He is an Associate Editor of the International Journal of Social Economics, an editorial board member and also a reviewer for a wide range of international and local scholarly journals. Moreover, the Research Papers in Economics (RePEc) ranked him in the list of Top 5% Economists in Malaysia as well as in Asia. The comprehensive Bibliometric Study of 2015 by MOSTI in Malaysia also cited him as one of the Top 15 Researchers in Malaysia ranked by the number of publications in journals with ISI-WoS – Social Sciences Citation Index (SSCI). His outstanding achievements in research and publications have eventually earned him several national and international prestigious awards and scholarships, namely Bright Sparks Scholarship in 2010, the 2012 UM Excellence Awards, the 2015 USM Hall of Fame Awards, the 2015 Applied Energy Awards, and the 2016 USM Excellent Service Awards.
