Mellie worked on major website development and marketing graphics designs for two firms with whom I have been associated. She is creative, thoughtful in her designs and always delivers her work on schedule and on budget. You'll never find a more valuable resource. And to top it off she's a delightful person with whom to work.

Mellie brings the talent of an accomplished artist to her technical skills as a developer and her large project management capabilities. Our whole team found her a joy and inspiration to work with and we're grateful she was there to guide us through the complete redesign and reorganization of our website, blogs, and social network.

Mellie has a very can-do attitude and nothing is too big or difficult for her to manage. She is a great multi-tasker with the ability to manage millions of things at once. In addition to Mellie's thousands of skills, she is specifically trained in design and code and knows how to setup sites and manage email marketing. Mellie's talent is a great one to have on anyone's team along with her great personality!

Among our network of 158 sites Pet360 owns and operates 12 popular consumer-facing pet content sites, and from her arrival Mellie demonstrated immediate competency and creative alacrity in taking ownership of all of the Pet360 properties aside from our two flagship ones (which are both managed by multiple dedicated teams).

Mellie further assumed the mantle of social marketing for those titles and helped to build and engage their audiences, often contributing both monetized and added-value to premium client advertising campaigns. She is a pleasure to collaborate with, straightforward and clear, and contributes to a warm office atmosphere. I recommend her and am disappointed we're losing her.

I have had the pleasure of working with Mellie Test as she worked to help redevelop the design and marketing message of the BlogPaws brand. Her skills in graphics, her artistic vision, and a true understanding of creating an effective marketing campaign helped lead to a sell out of our yearly conference.

She always remained cool under pressure, helpful, and was able to juggle many tasks with ease. Most importantly, the finished products were the equivalent to the many different top notch firms I've worked with over the years.

I highly recommend Mellie Test without reservation. She will be sorely missed where she is and I know she will become a valuable asset to any company fortunate to have her on their team.

Where do I start? When we met Mellie we were immediately impressed with her attitude (can do!), her experience (vast) and her ability to listen and assess a situation correctly. When we saw the great work she does, and how quickly she responded, we were singing her praises everywhere. Mellie is truly a talented professional in the world of design and web expertise. She's good at everything she puts her mind to but her most valuable talent is her ability to apply the experience she's gained over the years to every project, successfully.

Rather than try and put Mellie in a box - I will say she's so talented there is little I wouldn't ask of her. The reality is - I think Mellie has so much talent she will always take her work and her projects above and beyond, many times in ways you never thought of yourself. Give her the project details and requirements and she'll knock your socks off. Each and every time.

Mellie is really nothing short of amazing. I honestly don't know how she manages to do it all. She is exceptionally talented and is such a creative thinker - she truly is "outside of the box." Not only is she a dedicated and hard worker, she always offers to help others and pitch even -- even when her own plate is full (and overflowing). I love any chance I get to work with her - because I know it will not only be a fun experience but because together we'll create an amazing product.

I had the privilege of working with Mellie on a couple projects, while at Breakthrough Technologies. Mellie is a proactive, customer-service oriented, responsible and efficient employee always ready to put all her energy, talent and stamina to get the job done. Mellie Test is a great asset to any organization.

With regard to Mellie, I could check every attribute listed above and embellish the list! She is professional, and a joy to work with because she assisted me in understanding areas that I had little knowledge of. Because she is confident in her creative ability, she brings a wonderful level of comfort to the table. Her work is amazing! Her creativity relates to the subject at hand, yet affords one to see beyond the limits of the initial scope. Her finished product is always fresh, artistic and functional. I greatly admire her perspective.
