

How goes it?

Peter Broda, thecrossnerd.blogspot.com

Across

1. Cruciverbalists' playthings
6. Mexican time-share rental, perhaps
10. Often torn knee parts, briefly
14. One that would rather be flinging what they do?
15. Mighty trees
16. "I'm a ___ and I didn't even realize it!"
17. Like DVD drives that can also read CDs, literally?
19. The penultimate sin demonstrated in "Se7en"
20. Compressed file format extension
21. Having no loops, in Graph Theory
23. Poking fun?
24. Last name of a baseball dynasty
26. "If you ask me...", on 4chan.org
27. Word that can be paired with any one of 42 national demonyms to make the title of a TV show
29. It may be fallen by

31. It's used for raising dogs?
34. Noise music, to some
35. Early '90s rapper who's also an ordained minister
36. Poe's "The Narrative of Arthur Gordon ___"
39. Performed a McJob, literally?
41. That in Tijuana
42. Bachelor party entertainment, somewhat quaintly
44. Day-___ paints
46. Doesn't microwave, as corn kernels
47. No-tell motel, often
51. One serving baloney
52. "Aladdin" prince
53. Naan alternative
54. A cup has one but a ball doesn't
55. One assisted by a Doula
59. URL ending on sites that only brave (or stupid) hackers would attack
60. Band featured in the Wii game "You Can Dance"
62. Examined the source code, perhaps, literally?
64. Egg on
65. Shakespeare's king
66. Page with a script?
67. Childish comeback
68. Omar of "House"

69. Bass Clarinetists' purchases

Down

1. Pay-per-view "sports" program that will air its 1,000th episode on July 23
2. "Check out Mr. Fancy Pants"
3. Cocktail named for an operetta named for a Scottish folk hero
4. Agnus ___ (Lamb of God)
5. Subject of many a romantic cumbia song: Abbr.
6. Request from one wanting in on an e-mail thread
7. Transmission chain whose "beep-beep" ad was the cause of a misunderstanding on "Curb Your Enthusiasm"
8. Vodka brand that sounds like a toast
9. Fungal spore sacs
10. "... you damned dirty ___!"
11. One that you hope will simmer down?
12. Climate change concern, literally?
13. Under water?
18. Chemist Albert Hoffman had the first one, in 1943
22. Like some minor offenses
25. The land of cheap smokes and booze, to we in Can.
28. Actor DeLuise
30. Schedule of annual payments

31. Text-scanning technology, briefly
32. Phrase tattooed on Rihanna's knuckles, in commemoration of Tupac
33. Firing squad?: Abbr.
35. Movie monogram under a roaring lion
36. "The More You Know" ad, e.g.: Abbr.
37. What the Jeffersons of classic TV had, literally?
38. Bar instruments?
40. Ernie avoiding hazards
43. Postdoc application datum
45. Stick for shifting a ship
47. Ones with tray tables
48. Klingon ___ (word-making game variant played on "The Big Bang Theory")
49. Observed Yom Kippur
50. Logical premises
52. "That's ___!" (set cry)
54. ___ Rock ('60s genre with tablas and sitars)
56. Inactive
57. Balls ___
58. Cabinet dept. concerned with nuclear technology
61. Brouhaha
63. Seine sight

