Material

- Jokes
- Bowl or Hat

How to Play

To play this game you are either going to want to pick your two funniest students or two students that will laugh at almost anything. Students will face off and tell really dumb Thanksgiving jokes. They must tell their joke and listen to the other person tell the joke and look at them the whole time without laughing. Once someone laughs they are finished. Students will pull jokes out of a hat or bowl until all the jokes are gone.

Pro Tip:

Set the mood really serious. This will make it even harder not to laugh. Put spot lights on the students and have a host that is also funny leading the game.
