

TigerLady

YOU'VE BEEN GIFTED

Something Fierce

2020 has been pretty rock and roll, and we've come together in solidarity to help each other navigate this truly tumultuous year. Meanwhile, the TigerLady supply chain has faced unprecedented US manufacturing and distribution challenges associated with Covid-19. We're deeply sorry that you're not holding a TigerLady in your hand right now and our sincere hope is that you'll take comfort in knowing that someone who loves and cares about you has gifted you peace of mind this holiday season. Our team is working overtime to make sure your TigerLady gets to you as soon as possible. Until then, keep your head up and stay safe out there.

JOSH LEVINE

TIGERLADY FOUNDER

