WELCOME
Why a UCL Centre for Gender and Global Health?

Building on Strong Foundations

Equity:
Founded on principles of working for the greater good.

Equality:
First University in England to admit women on equal basis with men.
Purpose of the Centre

• Question established thinking about gender and health
• Provide rigorous evidence
• Identify solutions – and the mechanisms for change

• Cross-disciplinary collaboration
• Cross-sectoral collaboration
• Communication and engagement with multiple audiences
What we hope to achieve today

Collaborate:

• Evidence of a problem
• Identifying solutions

Communicate:

• Specialist audiences
• Non-specialists
• People who make change happen

“The fact is that man is as much a mystery to woman as woman is to man. If that were not so, the separation of the sexes would have been a waste of Nature’s energy”
[Positive] Change happens through...
Introduction to keynote speakers:

• Disruptive thinkers
• New ideas
• New ways of seeing the world – highlighting hidden problems
• Identifying solutions
Panels this afternoon

14.00 - Panel on Institutional Responses to Gender and Health
Gustave Tuck Lecture Theatre

14.00 - Panel on Masculinities and Health
Chadwick LT B05

14.00 - Panel on Gender and Disaster
Physics A1/3

14.00 - Panel on Gender Based Violence and Health
Chadwick G08

16.30 - Wrap up and report back from panels
Gustave Tuck Lecture Theatre