PERFORMER

Series

PS-4

The PS-4 was designed to provide the best of both worlds: a heavy metal guitar that can also be used for rock in the 70's. Only female guitarists have managed to do this well. To best demonstrate female rockers, the PS-4 body is about one inch thicker. The 24 fret neck is selected for maximum sustain and low action. The pickup magnetism is a hard magnetic, allowing for a wide variety of tone adjustment. All hardware is made according to the Floyd Rose licensed design codes.

PS-5

The PS-5 offers the best of both worlds: a heavy metal guitar that can also be used for rock in the 70's. Only female guitarists have managed to do this well. To best demonstrate female rockers, the PS-5 body is about one inch thicker. The 24 fret neck is selected for maximum sustain and low action. The pickup magnetism is a hard magnetic, allowing for a wide variety of tone adjustment. All hardware is made according to the Floyd Rose licensed design codes.

Jackson

When you pick up one of the new Performer Series guitars you'll know immediately why Jackson has established the reputation of building absolutely the finest instruments regardless of price. You'll recognize that the quality is comparable to instruments costing significantly more. All Performers come with solid Alder bodies, custom cut eastern Maple necks, and the highest quality Rosewood fingerboards. Also, Alnico high-output pickups are used exclusively for a richer, clearer tone.

With six different models to choose from, the Performer Series offers virtually every type of player the sound and style of a Jackson at an undeniably affordable price.
