As pants the hart for cooling streams,
when heated in the chase;
So longs my soul, O God, for Thee,
and Thy refreshing grace.
For Thee, my God, the living God,
my thirsty soul doth pine:
O! when shall I behold Thy face,
Thou Majesty Divine?

My soul’s cast down, o God; but thinks on Thee and Sion, still;
From Jordan’s bank, from Hermon’s heights,
and Missar’s humbler hill.
One trouble calls another on;
and, bursting o’er my head,
Fall spouting down, till round my soul,
a roaring sea is spread.

Tears are my constant food, while thus
insulting foes upbraid:
“Deluded wretch! where’s now thy God?
“and where His promis’d aid?”
I sigh whene’er my musing thoughts
those happy days present,
When I with troops of pious friends
Thy Temple did frequent;

But when Thy presence, Lord of Life,
has once dispell’d this storm,
To Thee I’ll midnight anthems sing,
and all my vows perform.
God of my strength, how long shall I,
like one forgotten, mourn,
Forlorn, forsaken, and expos’d
to my oppressor’s scorn?

When I advanc’d with songs of praise,
my solemn vows to pay;
And led the joyful sacred throng,
and kept the festal day.
Why restless, why cast down, my soul?
trust God; and He’ll employ His aid for thee, and change these sighs
to thankful hymns of joy.

My heart is pierc’d, as with a sword,
whilst thus my foes upbraid;
“Vain boaster, where is now thy God?
“and where His promis’d aid?”
Why restless, why cast down, my soul?
hope still; and thou shalt sing
The praise of Him who is thy God,
thy health’s eternal spring.

To Father, Son, and Holy Ghost,
the God whom we adore,
Be glory, as it was, is now,
and shall be evermore.
