Celebrate the Old Line State on Maryland Day

It's the 385th anniversary of the founding of the Maryland Colony, but the state still looks great. To be inspired to don your Maryland colors, check out this video, and take a ride on Maryland's Religious Freedom Scenic Byway. Celebrate four centuries of tradition with awesome events across the Old Line State with living historians, great family events, pageants and maybe even an extra crabcake. Find them here on our Maryland Day events page.

Make the Most of National Crabmeat
Day on the Maryland Crab & Oyster
Trail

March 9 is National Crabmeat Day. Of course, in Maryland, we have 365 of those. But any excuse to eat a crabcake is a great excuse to eat a crabcake. Find out where to enjoy crabs, crabcakes and oysters all over the state on our Maryland Crab & Oyster Trail page.

Enjoy Winter Restaurant Weeks in Frederick and Annapolis

Two of Maryland's famous food capitals are putting their best plates forward with winter restaurant weeks. Enjoy prix fixe menus and amazing creations from the best chefs in the region as Annapolis Restaurant Week runs March 2-10 and Frederick Restaurant Week goes March 4-10. Plus, look for unique "Only in Maryland" food events like the Annapolis Oyster Roast & Sock Burning and Taste of Solomons right around the corner. Find out all the details at our Restaurant Weeks page.

March is Maryland Wine Month

March is Maryland Wine Month, so pop the cork on a great Maryland vintage with events, pairings and more throughout March. Find out all the details on our Maryland Wine Month page.
