THB 200S

Straight out of 1967, the THB200 was the first electric guitar design from Tokai. The extreme styling and offset body have been accurately reproduced to capture the spirit of the first Tokai electric guitars, using the original factory blueprints! Essential details from the original, such as the stamped metal tremolo plate, unique headstock and German body carve, are combined with a newly designed set of powerful single coil pickups to offer modern playability with a vintage feel.

Talbo

Talbo since 1983

This truly unique design features a revolutionary aluminum-alloy body, which has the advantage of stability, unobtainable with the traditional wooden body. The Talbo responds directly to the feeling of the player. With its clear, noise-free sound and overwhelming power, resulting from the aluminum-alloy body that allows the body to act as a shield block, the Talbo has been creating electric guitar history for 35 years!

SEB Trinity Series

A New Concept in Guitar Body Construction

The engineers and designers at Tokai have developed a new construction technique for electric guitar and bass bodies. By placing a cross-grained piece of wood at the center position of body, sound is reflected back towards the top and back of the instrument four times faster than on a standard guitar body. This innovative SEB (Sound Effect Body) construction offers dramatically increased note clarity, sustain, response speed and dynamic range. The multi-directional grains offer a truly stunning visual appearance that is unmatched by standard instruments. You will feel an entirely new level of sound quality and performance with an SEB-equipped Tokai guitar!
