POST-EVENT NFT GAME

The HyperVerse Game is a Solana-based blockchain game. Borrowing and improving upon the most fundamental and rewarding mechanisms in cryptocurrency today, the game is an on-brand twist on popular music competitions. Its mechanisms include the creation of multiple NFT collections to use in the game, staking, chance, and creating and continually bringing value to the HyperVerse token. In addition to these proven mechanisms, our game has three unique concepts that set us apart.

1. Making our token redeemable for real-world experiences and opportunities
2. Placing our game on the Solana blockchain where it will be the first game of its kind to take advantage of this virtually gasless and increasingly valuable blockchain
3. Combining the crypto and creative communities allows fans to play with or against their favorite artists
4. Creating a state of the virtual art PFP avatars based on the gamer's choice to play as a pop star, rapper, country idol, punk or rocker

LIVE EVENT NFT DROPS

HyperVerse's patent-pending live event NFT drops allow mass onboarding of new community members by offering digital assets for sale at concerts or sporting events that provide access to the performers as well as the field or court itself.

Our live event NFT drops have the potential to change the future of events going forward, offering fans unprecedented access and artists, teams, promoters, or arena owners new revenue streams, all while increasing brand awareness and crypto adoption.

WWW.HYPERVERSELIVE.COM

OUR IDEA

The utility that appeals to sports and music fans is different from the utility sought by crypto investors or digital asset collectors. Our NFTs are designed to appeal to both groups individually through our multiple life cycle concept to provide ongoing value.

Our tokens can be used in our cutting-edge virtual game or sold to NFT gamers after initial use has expired. Conversely, gamers can use their gaming NFTs or our layer-two real-world access and experiences.

JOE HADEN Family, Football & Philanthropy

PHOTOGRAPH BY ANURADHA FREED
PHOTOGRAPHY: CALEDON BELL

"Make sure that everybody gets treated fairly and everybody gets treated the same way. With [Jacob] that's always been in our spirit. We've always treated people with respect, always be nice to other people. There's never any reason to talk down on anybody or anything like that. So that's our family."

Much can be said about NFL player Joseph Haden. Haden started his NFL career as a full-time cornerback for the Cleveland Browns and has gone on to replicate that success at his new home with the Pittsburgh Steelers. And so much more as he's had in his career, the real question is, have you seen the work that Haden has done and continues to do off of the field? An ambassador for Special Olympics, Joe Haden is helping others in need and is going back to his roots.

The newly High and University of Florida don't have a chance to look back before his football career. It started with his youngest brother, Jacob Haden, Jacob, who is a Special Olympics athlete, suffers from a cognitive disorder that affects his ability to communicate. Joe and Jacob share a special bond, and Jacob refers to Joe as "JJ" because Joe is the older of the two siblings. Despite Jacob's limitations, he gets up every day and puts forth an effort to be a positive role model for everyone, including his bigger brother and the reason why he wants to be a coach and to be in his best. It's because of Jacob that Joe has started his own foundation, "One Strong All Day."

Alvin Pettit

HOMEABOUTWORKNEWSCONTACT

I never made a choice to become an artist. I grew up in a household where the walls were filled with paintings created by my father and grandfather. As a result, I developed an early belief that expressing creativity was normal, and something I was supposed to do.

Pettit

Alvin Pettit, a native of Baltimore, Maryland, is a highly skilled artist whose career in figurative sculpting and painting spans over three decades. As a young artist, he was influenced by prominent artists such as Auguste Rodin, Frank Frazetta, and Barkley L. Hendricks, as well as by his father, A Dwight Pettit Sr., who was a well-known civil rights attorney and painter.

After graduating from the Baltimore School for the Arts in 1988, Alvin relocated to New York City to attend the School of Visual Arts, where he earned his BFA in 1992. He began his professional career in 1994, when he was hired as an associate sculptor to the world-renowned artist Jeff Koons. Alvin then continued his formal training by enrolling at the Art Students League in 1995, where he honed his skills.

Throughout the late 1990s and early 2000s, Alvin gained a reputation as a prolific artist, creating numerous sculptures, illustrations, and product designs for high-profile clients such as The Clinton Foundation, HBO, Saturday Night Live, the NFL, and the Museum of Modern Art. His work has been exhibited in galleries and museums around the world, including the New York City Museum, the Art Institute of Chicago, and the Smithsonian Institution.

In 2013, Mayor Steven M. Fiala appointed Alvin as the director of the Mary McLeod Bethune City Center in Jersey City, NJ, with the mission of transforming it into a cultural hub for the community. Alvin has since led the center's rebuilding, turning it into one of the most popular cultural and community centers in the area. The center provides a range of art and cultural, wellness, and educational programs for the community, helping to give it access to such activities.

Alvin's recent accomplishments include creating the fast-track long Jersey City Block (see Motherhood) and a 10-foot bronze sculpture of Mary McLeod Bethune, which stands at the entrance of the Bethune House in Jersey City, NJ. He also played a major role in designing and constructing the center's new parking lot, which currently serves as the new home of the Jersey City Arts Council and continues to work on various large-scale private commissions on projects.

Throughout his career, Alvin Pettit has demonstrated exceptional talent and dedication to his craft. His unique style and passion for art continue to inspire others, and his contributions to the world of figurative sculpting and painting have contributed to his reputation as a leading artist in his field.

The Star-Spangled Banner

O say can you see,
by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd
at the twilight's last gleaming

Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd,
were so gallantly streaming?

And the rocket's red glare,
the bombs bursting in air, Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there,

O say does that star-spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Finlandia

O! Suomi, katso sinun päiväs koittaa,
yön uhka karkotettu on jo pois,
ja aamun kiuru kirkkaudessa
soittaa,
kuin itse taivaahan kansa sois.
Yön vallat aamun valkeus jo voittaa.
Sun päiväs koittaa, o! synnyinmaa.

Maamme

O! maamme, Suomi, synnyinmaa, soi, sana kultainen.
Ei laaksoa, ei kukkula,
ei vettä, rantaa rakkaampaa,
kuin kotimaa täällä pohjoisen,
maa kallis isien.

Sun kukoistukses kuorestaan
se kerran puhkeaa,
viel lempemme saa hehkuaan
sun toivos, riemus nousemaan, ja kerran laulus synnyinmaa korkeemman kaiun saa.

O! nouse Suomi, nosta korkealle
pää seppelöimä suurten muistojen.
O! nouse, Suomi, näytit maailmalle
sä että karkoitit orjuuden
ja ettet taipunut sã sorron alle, on aamus' alkanut, synnyinmaa.
