My story:

Since high school I was interested in IT and design. At the age of 14 I took a course in editing and found a part-time job as an editing engineer.

A few years later I retrained as a motion designer and worked in this position until the age of 18.

After that I became interested in graphic design and quickly mastered it. Now I do not stop learning, and through hard work I was able at the age of 23 to take a team-leader position in one of the largest banks in Russia.

For all the time I changed 2 studios and 3 productions, my total work experience (if you count official employment) more than 6 years.

It is very important for me to work on worthy and interesting design projects that will be useful to people.

Besides design, I am passionate about art and filmmaking. I mainly study 20th century cinema. In the past I worked as a curator of film programs and volunteer at various film festivals.
