How To Place An Order

Contact me at mapleteapress@gmail.com with the following details:

1. Choice of wedding stationery ('Classic', 'Pearl', 'Amber', or a bespoke design) and quantity required
2. Which country the goods will be posted to
3. Card stock choice where relevant, including colour and size
4. Please let me know if you require envelopes to be added to the order.

Choosing Stock and Envelopes

Please see the size guide on the final page, this demonstrates the relative sizes of the card stock options and the envelopes that fit them. To get an idea of colour and texture of different stocks, please view my photo galleries, there are links to them from my FAQs page - www.mapletea.co.uk/faqs

Order Minimum

My minimum order for all bespoke letterpress stationery is 45. Please do not ask if you can order a smaller quantity, unless you are willing to pay for the minimum cost.

Quotes, Payment and Design

Maple Tea will reply to your email with a quote, including postal costs. If you are happy with the quote and wish to proceed, I will create a custom order page on the website with all the details of your order.

When you are ready you can purchase the items from this web page (card payments and Paypal accepted). The first draft showing potential designs for your wedding stationery will be sent after payment. Please do not ask to see designs before as I do not begin design work prior to payment.

The designs will be emailed to you in pdf format, and you can request changes as you see fit until a suitable design is reached. I will ask that you approve ('sign off') the final draft, please ensure that you have carefully double checked the spelling and all details in the design, as once a design is approved the production phase will begin, and you risk having misspelt wedding stationery. The customer is responsible ensuring the proof is 100% correct.

How Long Does It Take?

My turnaround time is 14 -18 working days from signoff of design to putting in the mail (ie not including shipping time or the design phase of the project).

There are three phases to each project, below are timings for each:

1. Design phase: can take as little as 4 days, depends mainly on customer's schedule and speed of decision-making (ideally you shouldn't rush this part)
2. Production phase: 14-18 working days
3. UK Shipping: in the UK, next day delivery (Royal Mail Special Delivery)
- 3a. International Shipping: These are approximate: To the US, approx 6-12 working days. To Europe, 5-10 working days. To rest of world, 8-16 working days.

Shipping & Collection

For UK customers - all bespoke items are posted using Royal Mail 'Special Delivery', which guarantees a next day delivery, and is insured (£8.50 and upwards, according to weight).

For international customers - I use Royal Mail 'International Tracked' airmail service, which is tracked and insured. Costs vary according to weight, but if you request a quote I can give you a quote on the postal charge too - as long as you specify the quantity and card stock you'll be ordering. Any customs charges that may apply in the destination country are the customer's responsibility.

NB: At very busy times it may be necessary to refuse some jobs as there is a limit to the output that can be managed when making products by hand. If you wish to secure an order but haven't finalised your wedding details, I can take a deposit to confirm that I will go ahead with your order when you are ready. Please note that turnaround times begin at the point that a design is signed off, and this can only happen when all your details are confirmed.
