WILLIE'S REALM

This year has been a gr-r-reat one. It's been swell being your mascot. You're a good bunch of goods. We've had some good times and some bad times together this year. Some of you will be graduating and thrown out into the big, cruel, outside world that's really not that rough. The class of 1964 is minus two of its valuable members due to tragic circumstances: Sandra Grant, who died of cancer on February 19; and Mark Cunning, who has been out of school since last spring, due to a serious automobile accident.

In November, just before Thanksgiving, President John F. Kennedy was shot and killed by an assassin in Dallas, Texas. It was a time of great mourning and depression, but we managed to pull through it.

I'm real proud of our boys the way they beat those Wenatchee Panthers in both basketball and wrestling. Those gorgeous cheerleaders and the student body cheered the boys on towards victory.

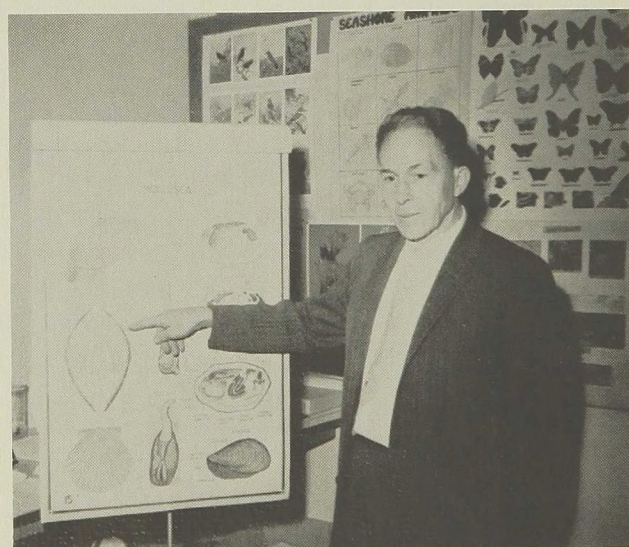

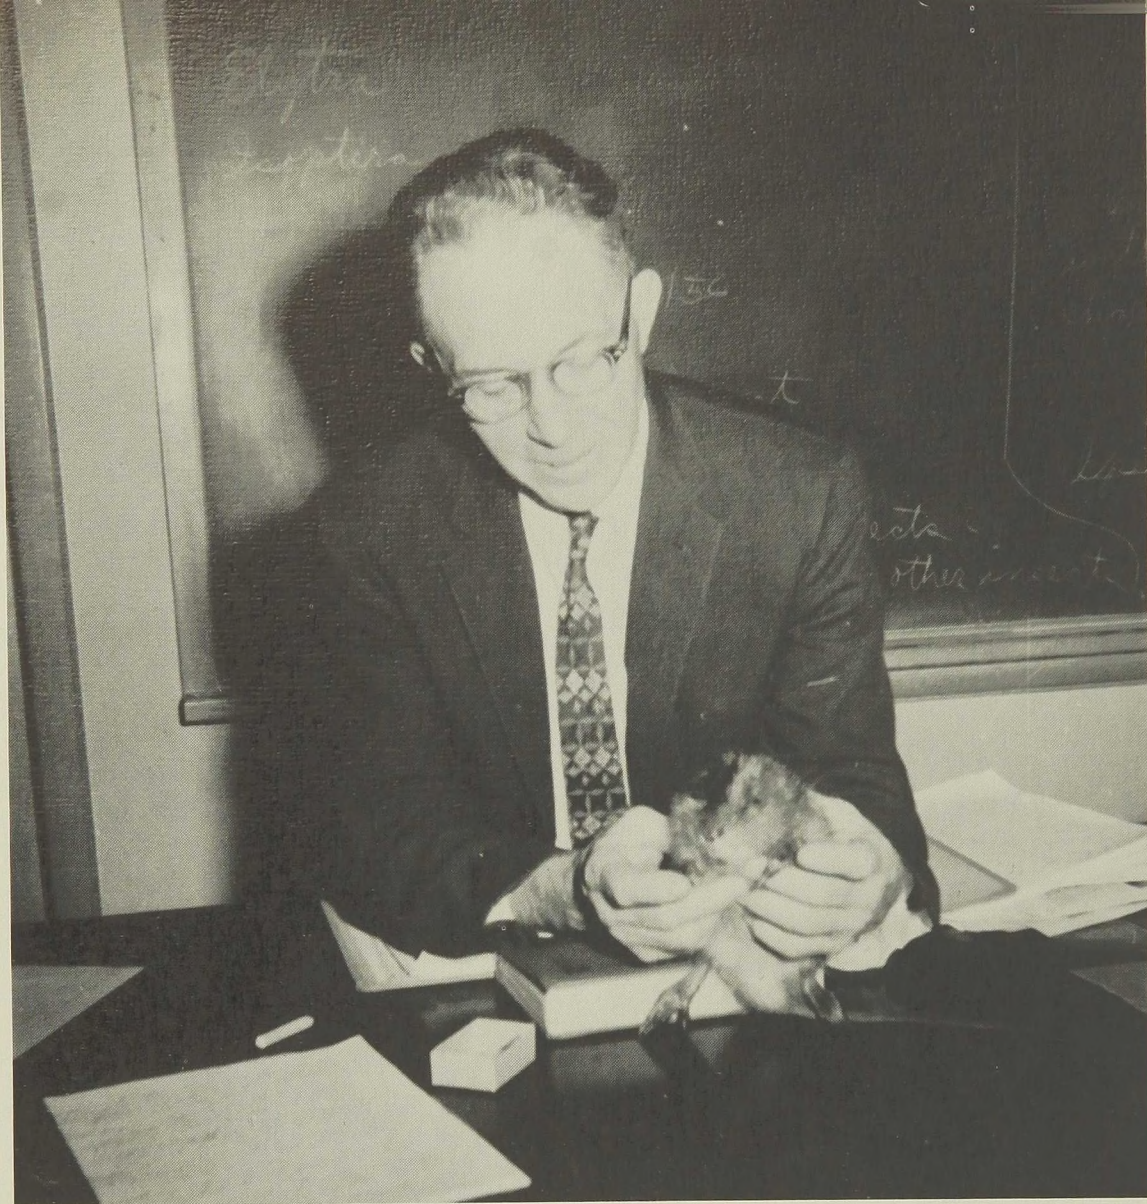

There were lots of new teachers this year. They had a fresh, young approach.

We had loads of fun raising money to help the Washington State JC's in their effort to build a hospital for the people of Kerala, India. Those noon dances sure were a blast.

We always look forward to the yearly Apple Blossom Festival. I don't mean to sound soft-hearted, but it really makes me feel proud to see us in the grand parade--our beautiful princess on the East Wenatchee float, the band, and the drill team.

Of course I'm prejudiced, but I think this is a pretty fine annual. I've looked through it, and they've included just about everything. Naturally I supervised the work on the Emo Echo; I had a pretty selfish interest, since the theme is "Willie's Realm." They've got some pretty good pictures of me in here. (I'm so good looking!) I know you'll enjoy this Emo Echo for 1964. I did.

See ya next year.

WILLIE PROUDLY DEDICATES THE 1964 EMO ECHO TO MR. IRVING IRISH

There's a very interesting classroom down in the middle of the first floor. Structurally, it's just a classroom like any of the others, but there the resemblance ends. The room becomes very personalized; it is filled with the spirit of the teacher, a man deeply interested in his subject. A small but adequate green house has been erected in a corner of the room. In it are growing many interesting and rare plants. On mantles in the front and back are perched various birds and small animals, all stuffed by the teacher and his students. All along one other wall, on a high bulletin board, are tacked numerous prints of plants and birds. Everything has been carefully collected, taken care of, and put up by loving hands.

A great many students enter this room as sophomores who are taking biology in order to fulfill their laboratory science requirement. Some return to take the advanced course of zoology and botany.

In addition to the textbook work, Mr. Irish provides variation by having films and lab work, including the proverbial dissection of the frog. Sometimes he reads articles relating to the studies which he has clipped out of various newspapers and magazines over the years.

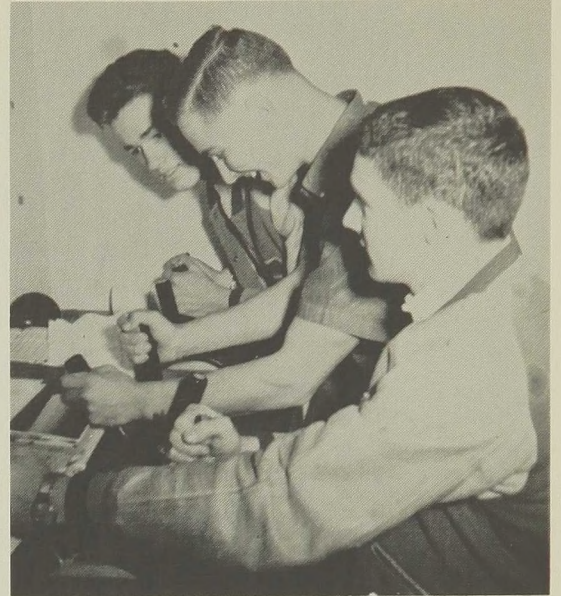

Mr. Irish came to us from Kellogg, Idaho, where he had taught. He was raised in Idaho and attended the University of Idaho in his student days. Idaho's loss is our gain.

Students enter the classroom at the start of the school year, thinking that they are just going to put in their time and receive their credit. But it doesn't work out that way. They become fascinated by the study of plants and animals and want to learn more.

Thank you, Mr. Irish, for being such a good teacher.

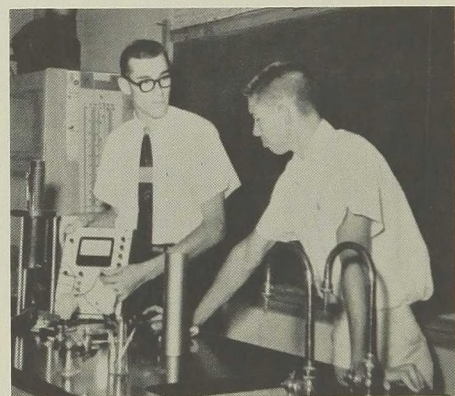

FDA--Future Dishwashers of America

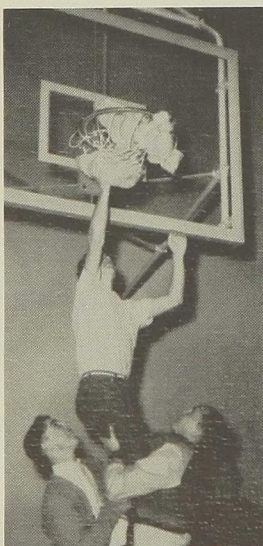

Now let's see what happens when you pull all of the switches...

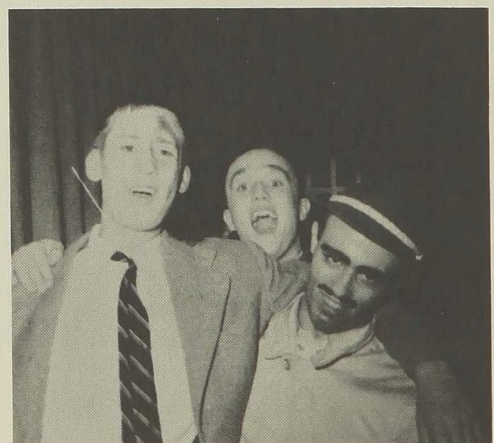

What did you call me?!

Remember! Get Mr. Quorn to plug it into this hole. Otherwise he won't feel any shock.

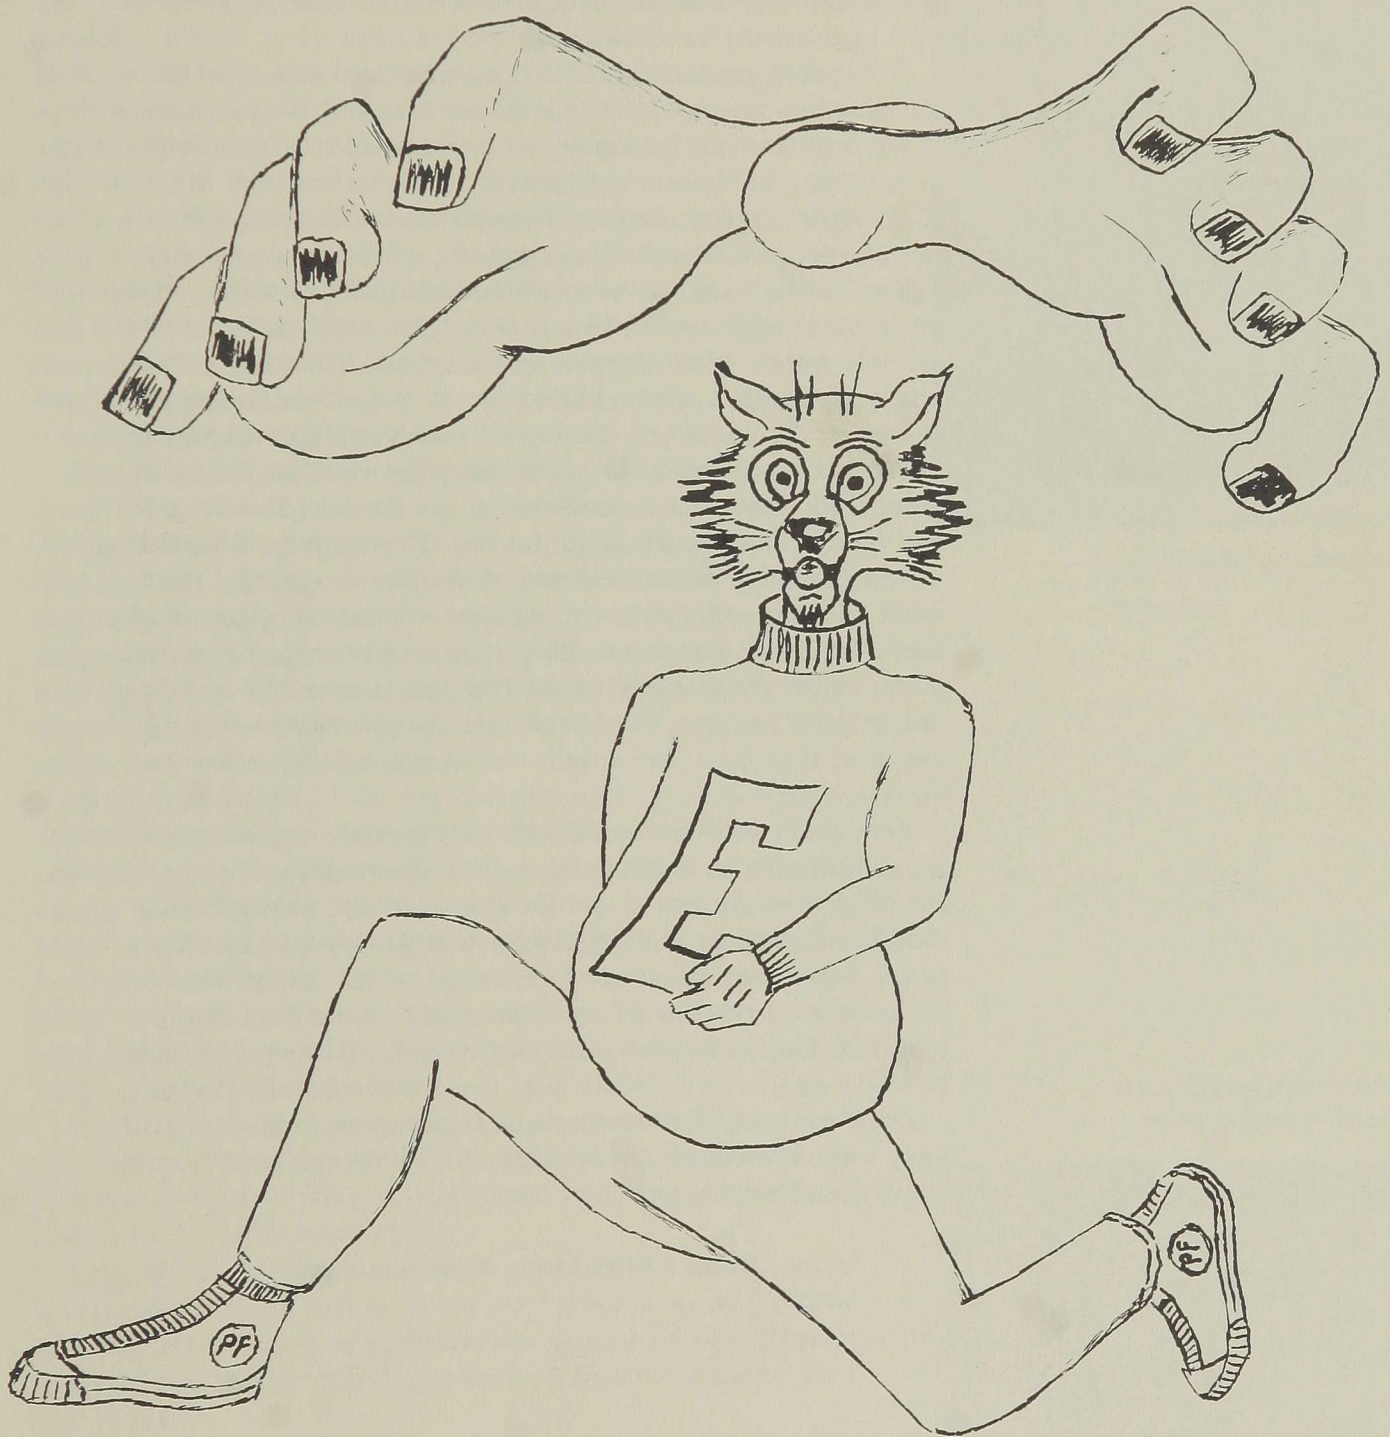

We've always used basketballs, but no, you had to use a dog.

Oh but Mr. Policeman, we're just having a little friendly get together.

FACULTY

MR. ROBERT DINTELMAN
Superintendent of Schools

Since its beginning, the Eastmont High School has graduated six senior classes, a total of 665 people. About 145 seniors will be graduated this year. Hence, our high school is still a relatively new school, compared with others in this part of the state.

How successful has our high school been in its short history? Has it measured up to the hopes and aspirations of the people who voted to establish it? How can the success of a high school be measured?

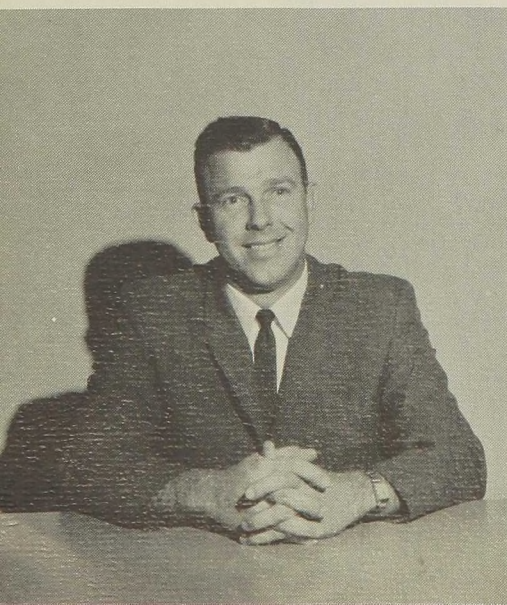

If success means that a large number of our graduates succeed in college, we have some evidence of such success. If success means that many of our students win valuable scholarships, we can point with pride to many of these. If it means winning awards in competition with other schools in debate, public speaking, music, athletics, and other school activities, we have won quite a few awards. If a successful high school is one which keeps its students in school, we can quote figures to show that our attendance is among the highest and our number of drop-outs among the lowest in the country. If success means being recognized by other school authorities, we can point out that the Eastmont High School is accredited by the State of Washington and by the Northwest Association of Secondary Schools.

Yes, we have some evidence of the success of the Eastmont High School. It is proper that we should be proud of these accomplishments. Yet, it seems to me, there are many other criteria for measuring the success of an educational institution. There are many questions we might raise at this time for which we do not now have the answers.

How good is the citizenship of our high school graduates? How intelligent is their voting? How interested are they in the affairs of the world and the future of our nation? How skillful are they in applying the knowledge acquired in school to the work they perform to earn a living? What kind of philosophy of life have they developed? What kind of parents will they be? What kind of attitudes will they inculcate in their children? What will their ultimate goals be?

Until we know the answers to these questions, we will have only inadequate knowledge as to how successful our educational experience is.

Robert Dintelman, Superintendent

MR. JAY CHILDERS
Assistant Superintendent

THE ADMINISTRATION

TO THE STUDENTS OF EASTMONT

Another wonderful and successful year is almost completed. Soon our thoughts will turn from studies to vacations, and we will drift to the four winds. The students of Eastmont can be proud of the many outstanding accomplishments attained in such a short period of time, in that our first graduating class was in 1958. A quick look at a few of your achievements: in 1958 one of your students was awarded a four year scholarship by West Coast Airlines (this scholarship was equivalent to the National Merit Scholarship); in 1960-61 you won more first and second place awards in the Spokane Inland Empire Science Fair than any school in the Pacific Northwest has ever won; in 1962, you were proclaimed state champions in football, and through your FFA you won the State Championship Speaker's Contest sponsored by the Washington State Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. A 1963 graduate won one of the highest scholarships in the country, the National Merit Scholarship. These are but a few of the things you can be proud of and cherish as the years go by.

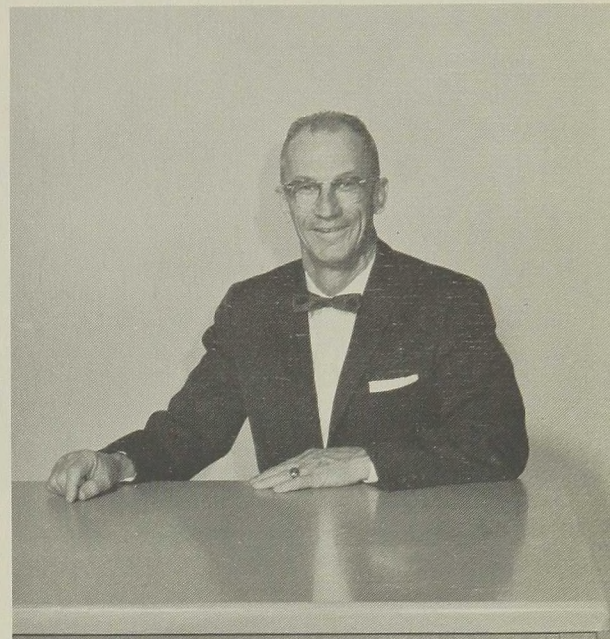

How did all these accomplishments happen in such a short time? First of all, I believe, it is because of you, the individual student of Eastmont; second, because of your parents and the high ideals they have established for you; and last but certainly not least, because of your dedicated and down-to-earth staff whose main interest is your success and happiness while attending Eastmont High. With these three teams working together, we have harmony, cooperation, and outstanding success.

In the four years I have had the pleasure of being administrative head of our senior high school, I have never worked with a finer student body. In an atmosphere of cooperation, cheerfulness, good school spirit, and sportsmanship, your ideals have been held high and we have a student body of which we can all be proud. Our problems at Eastmont are few and far between and are so greatly overshadowed by your outstanding deeds that it makes each year more pleasant than the last.

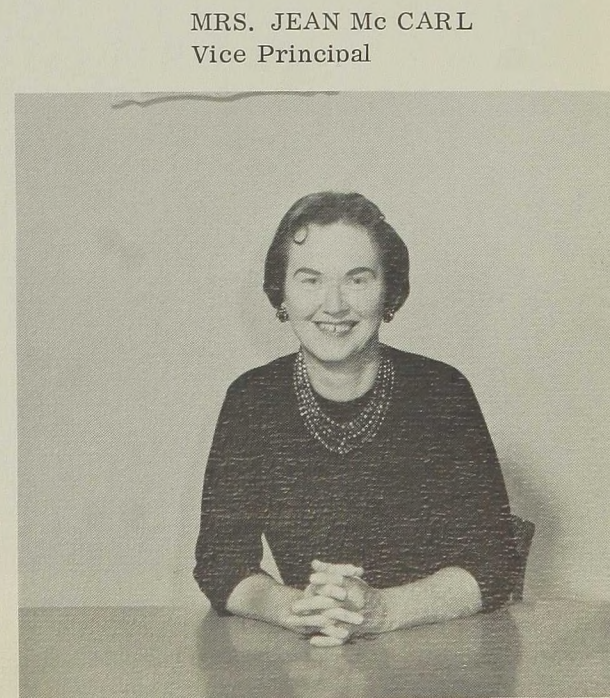

To those who are graduating this year and those who have graduated before you, may I wish each of you happiness and success. This is your second home and we hope you will find time to come back often.

You, the underclassmen, must carry on the traditions of classes before you and in every way attempt to do a better job. My most hearty congratulations to each of you. Thanks for the opportunity of being a part of Eastmont these past few years.

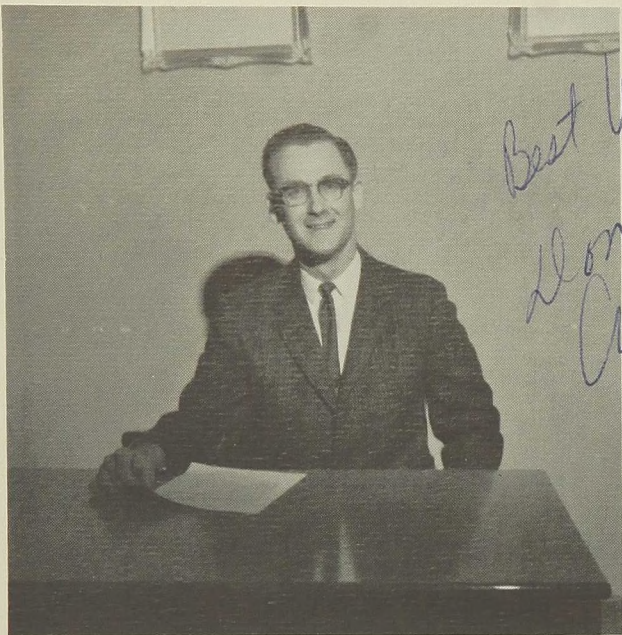

Sincerely,
Lynn W. Easton, Principal

SECRETARIES

Four efficient secretaries are important in making Eastmont High School function smoothly.

Mrs. Roberta Burnham and Mrs. Joyce Lewis serve in the convenient student Book Nook and are on hand in the high school office at all times to give aid to students and teachers.

Mrs. Norma Hanson and Mrs. Mary Belle Sellers carry out secretarial duties in the superintendent's office across the street.

COOKS AND CUSTODIANS

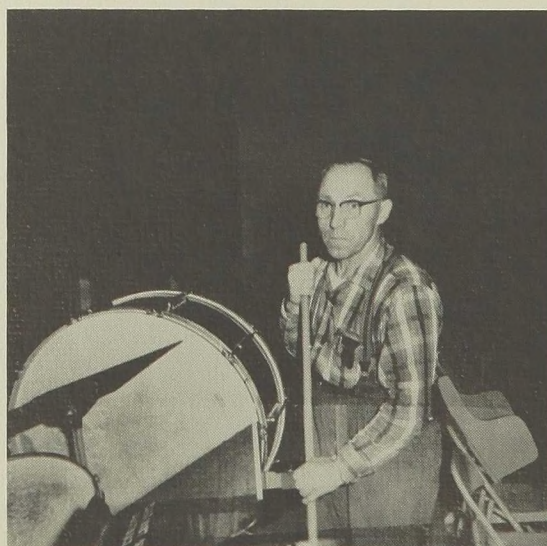

Many hands work busily though unobserved while students learn in the classroom. In the early morning hours of each school day, the cooks begin to prepare a nourishing meal for Eastmont students.

The custodians take pride in their work and strive to keep the campus buildings clean, attractive, and serviceable.

Ted Hotchkiss

Joe Huble

Ray Comstock and Ray Martin

It is a difficult task transporting the students to and from school every day. The mechanics and bus drivers of Eastmont did a very fine job this year. In all kinds of weather and under all conditions they managed to get the students to school and back safely and promptly.

ROW 1: Ray Comstock, Ray Martin, Don Van Austin.

DRIVER TRAINING INSTRUCTORS

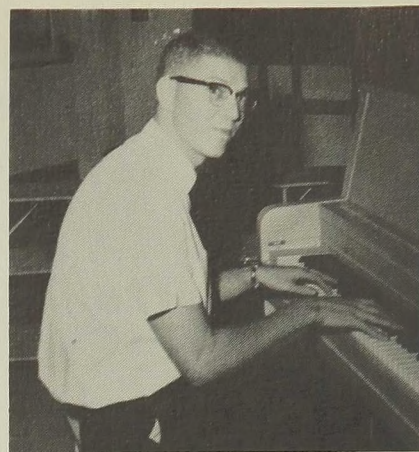

Every work day was exciting and dangerous for the driver training instructors, but still they taught the students how to drive. It was often very much to their advantage that they had an extra brake of their own. Somehow or other Mr. Pullin and Mr. Hurst survived the year alive and uninjured.

Joseph Hurst and James Pullin

"I said 'Stars and Stripes Forever,' not 'The Stripper'."

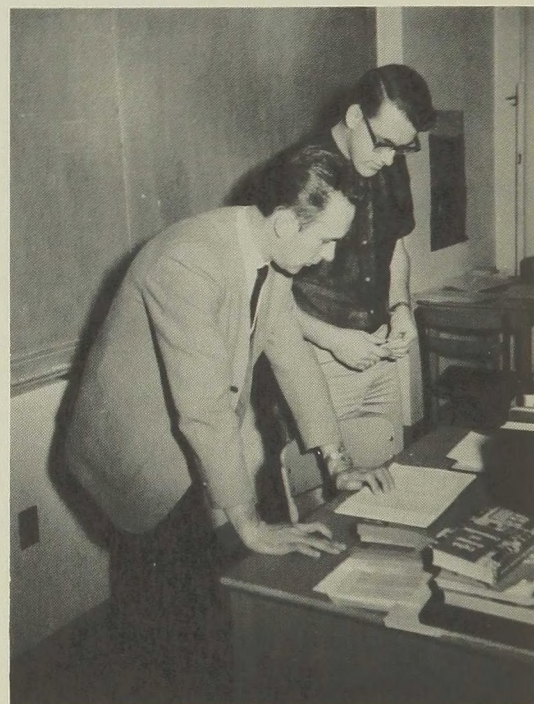

"Gee, I wish I could read music."

"What! You question my word?!"

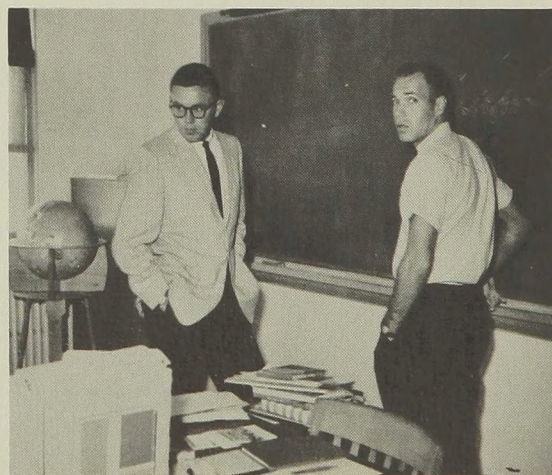

"Think you can make it this year?"

"But the grade book's written in German!"

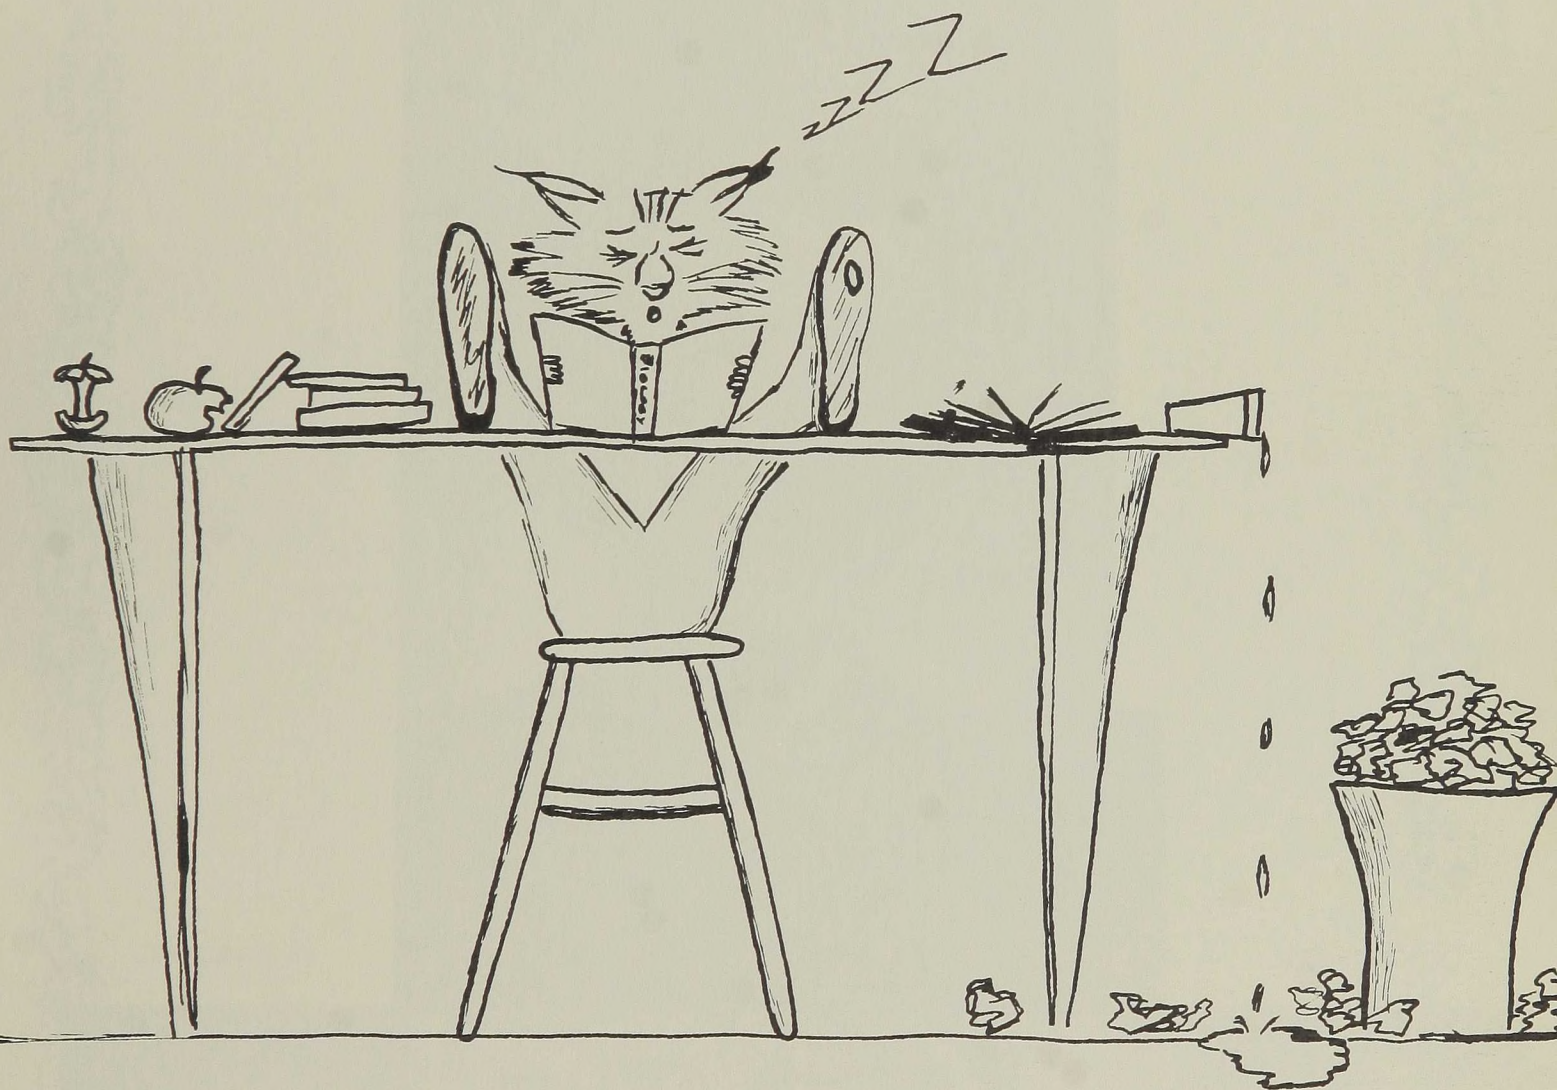

"No, girls can't enroll in my boys' P.E. class."

"No! We are not fixing the 1964 election!"

"Yea Bobcats--oops Wildcats."

We beat the boys today.

"I'm ashamed of you! A half a year of biology and you still don't know whether a dog is a plant or an animal!"

Now if I can get this music box in tune, the concert will sound great.

Sheriff, you better get up here. The students are rioting again.

Barry Goldwater just won the presidential election.

You really, truly want to know what your grade is?

Gee, you think this'll top the atomic bomb?

Oh yes. I just love to do paper work.

PEP CLUB

The purpose of Pep Club was to promote school spirit, not only for games but throughout the school day. The officers of Pep Club this year were Sandra Grant--president; Karen Dean--vice-president; Susan Lancaster--secretary; and Lee Vonne Nickles--treasurer. Mrs. Ball was the advisor for this all-girl organization.

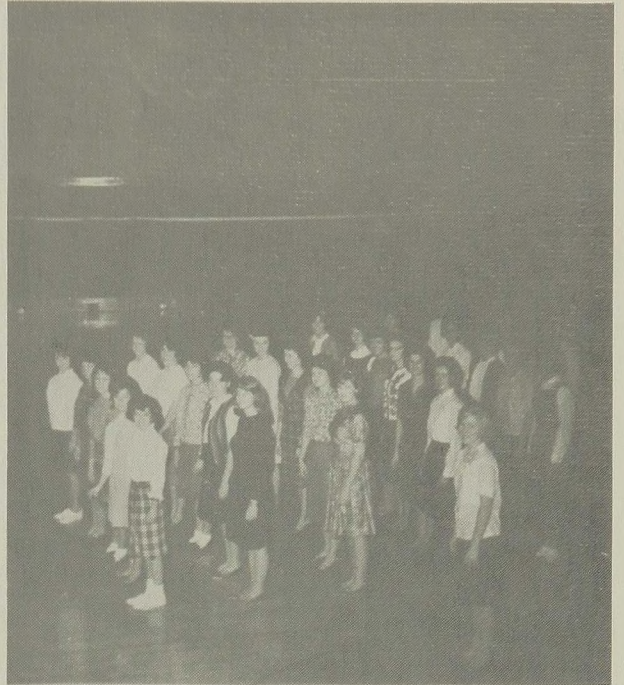

Among Pep Club's activities were presenting skits at pep assemblies and having a yearly improvement project, both for the school and the club. One of the major improvements for the club was the change of uniforms. Flared skirts replaced the old pleated ones.

Our Drill Team in action?

The Drill Team, a precision marching unit, represented Eastmont High in the Apple Blossom Parade and marched at half-time during several basketball games. They also added color to the Homecoming Game half-time activities.

Eastmont's Drill Team was advised by Miss Clark. The officers were: Karen Bradford-Drill Leader and Becky Flaherty-Assistant Drill Leader.

DRILL TEAM

GAA

Girls' Athletic Association for this year was made up of girls interested in participating in athletic activities. They shared honors in softball, volleyball, bowling, and badminton, tournaments at Wenatchee, Cashmere, Ellensburg, and Chelan, as well as at Eastmont.

This year's advisor for the organization was Mrs. Ball.

A very enjoyable (?) waist-slimming, and energetic time was had by all.

Officers of the band this year were Mike Nelson--president; Ron Messersmith--vice-president; and Teddy Munch--secretary-treasurer. The band was kept busy by Fall, Christmas, and Spring concerts, a trip to Pullman, several exchange concerts, the solo and ensemble contest at Moses Lake, and a trip to the Waterville Fair. The band also marched at the football games and in the Apple Blossom Festival. It played at pep assemblies and basketball games and attended the North Central Washington Music Contest. As always, the band played an important part (no pun intended) in contributing to the representation of the school and to the maintenance of school spirit.

The girls representing the school as flag twirlers this year were Mid Fryhover, Margie Ball, Melody Main, and Chris Belshaw.

CHOIR

This year's choir boasted seventy-three vocalists, making the largest choir in Eastmont's history. The large turnout of students enabled it to become a select choir, and plans are to continue it as such, according to director Ed Sand.

The annual Fall, Christmas, and Spring concerts were given this year. In addition to these, the choir also participated in the Festival of Music, a Large High School Group at Pioneer Jr. High, and several exchanges with other schools. They brought the year to a glorious end when they sang at graduation.

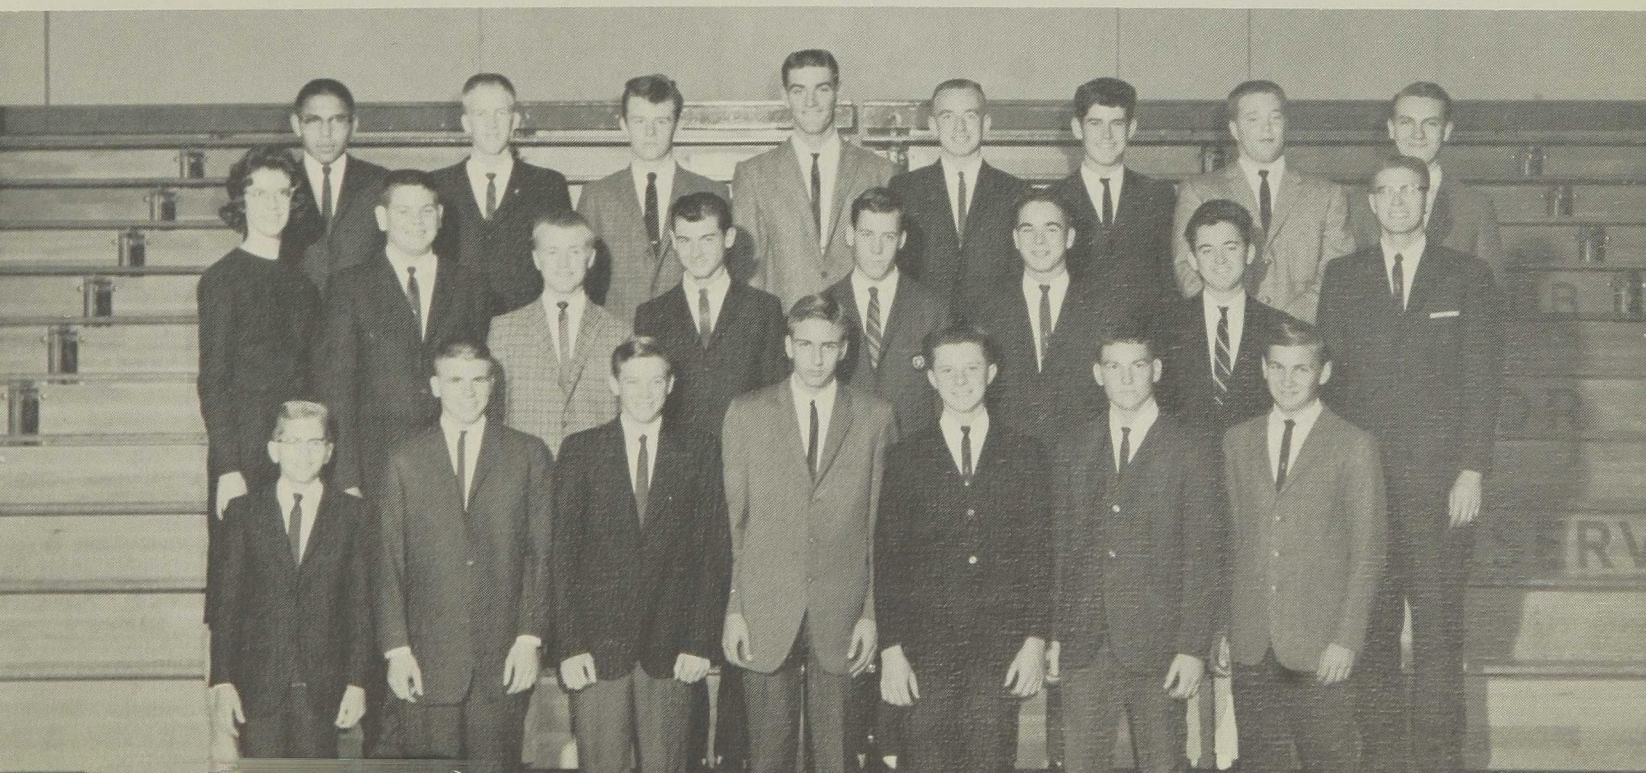

Choir officers were Vic Horner--president; Mike Campbell--vice-president; Mary Broaddus--secretary-treasurer; and Chuck Cole--student director.

HONOR SOCIETY

National Honor Society, the scholastic organization of Eastmont High, had as its officers this year: Sue Hazen--president; Linda Cartwright--vice-president; Barb Parkhill--secretary; Kathy Johns--treasurer.

Honor Society's activities this year included the annual installation of new officers, initiation of new members, and a banquet honoring the senior members of Honor Society. A new project was sponsoring a scholarship for an Honor Society Senior.

To become a member of Honor Society, a student must have at least a 3.25 grade point average and be approved by all members of the faculty. The membership swelled to 85 this year.

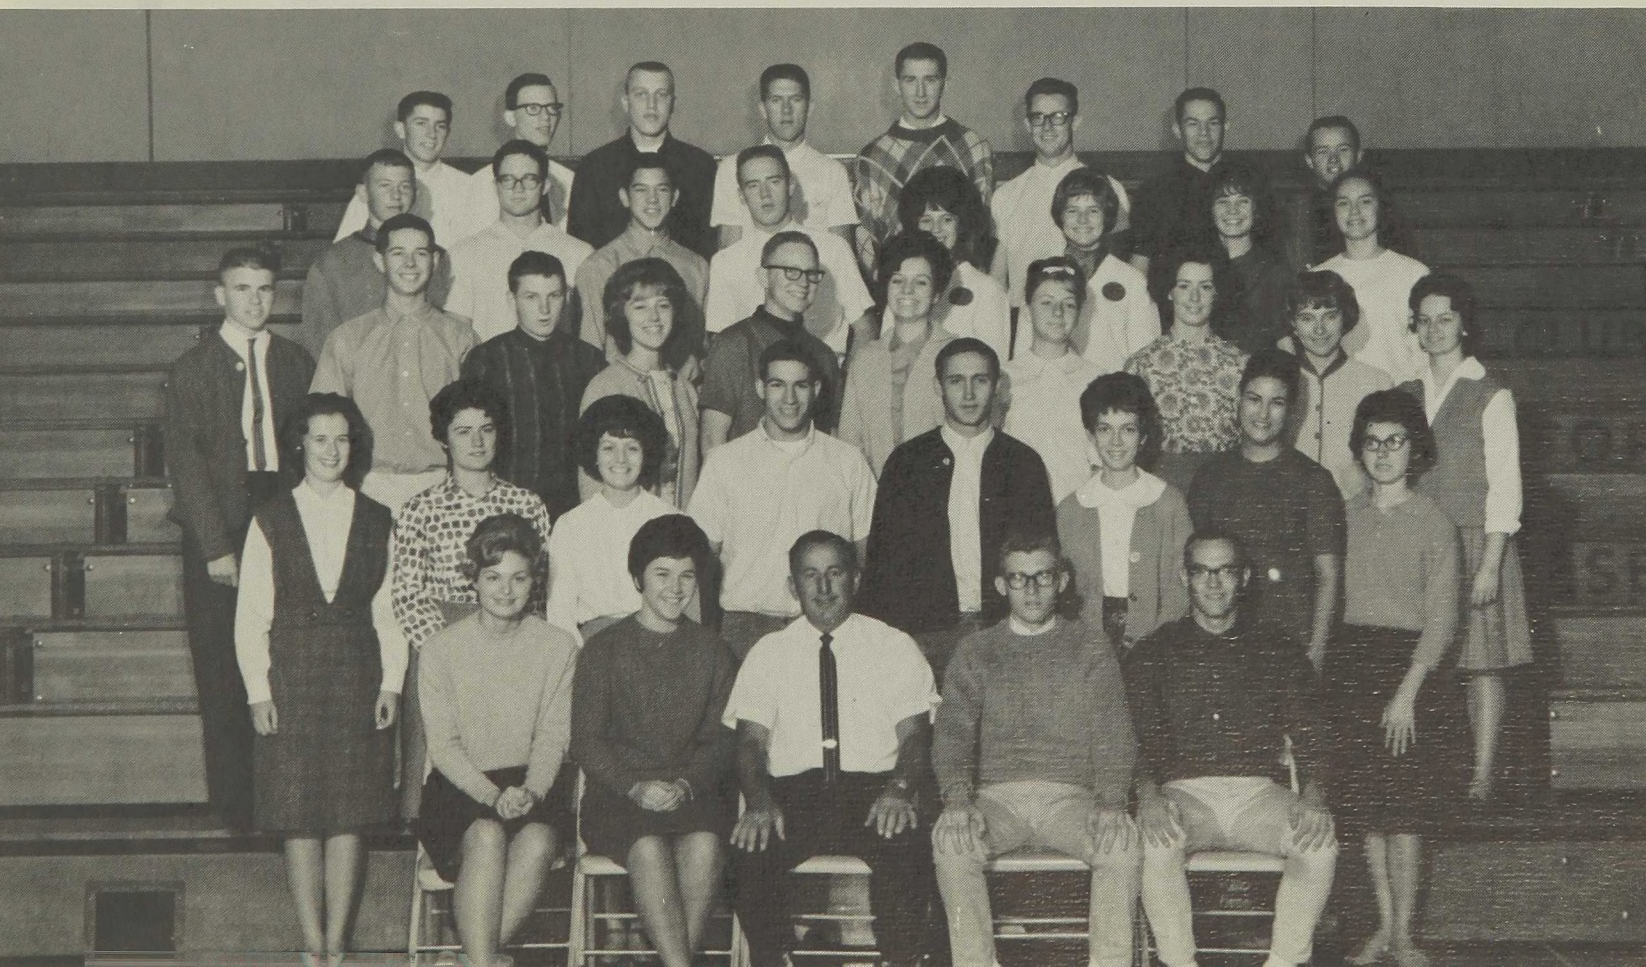

The Big Four Conference?

Under the able leadership of our student body president, Jerry Tucker, and assisted by Gary Brett--vice-president; Sally English--secretary; and Mid Fryhover--treasurer, the Student-Presidents' Council served as the student legislative body for Eastmont students this year. There were several standing committees, such as the Dance Committee and Election Committee, whose functions were to see that the activities and elections of Eastmont High were carried out with maximum efficiency.

"Crack!" went the whip. The Emo Echo staff pushed themselves a little harder in their efforts to get the annual out. It was a struggle, but somehow they managed. "We don't have enough pictures!" and "Where is that article now?" were among the anguished cries of several members of the staff.

Heading the staff were Becky Flaherty and Karen Hedelund serving as co-editors. Section editors were Carolyn Smith--organizations; Pat Pilcher--activities; Ray Trotter--personnel; Steve Underhill--sports; Teddy Munch--advertising; and Sandy Mabry--Distribution. Marilyn Thomason served as business manager and Miss Bailey advised the staff. During the year, members of the staff attended many conferences which helped them greatly in putting together this year's Emo Echo.

DEBATE TEAM

This year the Debate Team was led by Rielle Davis--president and Jim McKenzie--secretary. The team was ably advised by Miss Bruns.

The Debate Team is offered for those interested in furthering their ability in forensics. Activities included a number of state and district tourneys. A trip to Bellingham and several other brief excursions to local areas rounded out their activities. Several prizes and honors were won by Dean Brett.

Thespian Troupe 1715 has grown by leaps and bounds. Its first production of the year was "Home Sweet Homicide," a mystery-comedy. Seniors, juniors, and sophomores all put blood, sweat and toil into the play. As usual there were many obstructions, but the Thespians vanquished them, and "Home Sweet Homicide" was a success.

Thespian members are not just actors; they are also students who work on costumes, make-up, props, stage crew directing, prompting, posters, tickets, stage designing, and sound effects. Points are given for participation. When a student has amassed ten points he is a member for life. From there he is given a gold star for each ten points he earns. At the end of the year the troupe members vote for the Thespian of the year. Miss Bruns gives the director's award.

Leading Thespians this year were Dean Brett--president; Bobbie Hinde--vice-president; Judy Campbell--secretary-treasurer; and Mandy Jo Taplett--historian.

GIRLS' LEAGUE EXECUTIVE BOARD

The Girls' League officers, Emo Gals editor, Girl of the Month chairman, Service chairman, Hello Week chairman, and two sophomore representatives made up the Girls' League Executive Board. The president chose her cabinet by selecting girls who she felt were the most qualified. The Executive Board held a meeting prior to each Girls' League assembly. The minutes of this meeting were then read at the regular assembly of Girls' League.

The 1963-64 officers of Girls' League Executive Board were Pam Sellers--president; Gay Cordell--vice-president; Arlene Grebe--secretary; and Nobi Nakata--treasurer. The advisor of the Board this year was Miss Clark.

"Pay attention, Miss Clark."

Key Club, an organization sponsored by Kiwanis International, was made up of outstanding boys in the school. The Key Club is primarily a service club and is a junior branch of Kiwanis Club. One of their service projects was to paint the bleachers on the football field.

Leading the club through the past year were Paul Bauer--president; Al Messersmith--vice-president; Jim Hastings--secretary-treasurer; and Mr. Patrick--advisor.

"We can paint the bleachers for only 5¢ if everything is donated."

FFA

FFA is an organization of boys who are interested in farming. The officers this year were: Paul Bauer - president; Jim Reid - vice-president; Mike Hayes - secretary; Rick Bauer - treasurer; Dean Brett - reporter; and Greg Stafford - sentinel. The group was advised by Mr. Art Heideman.

The boys maintained a farm themselves and in doing so, learned about farm maintenance. On the farm located near Sterling Junior High School, was an orchard of 1 1/2 acres and a corral for the boys' steers. The boys also entered projects in the Waterville and Cashmere Fairs as well as completing individual projects such as trailer building.

"Oh! So that's what an apple looks like."

The FHA, advised by Miss Gies, is an organization made up of girls interested in learning the latest techniques in the art of homemaking. This year's officers of FHA were Pat Jackson--president; Joyce Rosebeary--vice-president; Janet Beck--secretary-treasurer; and Linda Van Cleave--historian.

The girls participated in the Regional Meeting, held at Okanogan on March 21, 1964.

"You mean you have to go to college to be a teacher?!"

FTA

Following the National FTA motto, "Who dares to teach must never cease to learn," the Eastmont Chapter of FTA, under the leadership of Ray Trotter--president; Rielle Davis--vice-president; Virginia de Desrochers--secretary; Sherrion Vickery--treasurer; and Miss Bailey--advisor, participated in an active year. In October, several members attended the Northeast District Conference at North Central High School in Spokane. The success of this venture led to a return trip for a college conference.

Other high points in the year included an exchange with the Quincy FTA and a plan for more evening meetings. Visiting the East Wenatchee School to observe the elementary teachers at work was the most rewarding long-term activity engaged in by the club members and led them the furthest along the road of learning.

Headed by Louis Mabry--president; Mandy Jo Taplett--vice-president; and Bonnie Laird--secretary, Hi-C held meetings twice monthly this year. This non-denominational Christian club held discussions on current teenage problems, with the assistance of Mrs. Todd and Mr. Laird.

SCIENCE CLUB

Interest in Science was kept up during the year through the Science Club. Officers this year were: Karl Jahns--president; Rich Marker--vice-president; Cathy Clark--secretary; and Randy Walters--treasurer.

The Science Club viewed exhibits at the Pacific Science Center at Seattle, and planned to visit Hanford Atomic Energy Plant, Titan Missile Base, Rocky Reach or Grand Coulee Dam, and Alcoa.

Serving their school by helping in both the administration and counseling offices of Eastmont High, the office girls saved the counselors and secretaries many steps and much time. They took attendance and ran many different kinds of errands. The girls enjoyed their work, and it was appreciated by all.

"Not so close, Mr. Heideman."

Look who's wasting butcher paper!

Will you be my friend? ?

Gosh! He winked at me!!

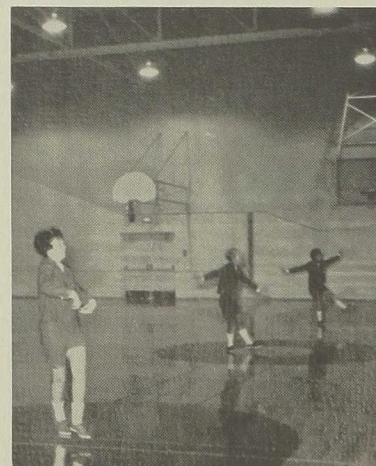

...and after the game, they all turned into pumpkins.

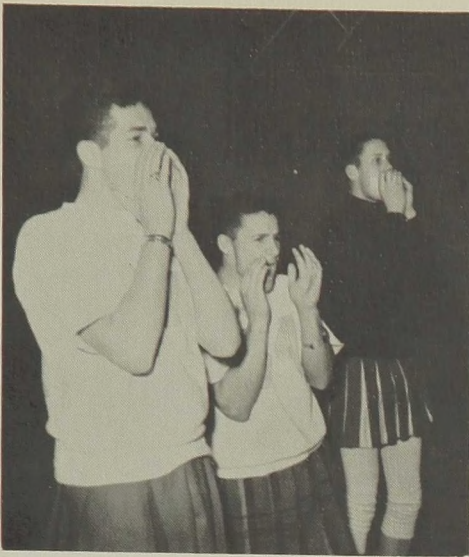

First we exterminate all sophomores...

Now - we fill balloons with water and halfway through the Junior Prom.....

All together now! ?

All for the teachers stand up and laugh.

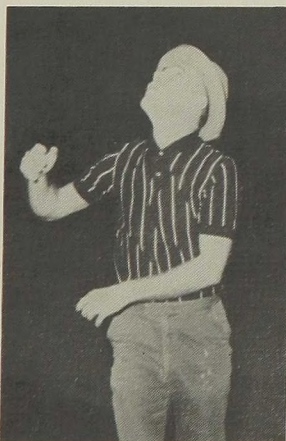

I'll flunk those little punks!

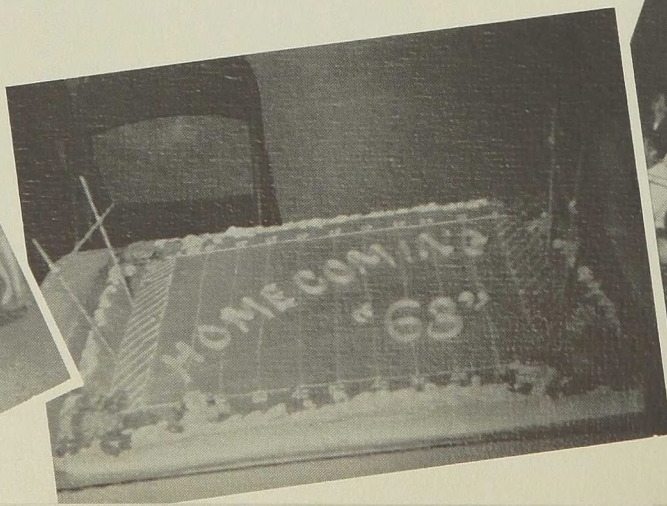

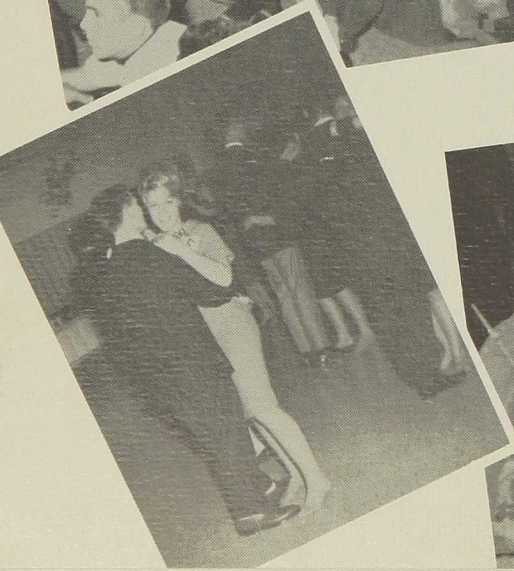

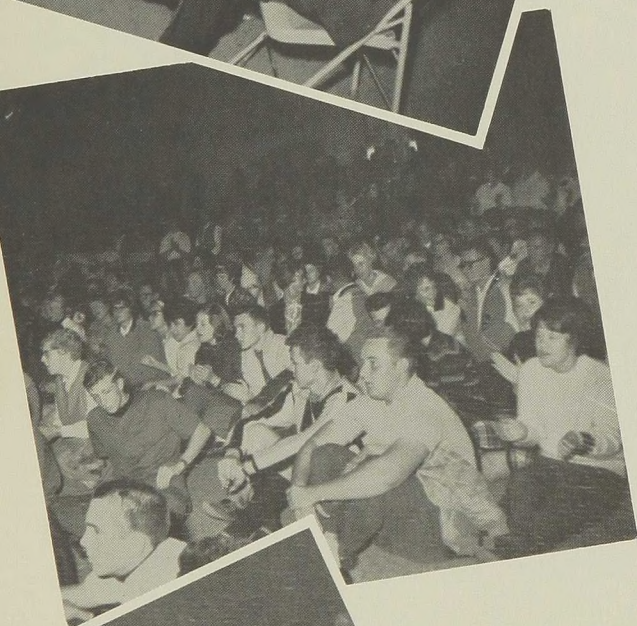

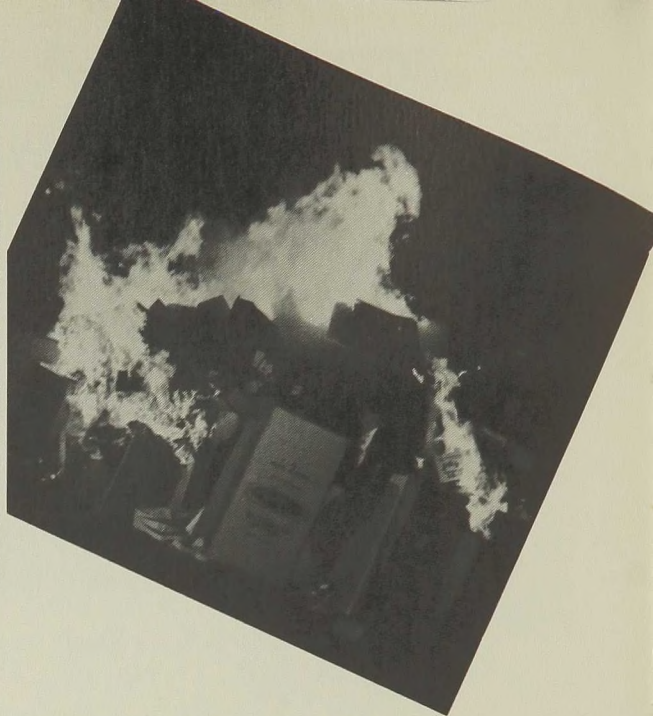

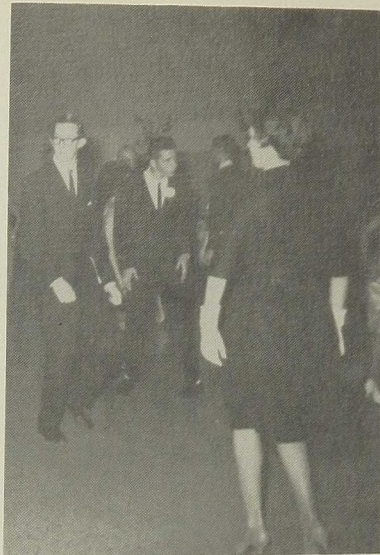

1, 2, 3, kick.

Willie love us. Yeeah! Yeah! Yeah!

Somewhere there's a basketball up there.

The Homecoming festivities began Friday night with a huge bonfire and pep rally before the game. Half-time activities included the crowning of Queen Mid Fryhover by last year's queen, Mary Ellen Robins. After the game, everyone crowded into the cafetorium for a hootenanny. This new attraction was greeted with enthusiasm from all sides.

The Homecoming Dance Saturday night was the climax to a wonderful, whirlwind week-end.

HOME COMING '63

"CLUB 64"

Princesses Sally English and Karen Bradford with Queen Kathy Johns.

An atmosphere of night life surrounded dancers at the 1964 Senior Ball. The cafetorium was transformed into a gay night club of red and gold.

Tiny glasses and canapes highlighted refreshments. Waiters in black vests served the couples.

Reigning over the dance were Queen Kathy Johns and Princesses Sally English and Karen Bradford.

WONDERLAND FANTASY

"Wonderland Fantasy" was the theme of this year's Tolo. Alice in Wonderland characters were used for the decorations. Giant playing cards and huge flowers decorated the walls.

During the intermission, Gary Brett and Lee Vonne Nickles were crowned king and queen of the ball. Jim Hastings, Gini Pulsifer, Frank Insell, and Barb Parkhill were princes and princesses.

Psst, Kathy. Scream!

Sure I'm famished. I've only eaten a chocolate cake, five sandwiches, a bag of potato chips...

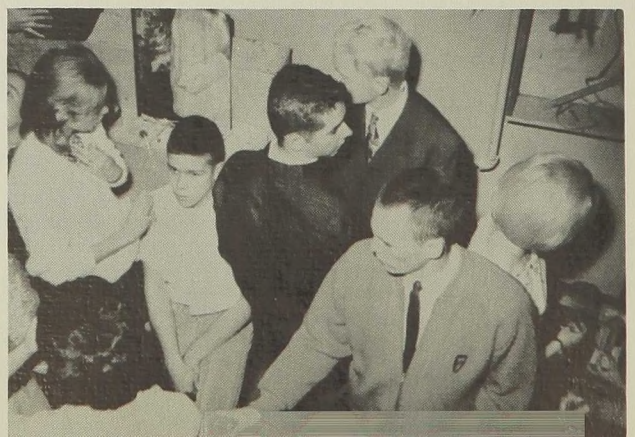

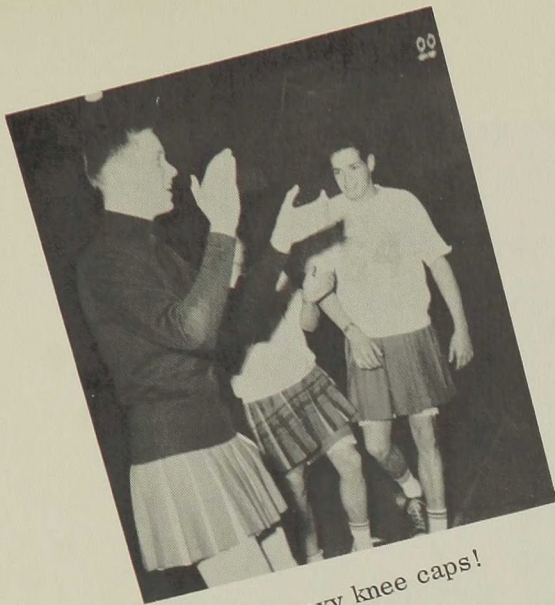

I wish those stagehands would quit making funny faces.

PLAYS

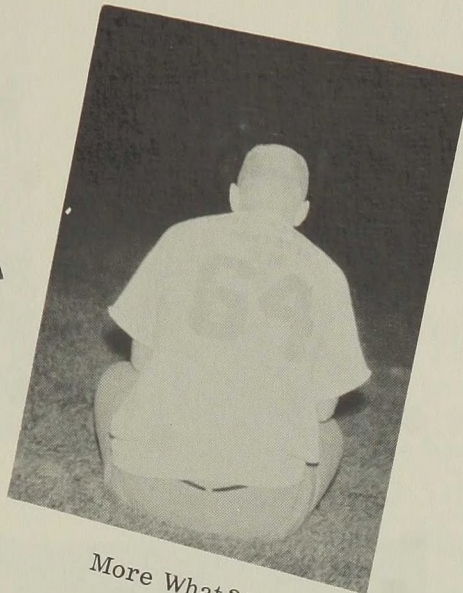

Two full length plays and one one-act play were produced by the Thespian Troupe this year. "Home Sweet Homicide," a mystery-comedy, was put on in the fall. At Christmas time "The Gift of the Magi," a dramatization of O. Henry's short story, was presented to the student body during activity period. Spring came and on its tail was "Stardust" by Walter Kerr, the drama critic. All in all, this was a most successful year for the Thespians.

Hey, you think you could just try to make me handsome?

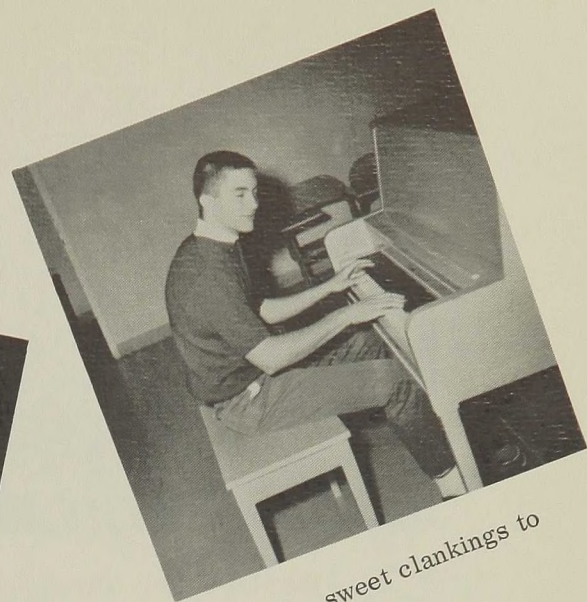

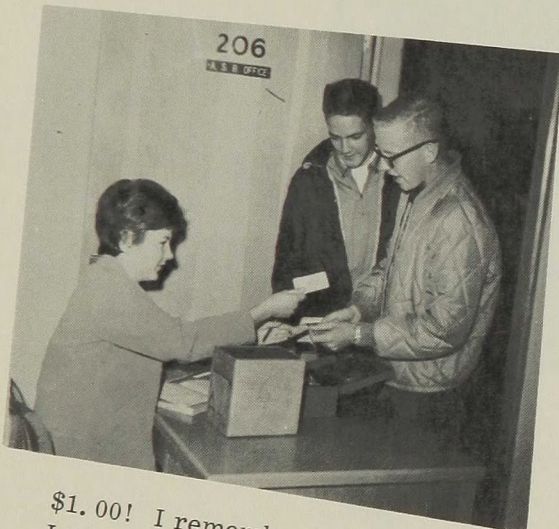

Those sexy knee caps!

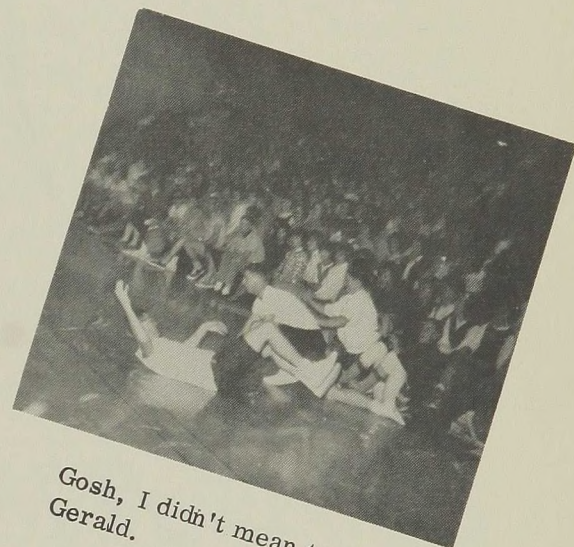

More What?!

Ah, sweet clankings to my ears.

$1.00! I remember when I got into games free.

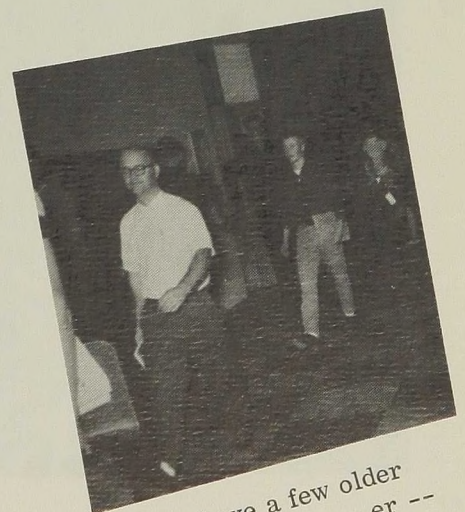

Gosh, I didn't mean to do it, Gerald.

You sure the bomb's all set?

I thought I was going to be a cadet teacher, not a secretary.

And we have a few older married students -- er -- teachers.

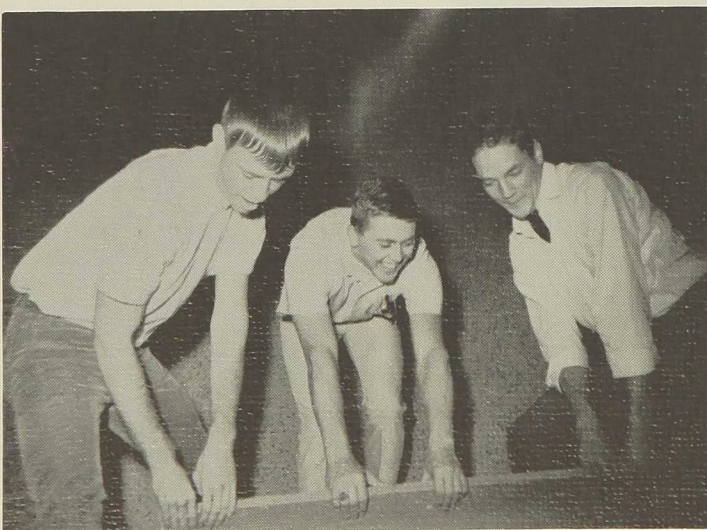

Now let's see. Three
A's average out to an F.

The Hustler

No, I think the leading man should wear chartreuse pants with an orange sports shirt.

This sure beats taking that exam.

Get that camera out of here before I break
it.

CROSS COUNTRY

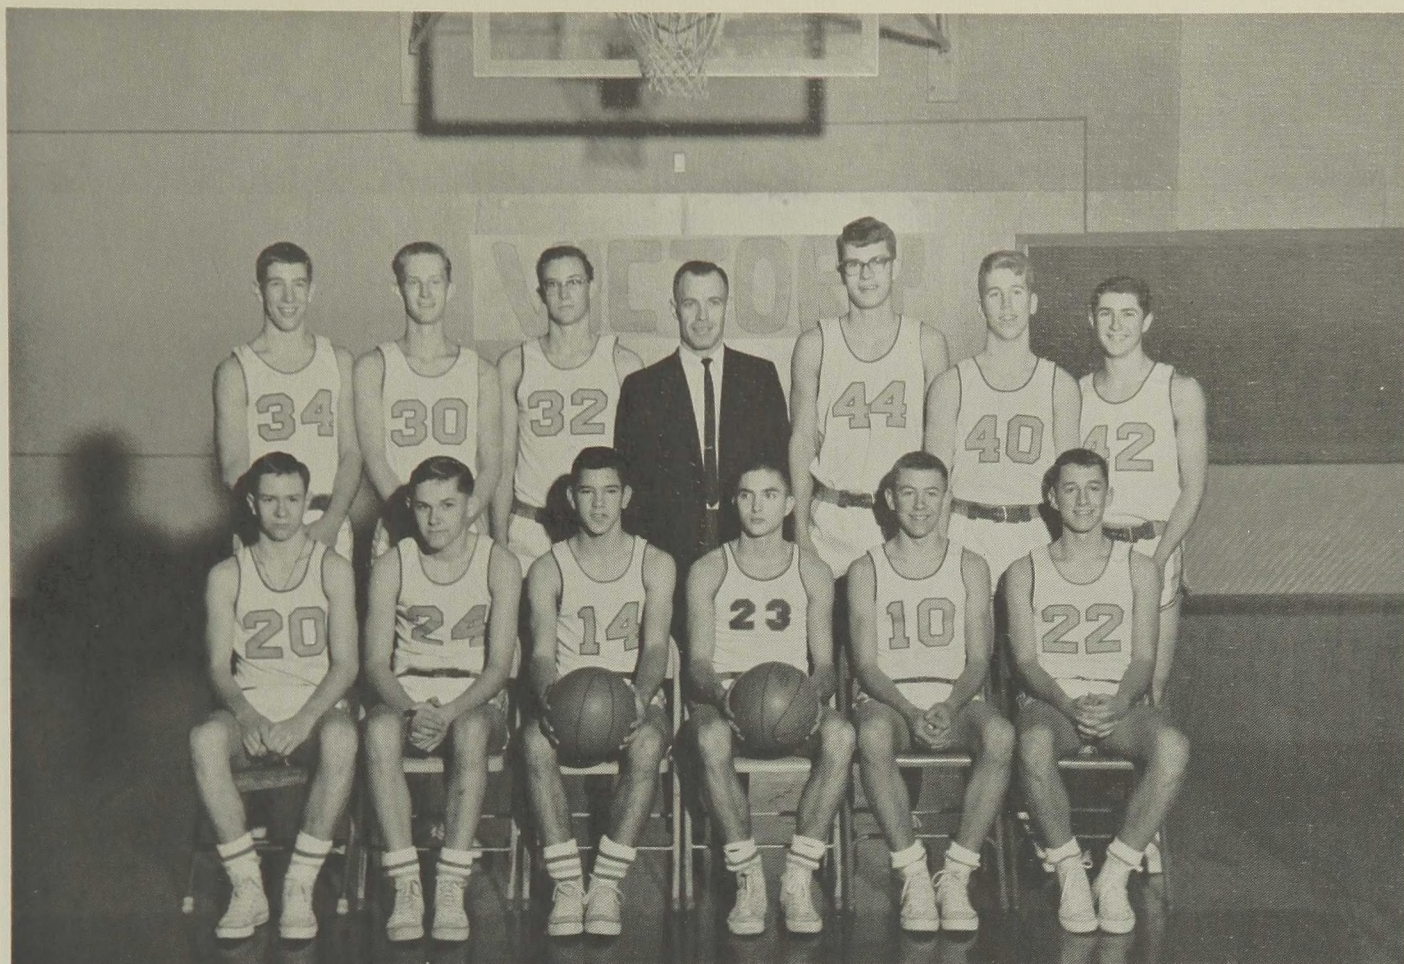

This year, Eastmont High School's first Cross Country Team was organized. Coached by Mr. LaVigne, the team had a very active and competitive season. The team ran in several meets at Moses Lake and Quincy, some of which were held during the half time of football games. Some of the team members traveled to Spokane for a large cross country meet held there. One of the high points of the season was Eastmont's win over Moses Lake.

SKI TEAM

The 1963-64 Ski Team had a wonderful turn-out. When the snow wasn't on the slopes, the team participated in the endurance exercises at the Eastmont gym. Coach Vaughn set up a very competitive program with other schools and the Pacific Northwest Ski Association. Some members of the team took a trip to Crystal Mountain, an excellent ski resort, about 60 miles from Issaquah.

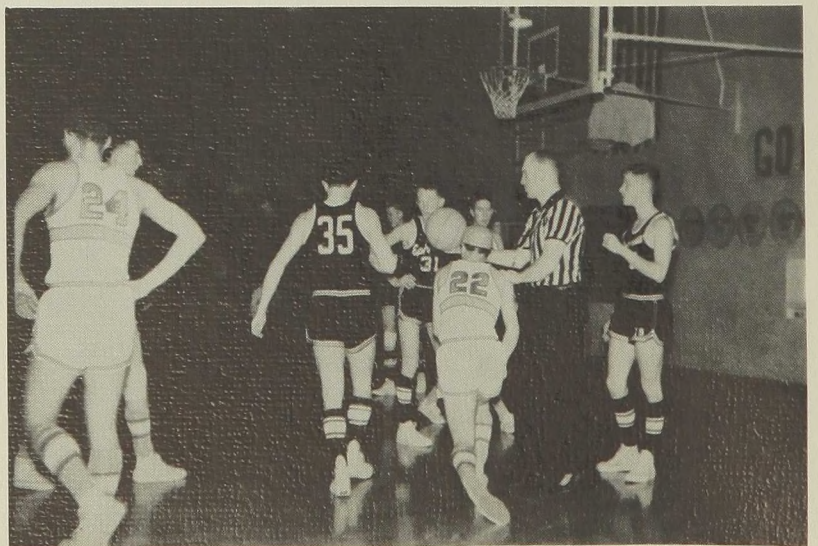

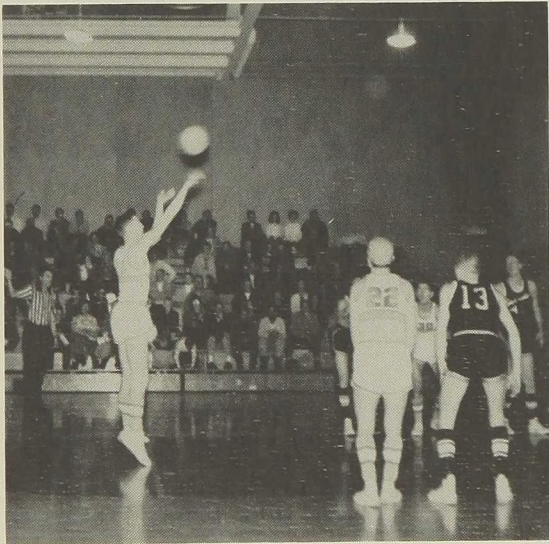

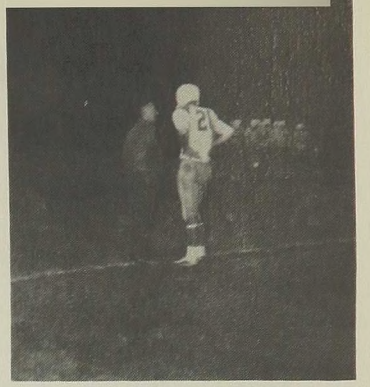

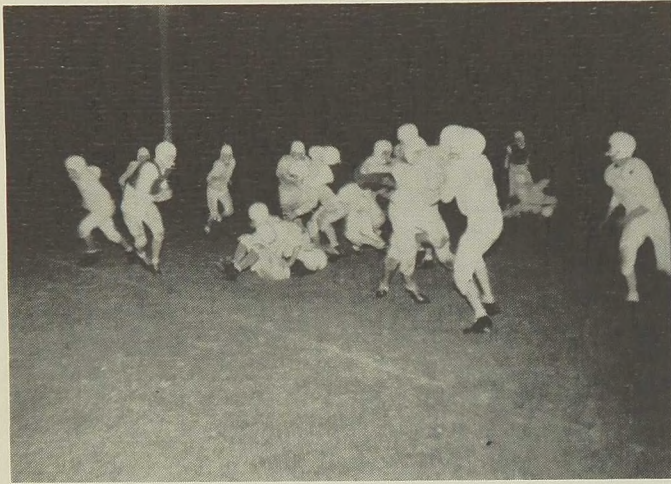

The annual Eastmont High School Invitational Ski Meet was held in February, and Eastmont came out with some ribbons and honors. Cay Cordell and Melinda Drescher got 1st and 2nd in the Entiat PNSA race. Craig Milne and Bob McLandress took the honors for the boys' team.
