THE TUDOR HANDMADE COLLECTION

30 NORTHERN
ROOF TILES
ESTABLISHED 1991

Welcome to: Northern Roof Tiles

Just in case you are wondering 'who in the world is Northern Roof Tiles?' please let me explain who we are and what we do and why might you be in the slightest bit interested.

WHO WE ARE

Northern is a family owned importer of clay roofing tiles primarily from Europe.

I founded the business in 1991, so this year we will celebrate our 30th anniversary, which makes Northern Roof Tiles one of the oldest established importers of clay roof tiles in North America.

WHAT WE DO

One of my founding tenants was to offer our clients the widest possible choice of profile, shape, size, colors and textures of clay tiles, which has required us to deal with many different tile makers.

We set out to make specifying and purchasing our tiles as simple and enjoyable as possible. We provide suggested installation specifications and detailing, we can undertake material take offs and detail estimates and we work with the best installers all over the continent.

And before you ask all our tiles are independently tested against the ASTM criteria and our suitable for installation in all areas.

WHY YOU MIGHT BE INTERESTED?

If you have never considered using clay roof tiles because of assumed cost, the compatibility with the style of homes, building your design or build, or the suitability for use in your environment?

If you had assumed all clay roof tiles were red, Mediterranean in profile and only suitable for use in the Sunbelt.

Please give us a call and the opportunity to answer your questions and concerns. Because clay roof tiles are NOT all red, and are compatible with most architectural styles and can be installed in even the harshest environments.

But before contacting us we should warn you that we are passionate, some have said obsessive about clay tile roofs.

I hope you enjoy the information in our French Interlocking Collection as well as our other Collections, all of which can be found on our web page www.northernrooftiles.com or via the link.

Hope to hear from you soon and stay safe

An English tradition dating back to Tudor & Elizabethan times.... and carried on today by The Tudor Roof Tile Company.

THE RED HOUSE, HOME OF WILLIAM MORRIS, THE FOUNDER OF THE ARTS & CRAFT MOVEMENT

The Tudor Roof Tile Company is the largest ENGLISH owned and operated HANDMADE tile maker in the UK.

Tudor is carrying on a long tradition of HAND MAKING small rectangular roof tiles that dates back to the Roman occupation.

Since King Edward IV's Royal Charter in 1477, English HANDMADE tiles have been 10 1/2" long x 6 1/2" wide. But we are pleased that Tudor is making an exception for Northern and making us larger tiles to suit our North American market. But rest assured they are using all the same skill and craftsmanship.

Down through the centuries, HANDMADE English tiles have been used by the great English architects and influential leaders of design movements.

William Morris, the founder of the Arts & Crafts movement had HANDMADE tiles on his own home 'The Red House'.

Sir Edwin Lutyens preferred tile over slate as did CFA Voysey and MH Baillie Scott, to name a few.

Follow in these great designers' footsteps and consider truly HANDMADE tiles from the craftsmen at Tudor for your next project.

Wisley

In 1995 Tudor tiles in Dark Antique were chosen to re-roof buildings within the Royal Horticultural Society's property at Wisley in Surrey England. This classic Arts & Craft style residence sits surrounded by 240 acres of formal and informal gardens, greenhouses and extensive arboretums. The Royal Society's plant laboratories are also on the property which is visited by over 1 million visitors per year.

Custom by Northern and Handcrafted by Tudor

Tudor Roof Tiles have the master tile makers who are more than capable of making Northern the custom shapes and sizes of tiles needed for your circular towers, rounded hips and even domes.

Working with your installers, Northern designs the graduating sizes and provides Tudor with measurements and quantities that will be needed. This service greatly reduces time and cost of onsite cutting, the resulting dust and noise, as well as 'no cut edges visible.'

Northern's proven track record with 30 years of experience combined with Tudor's 'we can do that' attitude allows us to also offer Arris or Bonnet style hip as well as valley tiles to accommodate your swept eave details, as well as, any roof pitch or even octagonal or hexagonal hips.

Basically if you can imagine it, Northern can design it and Tudor can make it!

Custom. Fit For a King. King's College School

The craftsmanship and tile making skills at Tudor were put to the test when the project architects for the new Music Center at the King's College School in London presented their ideas for the decorative roof tiling.

The initial challenge was to come up with a modular size of tile that would suit the geometric pattern to be created with both the rectangular tiles as well as the arrowhead shape.

After much thought and many calculations, a custom size of 14" long x 4 1/2" was chosen and a test panel was created.

It was also decided that two shades of red should be used and the custom colors of Romney Red and Romney Brown were developed.

Tudor did not just develop the design for the layout and make the tiles. They also worked very closely with the installers and the finished project reflects the high level of skill and expertise Tudor Roof Tiles offers their customers.

Northern looks forward to working with Tudor in the coming years and hopefully you, our customers, can come up with equally challenging projects.

If you can imagine it, we are sure we can create it for you!

Ornamentals & Vertical

Back in Tudor and Elizabethan times it was very common for the second floor exterior walls to be tiled and the practice carries on today. You can also consider tiles for the cheeks of dormers.

Tudor offers a range of 7 different shapes and they can be supplied in all the regular colors and both sizes. But for a restoration or repair project they can match any shape or size.

Of course you can create the whole roof in ornamental shapes if you prefer.

Creasing Tiles

Tiled Arch from a design by Sir Edwin Lutyens

CREASING
USED FOR EXAMPLE...

Where a gable intercepts with an eave

Creasing tiles are basically regular Tudor field tiles but they are flat, not cambered and do not have nail holes or nibs.

But they are the same high quality and are available in the regular colors.

Fireplaces

Ever since shingle style roof tiles have been made in England, tiles have been used for the fireback's and hearths of fireplaces. William Morris and the Arts & Crafts movement were particularly keen on using locally sourced and hand crafted materials; and roof tiles in fireplaces were a particular favorite.

Tudor is making us specially sized 10 1/2" x 3 1/4" x 1/2" tile that can be laid, on edge, to form any number of decorative patterns.

Please note that these tiles are formed by firing in a kiln at temperatures in excess of 1000 deg C, so are perfectly suitable for domestic fire backs as well as commercial hearths etc.
