An inter-faith prayer followed the activity. The winners of the rescue Olympics and poster making contest were also awarded.

He also highlighted the importance of continuing camaraderie and teamwork, as he lauded the various civic groups who are always partnering with the city government. He mentioned the volunteer groups of Philex Mines and Lepanto Mines, who have been vital in rescue operations during the killer quake.

BCPO Ordered to Implement 'No Parking' During Rush Hours

BAGUIO CITY – Mayor Mauricio Domogan in a memorandum ordered the Baguio City Police Office (BCPO) thru BCPO Chief Jesus Cambay, Jr. and Traffic Chief James Logan to strictly implement the 'No Parking' policy along the stretch of Session Road here.

Domogan's directive came in the heels of numerous complaints being received by his office on reported bumper to bumper traffic experienced in the area due to the double parking of vehicles especially during peak hours.

Lawmaker Asks Senate for a Full-Blown Investigation on the P10-Billion PDAF Scam

"DOES AN OLD BOYS' CLUB EXISTS?"

A full blown inquiry into the alleged ten billion pesos Priority Development Assistance Fund (PDAF) scam is pushed in the Senate by Senator Chiz Escudero once the 16th Congress opens next week.

Escudero filed Senate Resolution Number 40 (PSRN 40) directing the Blue Ribbon committee to conduct an inquiry into the said scam purportedly involving the Janet Lim-Napoles Group.

The scam was bared in an investigative report which showed how the PDAF collectively known as pork barrel was released to dummy nongovernment organizations through forgery, falsification and bribery.

"Accountability and transparency in government dictates that this report must be quizzically looked into, not only for the representatives of the people to clarify their respective positions, if some may be involved, but to show to every Filipino as well that neither sacred cows nor the notion of an 'old boys' club' exists in a government working for change" Escudero explained in his resolution.

The senator, who has always espoused for a transparent and relevant use of PDAF, said the scam is damaging to the country as a whole and besmirching the names of all congressmen and senators in general.

"It has become a painful misconception that the PDAF is a cash allocation given to congressmen and senators with unlimited discretion to disburse and spend with neither constraints nor accountability. But to the contrary, legislators do not handle the funds and implement the projects. Their participation is but limited to the designation of beneficiaries and identification of projects, and the implementation is undertaken by government agencies concerned".

Escudero said the designation of PDAF beneficiaries and how it purportedly mutated into a multi-billion government racket or scam allegedly by the Janet Lim-Napoles (JLN) Group of Companies must be scrutinized and must see an end where legislative and preventive measures are enacted to address this disturbing matter.

"We deserve no less as a people and as a nation, we have to make sure that everyone adheres to the principles of good governance when it comes to public funds. At the same time, we have a responsibility to protect the integrity and reputation of the Senate as an institution and as a pillar of our democracy. This should be non-negotiable" he said.

"Let the sovereign decide after due hearing and investigation whether to hang the Sword of Damocles or not"/

DOH Partners with Cordillera Regional Executives for Pilipinas Go 4 Health Campaign

BAGUIO CITY - The Department of Health (DOH) has engaged a new partner, the Cordillera Association of Regional Executives (CARE), for its healthy lifestyle movement – the Pilipinas Go for Health.

DOH Assistant Secretary Dr. Enrique Tayag, who was one of the guests of CARE in its 2013 general assembly last Tuesday at the Baguio Country Club, talked about the Pilipinas Go for Health campaign and enjoined the CARE officials and members to reciting the Pilipinas Go for Health pledge.

The pledge read: "We believe that every Filipino has the right to a healthy family, community, and country. As lead advocate for the nationwide healthy lifestyle movement, we work hand-in-hand with different sectors to provide options for healthy living and make it accessible to as many people as possible. Ultimately, Pilipinas Go4Health hopes to contribute to successful nation and inclusive development by encouraging Filipinos to embrace four key health habits: physical activity, proper nutrition, and the prevention or cessation of smoking and alcohol consumption".

Tayag explained that as infectious diseases and non-communicable diseases or lifestyle related illnesses remain to be major health concern worldwide, DOH and its partners have embarked to Pilipinas Go For Health campaign which aims to inform and encourage Filipinos from all walks of life to practice a healthy lifestyle by making a commitment to physical activity, proper nutrition, and the prevention or cessation of smoking and alcohol consumption.

Through the movement, they encourage personal commitment, institutional participation and community involvement, he said.

Tayag stressed the importance of the partnership between DOH and associations like CARE, whose officials and members are heads and assistant heads of government line agencies in the region, to touch base with the around 39 percent the movement's target which is the Philippine workforce.

He also led CARE members in dancing the Pilipinas Go Four Health and healthy lifestyle dance campaigns.

The assembly was a day of fun, work and learning for CARE members. Outgoing CARE president Department of Environment and Natural Resources Regional Director Clarence Baguilat also spearheaded the election of the new set of officers./JDP/CCD-PIA CAR

OMB, NBI Penalizing Owners of Establishments Selling Pirated Discs Seeks Passage Of Local Law

BAGUIO CITY - The Optical Media Board and the National Bureau of Investigation - Cordillera are set to recommend to the Baguio City Council to enact an ordinance that will penalize owners of malls, stalls and other establishments who will be selling pirated discs in their properties following the raid conducted in the different establishments in the city Thursday last week.

OMB Chairman Ronnie Ricketts together with NBI-CAR Regional Director Rogelio Mamauag led a raid with the Baguio City Police Office at the different establishments in the city's central business district where they confiscated pirated DVDs, VCDs and CDs with a market value amounting to at least P8 million.

The joint elements raided establishments along Session Road, at the public market and at the Maharlika Livelihood Center where they hauled more than 70 sacks of pirated discs which are openly sold in public.

The group also had to open several stalls which were closed down when they arrived at the establishments and they even discovered discs which were kept in cabinets and covered with clothes.

In April this year, the same establishments were again visited by the authorities and confiscated P 12 M worth of pirated discs including a duplicating machine used in creating discs. Most of the pirated discs are local and international movies and TV programs, music and music videos, computer games, softwares and installers.

After the raid last week, the NBI and OMB decided to ask the city council to pass a local ordinance that will complement Republic Act No. 9239 or the OMB Law and will penalize owners of buildings and establishment renting out the stalls to people selling and producing illegal and pirated discs.

Thru this move, the city would be helping a lot in the fight against piracy in the city and the country as well.

Ricketts said that they have raided these establishments for four times already and they have had dialogue with the vendors renting the stalls and every time they are being raided they say that they will not be selling pirated discs but still they are doing it.

This time they will be taking action by preventing sellers of pirated discs to rent spaces in any area of the city particularly establishments with in the central business district.

The OMB noted that the city of Baguio became one of the producers and sellers of pirated discs since it is the summer capital of the country and tourists are also cos-tumer of these discs./ JDP/RC- PIA CAR

Mayor Says Good Revenue Will Move City Forward

BAGUIO CITY - Mayor Mauricio Domogan laid down plans for the city's priority direction for the next three years to the city's department heads and administrative officers during the Strategic Performance Management System (SPMS) orientation workshop here.

Domogan said, 'the main priority of the city which it cannot do away with is its revenue.'

'We cannot do a lot of things if we do not have funding, we have to make good in our performance in the revenue programs of the city government,' he said.

The mayor also pointed out the need for the updating of the city's old ordinances to cope up with the present situation. We have to update and look into our old ordinances like the appraisal values of real properties, he said pointing out the long period in which the city was not able to upgrade the same.

Domogan also tackled on the upgrading of fees collected for sewerage and garbage. He said, 'the city has been collecting twenty pesos a month per household which is already too low.' 'We only collected 18 million for garbage fees in 2012 and yet we are spending more than 100 million for garbage,' he said. 'There is a lot of challenge that something must be done,' he said.

Domogan is also pushing for the modernization of the different offices in city hall to be at par with other cities.

'It's about time that we have to computerize the Assessor's Office, the Licensing Office, the Treasury Office and the Accounting Office as a starting point, it must be done, he stressed.

Domogan said, 'If the city has good revenue then it can address social concerns administered by the Social Department like senior citizens, livelihood, youth, values formation and others.'

'The peace and order program of the city government is anchored on how much we can continue to augment the budget of the national government for the BCPO to implement a good peace and order program for the city, he said.

Domogan also said, 'the Health Services Office reported a tremendous increase in dengue cases compared to last year, again we have to increase the amount we should use to address this problem.'

'The tourism programs of the city government rely on how much we can collect to really run an investment program for our city, he said.

Finally, the mayor hopes that he can accomplish a lot in improving the revenue programs of the city for the three year period. 'We are happy to say the report from our business taxes, the City Treasury Office has already exceeded its revenue estimate for 2013 to the tune of 43 Million,' Domogan said.

Domogan said, 'the city's revenue estimate for 2013 is 182 Million and last week, it has already collected 228 Million.'/paul rillorta

Balance from significance

The Moro Islamic Liberation Front and the Philippine government signed a wealth-sharing formula Saturday. It's another step towards turning swords, in a rebellion that killed and maimed thousands and stalled Mindanao's promise as an island of bounty, into plough-shares. That made the morning papers.

The Supreme Court shredded Eduardo Cojuangco's claim to more slabs of the coconut levy. Government will sell P14 billion worth of stocks and create a trust fund for coconut farmers. "What does it profit a man if he grabs the levy but in the end have the poor piss on his grave?" That hit the evening newscasts.

These reports can obscure other significant accounts that make for balance. Read the United Nations speech delivered last week by a 16-year-old girl who was shot in the head by the Taliban for promoting education for girls.

On Oct. 9, 2012, a Taliban gunman hit Malala Yousafzai as she rode on a school bus, after taking an exam in Pakistan's Swat Valley. Two other students were wounded. Ehsanullah Ehsan, Pakistani Taliban spokesman, claimed responsibility for the attack.

EDITORIAL

Yousafzai "is the symbol of the infidels," he said, adding that if she survived, the Taliban would target her again. Since the Malala ambush, the Taliban has attacked more than 800 schools.

"They thought that the bullets would silence us," Malala told young leaders from 100 countries at the UN Youth Assembly last week. "But they failed.... And out of that silence came thousands of voices (seeking) to live in peace, to be treated with dignity... to be educated.

"Nothing changed in my life except this: Weakness, fear and hopelessness died. Strength, power and courage (were) born. I am the same Malala. My ambitions are the same. My hopes are the same. My dreams are the same."

"By targeting Malala, extremists showed what they feared the most: a girl with a book," UN Secretary General Ban Ki-moon told the youth assembly. "Malala is calling on us to keep our promises—invest in young people and put education first."

"She has inspired many millions of people, particularly young people. This world is very young. More than half the global population is young people under the age of 25.... Still, 57 million young people are out of school. When it comes to secondary education, more than 100 million people are out of school. This is not acceptable," Ban Ki-moon added.

This year's "Children Battling To Go To School" report found that nine out of 10 kids don't get a primary school education. They live in low and lower-middle income countries. Girls make up 55 percent of the total. They're often the victims of rape and other sexual violence. "Armed conflict continues to destroy schools and also the hopes of a whole generation of children."

(President Aquino has proposed, in his 2013 budget, that the allocation for education be jacked up 22 percent—from P238.8 billion to P292.7 billion. This could scrub all resource gaps—classrooms, teachers, textbooks and other facilities by next year, the President anticipates. The proposed education budget is the highest allocation given to a government department.)

"Malala Day is not my day," the 16-year-old schoolgirl told the jam-packed UN Assembly Hall. "Today is the day of every woman, every boy and every girl who have raised their voice for their rights.

"Thousands have been killed by the terrorists and millions have been injured. I am just one of them.... I speak not for myself, but so those without a voice can be heard for their rights to live in peace, to be treated with dignity, to be educated.

"(I do) not seek personal revenge, I am here to speak for the right of education for every child (including) the sons and daughters of the Taliban and all terrorists.... This is the compassion I (learned) from Mohammed, Jesus Christ and Lord Buddha. This the legacy of change I inherited from Martin Luther King, Nelson Mandela and Mohammed Ali Jinnah.

"This is the philosophy of nonviolence that I have learned from Gandhi... Mother Teresa. And this is the forgiveness that I learned from my father and mother. This is what my soul is telling me: Be peaceful and love everyone.... We realize the importance of light when we see darkness. We realize the importance of our voice when we are silenced....

"The extremists are afraid of books and pens. The power of education frightens them. They are afraid of women. The power of the voice of women frightens them.

"Why are the Taliban against education?" a boy in our school was asked by a journalist. He answered very simply by pointing to his book, saying: 'A Talib doesn't know what is written inside this book.'

"They think that God is a tiny, little conservative being who would point guns at people's heads just for going to school. These terrorists are misusing the name of Islam for their own personal benefit....

"We call upon all governments to ensure free, compulsory education all over the world for every child. We call upon all to support the expansion of education opportunities for girls. We cannot all succeed when half of us are held back... We must not forget that millions are suffering from poverty, injustice and ignorance. We must not ignore the millions of children who are out of schools. They wait for a bright, peaceful future.

"No one can stop us. We will speak up for our rights and we will bring change with our voice. We believe in the power and the strength of our words. Our words can change the whole world because we are all together....

"To struggle against illiteracy, poverty and terrorism, let us pick up our books and our pens. They are the most powerful weapons. One child, one teacher, one book and one pen can change the world. Education first."/E-mail: juan_mercado77@yahoo.com

ADVOCACY MINDANOW

IN DEFENSE OF RODY DUTERTE

BY: JESUS DUREZA

The accusation by Palace spokesperson ABIGAIL VALTE that the "shoot-to-kill" order of Davao Mayor Rody "Digong" Duterte is 'ILLEGAL' is a knee-jerk, irresponsible statement coming from one whom we expect should be more circumspect, her words being presumed to be those of the Philippine president. Her statement was published on Page 2 of the Manila Bulletin, of yesterday's Sunday issue captioned "DUTERTE'S ORDER IS ILLEGAL — PALACE."

I have listened closely in many instances when "DIGONG" would spew "fire" and expletives when making public statements. I have always noticed that he makes his statements, although at times bordering on the unconventional, closely hueing within the bounds of law. Case in point: when he makes statements about shooting to kill the criminals, he carefully prefaces his words by saying to the effect that they should be shot if they fight back. Or resist. Or words to that effect.

Don't be overwhelmed by his bluster and "f—king" language. Don't misread him. Go listen closely to his spoken words. He's more astute than you think.

I have known him for a long time. He knows his law. He was one of the city prosecutors in Davao. And was doing a regular radio program on legal aid and legal information in the Cebuano dialect with our Integrated Bar group as a public service program when I was IBP head in Davao.

DESERVE TO DIE — Yes, criminals who will shoot it out with the police are not safe in Davao City. That botched ransom payment where a kidnapped Manila matron was rescued with the death of 3 suspects is a recent example of this. Those armed and prepared to shoot it out with the authorities put their own lives on the line. Physical extinction can be the logical next step. If the suspects are armed to the teeth and are dangerous, policemen are not supposed to wait for the hoods to open fire first before they are mowed down. They deserve to BE SHOT at the first instance. If they die in the process, then so be it.

MURDER? — But wait! Those physically neutralized, like wounded suspects or surrendering need not be shot to finish them off. That's plain and simple murder.

This seems to be the reason why Human Rights Commissioner Etta Rosales, while watching a video of the "high noon shooting" in the Allied Bank incident, exclaimed: "THAT'S MURDER". The rules of engagement require that those wounded or effectively neutralized or surrendering (with his hands up) should be handled accordingly. And not finished off with a "coup de grace." I am not yet sure what actually happened. I have not seen the footage. So I reserve comments on this for the moment.

SUMMARY EXECUTION — In the same vein, I worry with the resurgence lately of gang-land type of killings. We should not always rejoice if some known criminal is summarily shot and killed, as many seem to now relish and welcome. Only after legal processes are observed should one be made to pay for his crimes. Not by summary executions by some motor-cycle riding, hooded hoods who "play god"!

Lest we all forget, let's apply the rules to others what we want to be applied to us. Meaning, suspects and criminals, even the self-confessed ones, like you and me have rights too. Many of us may be fascinated by summary killings because they bring swift justice. But what if we are the ones on the receiving end? Shall we allow others to do this same swift-justice treatment to us, our relatives or friends and those close to us? I doubt it! Let all, abiding and non-abiding citizens, equally go by the same rules. That's what democracy is all about.

SONA – Kelangan Pa Ba ? - Ayon sa Wikipedia and depinisyon ng sona ay – “The State of the Nation Address (SONA); Filipino: Talumpati sa Kalagayan ng Bansa) is an annual address by the President of the Republic of the Philippines to a joint session of the Congress of the Philippines. It is mandated by the 1987 Constitution, and must be delivered every fourth Monday of July at the Plenary Hall of the Batasan Pambansa Complex in Batasan Hills, Quezon City, Metro Manila.” Ang tanong ko ngayon ay kelangan pa ba magsagawa ng sona ang ating pangulo? Alam ba ninyo na ayon sa ipinabalita ng kongreso este kongreso ay dalawang milyong piso o Two Million Pesos and siyang gagastusin para lang maganap ang sona. Wala pa dito ang matinding gastusin sa pag dedeploy na limang libo o Five Thousand na pulis papunta sa Batasan Pambansa kung saan magaganap ang sona. Ano ba talaga ang maidudulot na kabutihan, o ginhawa para sa masa ang mapupulot sa pagsasalita ng pangulo sa isang sona? Makakain ba ng maraming nagugutom na ating mga kababayan ang tamis ng mga pangako ni PENOY? Sa aking palagay, dala ng ating matinding teknolohiya o technological advancements ay hindi na kailanag mag sona na personal ang pangulo. Kung gusto niya ireport sa mamamayan ang diumano ay mga accomplishments ng kanyang administrasyon, maaari naman na I video na lang niya ito at isulat ng kanyang mga manunulat at kung sino ang gusto manood ay panoorin o basahin na lang nila ang nilalaman ng kanyang sona. Base sa akin mga nakaraang obserbasyon sa mga nakaraan mga sona ng mga presidente ay pueros EX-AGGERATION or blown out of proportion at kung SELF AGGRANDIZEMENT lamang. Kung ilan ang makatutuhanan na report ay hindi natin alam. Ang mali sa pagsasagawa ng isang sona ay yun tindi at laki na inuukol at mistulang pag aaksay ng government resources na tunay naman na taxpayers money para lamang sa isang hapon ng pabongahan ng mga sikat na Senatong, Tongresmen at mga polpolitiko na ubod ang walang mga kahiya-hiya sa halip na alam nila na napakarami sa mamamayang Pilipino ay mahirap pa sa daga. Kaya sa aking katanungan kung kelangan pa ba ng sona, ang sagot ko ay isang matinding hindig-hindi na dapat magsagawa ng sona sa pangunahing dahilan saying ang pera and other resources used for this useless spectacle at ang pangalawang dahilan ay hindi na kailangan ng maraming mga mamamayang Pilipino na mahihirap pa sa daga ang pantasya at pueros mga pangako. Kung sabihin sa ingles ay it “JUST ADS INSULT TO INJURY”!

Korapsyon- Laganap ba at Mas Matindi!?!?! – Ayon sa Transparency International na isang foreign group na siyang nagsisiyasat at nagsasagawa ng pag-aaral sa tindi ng korapsyon sa ibat ibang bansa ay talamak at laganap pa rin ang korapsyon sa ating bansa at ang mga kapulisan (PNP) daw ang isa sa pinaka korap na organisasyon. Sa aking pananaw ay hindi na natin kailangan pa ang opinyon oh isang pagaaral ng isang banyagang grupo para sabihin at ipaalam sa atin na mistulang ubod ang korap ng mga sistema sa ating bayan. Tanungin nyo lamang si Juan De La Cruz, o maki pag transak lang kayo sa ibat ibang ahensya ng gobyerno at inyong makikita kung gaano ka –korap ang marami sa mga pinuno at taohan ng mga opisang ito. KAKAMPI MO ANG BATAS

BY: BATAS MAURICIO

LIFE'S INSPIRATIONS: “...and when you and your children return to the Lord your God and obey him with all your heart and with all your soul... then the Lord your God will restore your fortunes, and have compassion on you and gather you again from all the nations where he scattered you...” (Deuteronomy 30:2-3, the Holy Bible).

LESSONS IN GLEE STAR'S DEATH: How come a rich, famous, and talented young man like “Glee” star Keith Monteith still found the urge or the desire to imbibe heroin and alcohol? Was wealth, fame, and talent not enough entertainment or reward on their own so that it was necessary for Monteith and, I am sure, for a lot of other youngsters out there in the world, to indulge in deadly vices which, as in his case, can only lead to early death?

There must be something wrong somewhere here. I thought that when one already has everything in life, he would do everything to preserve that life and the abundance that comes with it. Why would people still desire to do things that are clearly dangerous and deadly and would be contrary to the principle of self-preservation?

It must be their upbringing. I am sure that these people were not trained in the way that children should go, and were not brought up in the training and instruction of the Lord our God. I am sure they grew up without the Word of God and, therefore, without God at all. As it were, they grew up separated from God, and grew up with God's enemy instead, the devil, making them capable of doing despicable and devilish acts.

GROWING UP WITH GOD BRINGS STABILITY: How then can parents assure themselves that their children would be trained in the way that they should go, so that even when they grow older, they will never depart from it? How can children be raised in the training and instruction of the Lord, so that they will be growing up with God, not with His enemy, and therefore enjoy His divine protection, direction and benedictions all their lives?

Proverbs 22:6 of the Holy Bible gives us the initial advice. It says: “Train the child in the way that he should go, and he will never depart from it even when he grows old.” Then, Ephesians 6:4 of the same Bible tells us: “... bring them (our children) up in the training and instruction of the Lord...”

In Deuteronomy 6:4-5 and 7, “training and instruction of the Lord” is defined in the following manner: “Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one. Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength... Impress them on your children. Talk about them when you sit at home and when you walk along the road, when you lie down and when you get up...”

9165 (The Comprehensive Dangerous Drugs Act of 2002), specifically illegal sale of Dangerous Drugs, will be filed in court against Nider.

This is actually the fifth time that Nider was apprehended. He was first collared with one Jimmy Tong y Belen for Violations of Sections 5 (Sale of Dangerous Drugs) and 11 (Possession of Dangerous Drugs) of RA 9165 on April 15, 2003 at Quirino Highway (formerly Naguilian Rd.), Baguio City by members of the Criminal Investigation & Detection Group - CAR. The duo was nabbed with .06 gram of shabu. Sadly, they were acquitted of the criminal cases filed against them at the Baguio City Drug Court on May 10, 2005.

On August 21, 2005, or a little over three months after his acquittal, Nider was again arrested for drug law violations at San Carlos Heights, Irisan, Baguio City. He was busted then with another cohort, a certain Dolores Dakin, by PDEA - CAR's anti-drug operatives, where nearly half a gram of shabu was confiscated from them. Unfortunately, the cases against the two were dismissed at the prosecution level on September 27, 2005.

Nearly two years later, on March 6, 2007, Nider was apprehended once more at Camelia Alley, QM, Baguio City by law enforcers of PDEA - CAR. He was then with another cohort named as Renato Busoy y Esquerdo. Nearly a gram of shabu was seized from the duo. A case for Violations of Section 11, Section 12 (Possession of Paraphernalia for Dangerous Drugs) and Section 15 (Use of Dangerous Drugs) of RA 9165 was successfully filed in court. Yet again, the respondents were acquitted on January 8, 2008.

More than a year and two months later in a buy-bust operation by PDEA - CAR drug law enforcement officers, on March 24, 2009, Nider and half-Dutch cohort, Frits Besselink y Batnag, were collared with five sachets of shabu at Rimando Rd., ABCR (Andres Bonifacio-Caguioa-Rimando), Baguio City. But both accused were acquitted of their grave offenses on January 10, 2011.

Allan Nider's older brother, Arthur, who had led the Nider Drug Group, was cornered at Irisan, Baguio City on November 12, 2012 by PDEA - CAR's drug law enforcement agents, ending the drug dealings top dog's haunting of the City of Baguio with his notoriety, especially on illegal drugs, villainies and womanizing, for more or less 30, long years.

Meanwhile, Allan's nephew, Joel Nider y De Dios, also a regional top priority target, was nabbed by PDEA - CAR agents last June 12 after he and a cohort-lover sold .05 gram of shabu at City Camp Alley, City Camp Proper, Baguio City.

Joel's dad, Albert, another older brother of Allan, was arrested in 1997 during the time of the Philippine National Police Narcotics Group and consequently convicted under the old drug law, RA 6425 (The Dangerous Drugs Act of 1972). After meeting his brief term in Muntinlupa, he came back home right away to Baguio City and resumed his illegal drug business until his death in 2012.

Just like Albert, his brothers, Arthur and Allan, and his son, Joel, had been in the drug target list, and regarded as repeat offender, hardened drug personalities./ Emely Fama (PDEA-CAR) aged grandchild ELIZA was watching from the top floor of the Ateneo when the shooting was taking place down below at the CM Recto Street fronting the Allied Bank. She observed that while people near the area scamped away when the shooting erupted, many people also from the outer perimeter were seen rushing towards the scene to see what was happening. There were more rushing towards than those fleeing from the venue. Kibitzers are aplenty everywhere, unmindful of the dangers. Most often, their presence muddles up the police operations resulting to the escape of the suspects. We never learn!

CALL FROM FVR — I was pleasantly surprised to get a call from former President FIDEL 'FVR' RAMOS a few days ago after he read my article entitled 'PHILS vs. CHINA? CRAZY!' He offered a formula. He said all the countries, the Philippines and China included, must come together and organize a multi-lateral group to form a maritime coalition. No, not to fight against each other. But to unite and fight together in a big war against a common enemy of mankind: poverty, global warming, terrorism, etc.

Indeed, why can't we shift the discourse from territorial claims to joint ventures? Or joint utilization?

FVR is still in his elements! Never too old! We should all listen to him.

'BING' GANCHERO, whose passion is "development". The author, PAUL COLLIER (who also wrote "The Bottom Billion" which is all about the global poor) tells all on "why we must — and how we can — manage nature for global prosperity". Yes, indeed. Earth has so much resources for mankind. It's a pity there is no equitable and sustainable use and sharing of these God-given blessings. Thus, we still have the bottom billion of poor people who need deliverance.

NOT SAFE ? — If you are neither an American nor a Canadian, nor an Australian for that matter, you need not worry about the travel advisories their respective embassies issued against travels in some parts of Mindanao. Fact is, those advisories are ONLY FOR THEIR OWN CITIZENS. So, no worries for you and me.

But I have met this Canadian friend who insisted to me that he is ALWAYS SAFE in Mindanao. Why so? "Because I use condoms," he said with a big laugh. (oooops! hahaha!)

OCD-CAR Launches Regional Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Plan

BAGUIO CITY - The Office of Civil Defense Cordillera Regional Office (OCD-CAR) officially launched the Regional Disaster Risk Reduction and Management (DRRM) Plan 2013 - 2016, in line with the observance of National Disaster Consciousness Month (NDCM).

Conceptualized and recently approved by the Cordillera Regional DRRM Council (CRDRRMC), the said Regional DRRM Plan 2013-2016 adopts the theme, "Enhancing Disaster Resilience Through Partnership".

OCD Regional Director Andrew Alex Uy, in an interview, disclosed that the Cordillera Regional DRRM Plan contains the direction and strategies in disaster risk reduction and management focused on four thematic areas, which are mitigation and prevention, preparedness, response, and rehabilitation and recovery.

It also contains the region's situationer or Cordillera's risk profile including those of the six provinces namely Abra, Apayao, Benguet, Ifugao, Mountain Province and Kalinga, and Baguio City. It also features the profile of the CRDRRMC including its vision and mission and goals and objectives and projects, programs and activities, the challenges and gaps in DRRM, among others.

The plan is in line with the council's vision of a safer, adaptive and resilient community, as a key element for sustainable development in the region, according to Uy.

"The Regional DRRM Plan also aims to be a tool to further enhance the progress that the Cordilleras has already attained", added Uy who also chairs the CRDRRMC.

The launching of the Cordillera DRRM Plan was held yesterday at the Juan De Luna Drive of Burnham Park, simultaneous with the City Government of Baguio- led NDCM activities in commemoration of the July 16, 1990 killer earthquake that devastated the city.

As OCD is still in the process of publishing the plan, soft copy or e-copy (electronic copy) in 50 USBs were distributed during the launching.

Uy also distributed similar USBs to the officials and members of the Cordillera Association of Regional Executives during their annual general assembly which was also held yesterday at the Baguio Country Club./JDP/CCD and Jamene Terceño
