

Introducing the new Rochesterbridge website

The new website can be found at <http://www.rochestermnbridge.net> Navigation of the site should be fairly straightforward and the features self-explanatory. Take a look. Please help improve this site by sending your questions, comments, or suggestions to Nate Pike at nhpike@gmail.com . The main feature of the new site can be found by clicking on Calendar & Results.

When you click on Calendar & Results you will see a calendar appear. If results are available for a given event you will see the underlined word Results printed beneath it. Click on Results and you will see a page that looks similar to the one below. There are many features available, but a few notable ones are these:

1. If you want to see a report that will look very similar to what you have been seeing on the rochesterbridge.net website for the past several years click on the word ACBLmerge.
2. If you click on Hand Records you will see a page of hand records identical to the ones that are handed out after games at the club.
3. As you click on the wording by arrow #3 you can toggle back and forth between a Legacy Display and a New Display. The New Display includes ETF (or "extra trick factor" -- see arrow #4) which shows the number of tricks taken by N/S compared to the theoretical maximum number of tricks available (double dummy). Results are shown for N/S; for the E/W perspective flip the sign from + to -. There is more on ETF at the end of this document.

The New Display also includes a Replay button (see arrow #5) which will take you to a BridgeSolver page where you can replay the hand card by card with information showing the maximum number of tricks available at each step of the play. Be patient. The BridgeSolver page is sometimes a little slow to load.

Both the Legacy Display and the New Display have the option (see arrow #6) to switch between combining both directions in a single listing or separating them in the more traditional manner.

BridgeResults is a product of a third-party software provider that is capable of handling all our club's scoring data and calendar needs. The site is extremely rich in content. Users are discovering new features every day that they didn't even know were there. There are presently 32 ACBL clubs, Units, and Districts that use BridgeResults. Many of the Unit and District sites contain information for multiple tournaments. There are at least 76 more clubs in the US that use software that is so closely related to BridgeResults that their members would hardly notice the change if they moved to BridgeResults. The list of current users is mostly in the Southwest. If you go to Florida this winter or to a club that does not use BridgeResults show the club manager there our website.

Bridge Solver

To play the hand click on the Play button (see arrow #1) then,

Click on a contract, even a contract that has no number in it (see arrow #2)

The small numbers that appear in the corner of each card indicate the maximum number of tricks that the leader's side will be able to take if that card is led.

If you would like information on how to use this feature when not connected to the internet, contact Nate Pike @ nhpike@gmail.com .

The screenshot shows the Bridge Solver Online interface. On the left, the optimum contract is EW 4Hx; +100. The hand layout is as follows:

♠	K 9 8 7
♥	J 4 3
♦	A Q J 6
♠	J 10 6 3 2
♥	9 7 6
♣	Q 8 6
♠	A 5
♥	A Q 10 8 5 2
♣	A J 10 9
♠	Q 4
♥	K
♦	K 10 8 7 4 2
♣	5 3 2

Below the hand layout is a trick-taking table:

	♠	♥	♦	♣	NT
N	4	-	-	-	1
S	4	-	-	-	1
E	2	3	1	-	-
W	-	1	-	-	-

At the bottom of the interface are buttons for 'Edit', 'Play', 'Options', 'Help', and 'Analyse'. A red arrow labeled '1' points to the 'Play' button, and another red arrow labeled '2' points to the '3' in the E row of the table.

The Calendar

There are several features of the calendar that are worth exploring. If you hover your mouse pointer over an event and the event becomes underlined, you can click and get further information for that event.

If you move the calendar to October you will see two tournaments with icons next to them. If you click on the icon it will take you to another webpage with additional information about the tournament. In most cases it will link to a page on the ACBL website that will have general information about the tournament. These ACBL pages usually have a link to a flyer for the tournament, and after the tournament is complete, a link to the results.

The BridgeResults Homepage

When you click on Other Bridge Sites on the rochestertermnbridge.net homepage a list of other Bridge related websites will appear, including one that says BridgeResults homepage. There are many features available from the BridgeResults homepage; here are a few:

1. Click on the down-arrow and get a list of all the clubs that currently use BridgeResults. Scroll through it and select the club whose results you want to view. Then click on #2 View Calendar and Results. If you select our club this will take you to the same place you get to when you select Calendar & Results from the rochestertermnbridge.net homepage. Just for fun sometime, click on the View Calendar and Results button here while it says All Clubs in the box.
2. View Calendar & Results button – as explained above.
3. Type a player's name in the box (I suggest Wijdicks) and click on Search. You will get a display of all the games that player has played this year at any of the clubs/units/districts that post their results to BridgeResults.
4. Click on Login. Sign up for a personal account. It's free. And you can cancel if you don't like it. It opens the door to some very interesting features, such as:
  - if you Login before you View Results, your own information will be highlighted in the reports
  - tracking your results at all of the BridgeResults clubs where you play
  - automatic notification of your friends' results when they play at a tournament or at a different club
  - graph your results from every game you played this year
  - have your results automatically emailed to you; or get a text message on your smartphone when your results are ready

By the way, if you do sign up, you will be asked for your email address and a password. It is not asking for your email password. It is asking you to set up a new password strictly for the use of the BridgeResults site.

Tips for navigating the Rochestermnbridge.net website

Some people have mentioned that they like the feature of having their personal results highlighted when they look at results, but if they click on Calendar&Results on the rochestermnbridge.net home page they are not yet logged in and don't see the highlighting.

There are 3 ways to go with this (they all assume you have already gone in to BridgeResults in a prior session and set up your own "account" by registering as an individual – how you do this is covered in the User's Guide)

1. When you register for the personal results feature of BridgeResults put a check in the box next to "receive a notification email when results for your games are posted"

The email you receive will contain links that you can click on which will take you directly to the results, and your personal results will be highlighted

When you click on the results link you will get another page; click the Results tab on that page, and then click in the Game column for the game you want to see

2. From the rochestermnbridge.net home page Click on Calendar&Results

Click on the BridgeResults logo in either corner of the calendar page

This will take you to the BridgeResults home page

In the upper right hand corner of the screen Click on Login/Register

After logging in, select My Results

When you click on My Results you will get another page; click the Results tab on that page, and then click in the Game column for the game you want to see

3. From the rochestermnbridge.net homepage, Click on Other Bridge Sites, from there Click on BridgeResults home page

In the upper right hand corner of the screen Click on Login/Register

After logging in, select My Results

When you click on My Results you will get another page; click the Results tab on that page, and then click in the Game column for the game you want to see

Want to scroll through the hands, instead of clicking them one-by-one?

Next to the bar that has all the numbers of the boards listed, there is a + sign (see arrow #1 below)

Click on it

You will then see all of the hands on one age and can scroll through them
