

Meg Staunton

Vice President

20 years in Executive Search

Areas of Expertise:

CEO, General Management
Digital, Marketing, Specialty Retail,
E-commerce, Fashion

Her Practice: Meg focuses her executive search practice on c-level functional leaders and senior general managers for clients across the retail, wholesale, consumer products, and hospitality sectors. She has extensive experience working with publicly traded, private equity, venture capital-backed, and founder-owned brands to recruit executives for critical leadership positions.

Her Background: Upon graduation from Connecticut College, Meg joined the Macy's executive training program, rising through the ranks with increasing roles of responsibility. In 1990, she founded a custom-fit swimwear retail business using cutting-edge technology to assist clients in visualizing fabrics, styles and customizations. Her industry expertise in both department store retail and in this entrepreneurial venture caught the eye of Korn/Ferry International who recruited her to work in their growing retail practice.

Meg originally joined Herbert Mines Associates in 2005, spending three years as a Senior Associate. After several years leading a new entrepreneurial venture, Meg rejoined the firm in early 2013, providing industry knowledge and recruiting expertise to her clients.

Meg lives in Connecticut with her husband and their three sons.
