Put up of parking facility a priority - Domogan

BAGUIO CITY - Mayor Mauricio G. Domogan underscored that one of the priority projects of the local government is to put up a multi-level parking structure in the vacant lot near the Baguio fire department to accommodate the rapidly increasing number of government-owned and private vehicles parked around the city hall which contributes in the worsening traffic congestions around the seat of government.

The local chief executive pointed out the need to use the savings for the partial rehabilitation of the city-owned Baguio Convention Center to fund the construction of the proposed 8-storey multi-level parking building as the parking area for government vehicles and cars of people transacting business with the different offices of the local government.

Baguio improves competitiveness ranking Kaltimex willing to comply with Asin rehab contract

BAGUIO CITY – The city is slowly climbing up the success ladder of the National Competitiveness Council (NCC) after it rose to 11th place among highly urbanized cities and 13th overall among all cities in the country.

Mayor Mauricio G. Domogan said the latest ranking of local governments in terms of competitiveness released by the NCC is a welcome development on the part of city officials but there is still a need to further improve the city's performance in some important indicators.

Last year, Baguio City placed 14th among the 33 highly urbanized cities and 15th among all the 142 cities that were assessed for their competitiveness in terms of economic dynamism, local governance and infrastructure development.

"We are elated that our efforts to sustain our competitiveness in terms of the prescribed criteria is gaining ground as the city continues to improve its ranking. However, we should not be complacent in the present situation where we are in because we still need to do a lot of improvement in many aspects of the criteria," Domogan stressed.

Baguio bested other bigger highly urbanized cities like Muntinlupa and Cebu based on the results of the latest competitiveness ranking released by the NCC last week.

Domogan underscored the local government needs to further improve its standing on governance through the enactment of the necessary legislations that will update the city's outdated policies.

Further, he added in terms of economic dynamism, the city must already update its 21-year old schedule of market values and 16-year old revenue code to improve and maximize the generation of more resources that could be used by the local government in funding the implementation of more development projects and enhancing the delivery of basic services to the people.

In terms of infrastructure development, he noted the need for the local government to improve its performance in the implementation of the projects that were provided the funding from the city's local development fund and other sources of fund considering the low performance of the city in the implementation of programmed projects aside from the backlog from the previous budgets.

He ordered concerned offices of the local government to look into the unimplemented projects and the reasons behind the delay in the prosecution of the projects so that appropriate solutions could be adopted to make sure that the delayed projects will be implemented to be utilized by the prospective beneficiaries, especially those from the city's 128 barangays.

He expressed confidence that Baguio City will be able to further improve its competitiveness ranking and will be at par with much bigger and larger highly urbanized cities once concerned offices will be able to continue putting things in their proper perspective to ensure the effective and efficient delivery of services to the people coupled with the sustained implementation of more development projects that will cater to the rapid growth in the city's population. / By Dexter A. Baguio not a marijuana producer – Domogan persons which identified Baguio city as a marijuana producer, saying that the said report was unfounded, unfair and without concrete basis.

BAGUIO CITY – Mayor Mauricio G. Domogan criticized the report of the Philippine Drug Enforcement Agency (PDEA) central office that was presented during the monthly meeting of the Luzon Regional Development Council (RDC) chair-

The local chief executive said he was surprised to learn from the report that Baguio City is a producer of marijuana that prompted him to question the source of the report considering that the city was never a producer of the illegal hemp because of its limited area coupled with its growing population.

"We were forced to question the basis of the PDEA central office report

BAGUIO CITY – The winning contractor of the rehabilitation and operation of the city-owned Asin mini-hydro power plants assured city officials that the company will faithfully comply with its contractual obligations pursuant to a signed memorandum of agreement.

In his letter to Mayor Mauricio G. Domogan, Rodrigo Cabrera, senior consultant of Kaltimex Energy Philippines, said one of the indicators of their commitment to comply with their contractual obligations is the recent submission of their 6-month action plan which is now a work in progress.

However, the company explained that on the issue of the rental, particularly for the first year, he pointed that the rental for the first year should not be due until and after the prescribed conditions shall have been met.

Benguet but it was never a producer, thus, we advised the PDEA personnel to correct the matter to avoid a negative perception that will be impressed upon the public by the unfounded report," Domogan stressed.

He claimed in fairness to Benguet, marijuana is grown in the hinterlands of the province, particularly in the remote villages of Kibungan, Kapangan and Bakun and not the whole 13 towns that is why it will be again unfair if we generalize that marijuana is produced in Benguet.

Further, he added marijuana is also grown in the tri-boundaries of Benguet, La Union and Ilocos Sur and the tri-boundaries of Ifugao, Benguet and Mountain Province aside from the fact that the illegal hemp is also grown in the hinterlands of Tuguegarao, Kalinga.

According to him, marijuana can never be produced in the city

Among the conditions being requested by the company include the fact that the Asin hydro plant facilities shall have been completely and peacefully transferred to Kaltimex and that all the permits, water rights, right of way and such other requisites shall have been obtained and secured from both the national government and the local governments concerned and that the facilities are fully operational.

Kaltimex already coordinated with the City Mayor's Office for a joint inspection of all the facilities and eventual transfer of possession of the city-owned power plants to the operator.

Cabrera explained the joint inspection though remains a work in progress pending completion of due diligence equipment testing at the site which the company projected to happen only by late September given a minimum two weeks process from mobilization, hence, possession of the facilities at site has not also been effected.

He added the company has also been working on the issuance of the required permits, particularly from the energy department as the operating contract was granted to the Aboitiz-owned Hydroelectric Development Corporation (HEDCOR) which is still live in the eyes of the said department.

The Kaltimex officials claimed when the issue was clarified with the renewable energy management bureau middle part of this year, it was stated that the developer has no standing yet vis-à-vis the energy department while the HEDCOR matter continues to remain unresolved and to date, the energy department has not ruled upon the can - Cont. on page 5 because of its limited area which makes it easy to detect marijuana plantations by the residents themselves because most of the alienable and disposable lands have already been occupied by the increasing number of people flocking to the city which is the education and trade and commerce center in the north.

Domogan underscored in fairness to the concerned provincial and municipal officials of the areas where marijuana is being cultivated, efforts have been done by the concerned agencies and local governments to curb the proliferation of marijuana in their areas of jurisdiction.

Aside from marijuana, he also explained Baguio has always been a transshipment of shabu from the lowlands to the different parts of the region through the years that is why the city has never been a producer of illegal drugs as depicted by the questionable report.

Domogan also questioned the facts of the PDEA report that was presented to them, thus, the need for the agency to closely coordinate with their counterparts from the Philippine National Police (PNP) to correct the facts and figures of their report before the sensitive matter will be presented to the public so as not to create a negative impression of the city.

He asserted the PDEA report, if not corrected by the agency concerned, will definitely elicit a negative response not only from the city officials but also the residents because they could attest to the fact that the city was never a producer of the illegal hemp but it has always been a transshipment area for both marijuana from the highlands to the lowlands and shabu from the lowlands to the different parts of the region. /By Dexter A. Understanding sought in postponed BIBAK demolition BAGUIO CITY – Mayor Mauricio Domogan urged the public for understanding on the resetting to a later date the supposed demolition of the illegal structures that were erected over portions of the 5,000-square meter Benguet-Ifugao-Bontoc-Apayao-Kalinga (BIBAK) property along Harrison Road because of certain intervening issues that cropped up during the course of the planning and mobilization of the members of the demolition team.

The local chief executive admitted the repeated resetting of the scheduled dismantling of the illegal structures in the said property has definitely affected his credibility in the enforcement of the issued demolition orders plus the fact that the informal settlers are reportedly given special treatment considering the failure of the illegal structures to be removed so that the area will be used for its prescribed purpose.

However, he pointed out that the decision to reset the scheduled demolition last August 15, 2017 to October 15, 2017 was a collective decision of the local government and officials of the Cordillera offices of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) and the National Commission on Indigenous Peoples (NCIP) following the persistent lobbying of the representatives of the Presidential Commission on Urban Poor (PCUP) who committed to the inter-agency committee that the informal settlers will definitely leave the property.

“We appeal to the public to understand our decision to reset the schedule of the demolition of the illegal BIBAK structures because we have to consider various factors that affect the implementation of the issued demolition order. What is important is that we have agreed on the definite date of the demolition of the illegal structures and it was made clear to the informal settlers that they will voluntarily remove their structures on or before October 15,” Domogan stressed.

After the illegal structures shall have been dismantled, he pointed out that the property must be fenced and for representatives from the local government and concerned government agencies to work out the preparation of the master development plan for the property to include the put up of the dormitories to cater to the lodging requirements of poor but deserving students from the different

Domogan: Cordillera cannot exist as a federal state

BAGUIO CITY – Mayor Mauricio G. Domogan admitted that the Cordillera cannot exist as an independent federal state based on the concept of federalism, thus, the practical means available for the region to be intact once the planned shift to federal form of government will be realized is through the realization of the renewed quest for regional autonomy.

The local chief executive revealed that based on the actual collections of taxes of the Cordillera office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR-CAR) last year, the 80 percent share of the region is not even sufficient to sustain the operation of the federal state aside from the share that will be provided to the national government among other unsettled obligations.

In 2016, BIR-CAR was able to collect more than P5.2 billion in taxes regionwide with 80 percent of the taxes generated in Baguio City alone, thus, if the federal state will retain the 80 percent of the taxes, then it will only have around P3.9 billion only which will not be even enough to sustain the operation of the federal government apart from the share of the region in the payment of the country's domestic and foreign debts and the share of the federal government which is mandated to be submitted to the national coffers.

In the autonomous set up, Domogan explained the regional autonomous government will be entitled to the funding requirements from the national government aside from the share of the local governments and the regional government from the subsidy to be provided by the national government to the tune of P75 billion for the first ten years of its existence and the over P28 billion allocation of the regional line agencies annually which will be solely spent in the region.

Further, he pointed out the Cordillera will be in a better position to be intact as one once it will be able to achieve autonomy before the realization of the government's move to change the form of government to federal through the amendment of the pertinent provisions of the 1987 Constitution and that an autonomous region can legally exist within a federal state and that the State Constitution will be mandated to recognize the existence of the autonomous region without diminution of its rights and privileges.

Domogan claimed the Cordillera will be beaten up by the larger provinces in the Northern Luzon federal state like Pangasinan, La Union, Ilocos Sur, Ilocos Norte, Cagayan, Isabela among others which actually have bigger population and land area, thus, Cordillerans will have no chance at all to be given the representations to whatever elective positions that will be made available in the federal state.

According to him, Cordillerans already experience discrimination when the different cities and provinces were part of Regions I and II, thus, the only chance for the region to be intact and survive as one will be the realization of the establishment of the autonomous region wherein Cordillerans will have the chance to independently government themselves and maximize the utilization of its rich resources for the development of remote villages and spur economic growth in the future.

He added that the best chance for the Cordillera to achieve autonomy is during the present administration because of the support shown by no less than President Rodrigo Duterte to the region's renewed quest for autonomy wherein his certification is being awaited to make the proposed autonomy bill as an urgent administration measure. /By Dexter A. SSS assures better services

BAGUIO CITY - Social Security System President and CEO Emmanuel Dooc and Chairman Dean Mark Valdez assure the delivery of better services to members and additional benefits for SSS pensioners.

In a press conference here last August 18, Dooc assured that initiatives and reforms are already being implemented to ensure better benefits for active members and meaningful and adequate pension for retired members.

Valdez explained that SSS is seriously going after employers or companies who are not remitting their counterpart in members' contribution and cases are already being filed. He also assured that SSS is working on its system to ensure real time payment of benefits and delivery of services to members.

For pensioners, SSS already delivered half (P1,000) of the P2,000 additional pension that President Rodrigo Duterte promised. Valdez said with this, the minimum pension that a pensioner gets is now P2,200 from P1,200.

SSS still needs to work on funding the other P1,000 additional pension since giving the initial P1,000 increase already decreased the actuarial life of SSS from 2042 to 2032, according to Dooc.

Though with the initiative and reforms they are working on which include ensuring better collection and investment plan as well as for Congress' approval to amend the SSS charter, they can deliver the remaining P1,000 additional pension for retired members as well as on increasing the actuarial life of SSS up to 2049, he added.

On the increase in membership contribution, Dooc explained that this is long overdue to ensure the social protection of both members and pensioners. He assured that the increase will be gradual.

At present, a member's contribution is 11 percent of his salary and SSS plans to increase it to 17 percent though an annual increase of 1.5 percent spread in four years.

With the economic gains of the present administration plus the continuing initiatives such as the tax reform, SSS members will not be burdened by the gradual increase that will eventually benefit members and pensioners, Dooc said. /PIA CAR

Family member to replace deceased local legislator

BAGUIO CITY August 24 – Mayor Mauricio G. Domogan announced that a family member of the influential Ortega clan in La Union will replace the late Councilor Roberto Ortega who earlier succumbed to a lingering illness.

The local chief executive admitted he already met with the two brothers of the late local legislator and it was conveyed to him that the Ortega clan will be united in recommending one of their clan members to replace the deceased councillor and who will serve his unexpired term.

However, he said it was impressed upon the two Ortega clan members that the recommended replacement of the late councillor should be qualified under the existing guidelines in the replacement of elected officials who fail to complete their term of office due to death, incapacity to perform their assigned duties and responsibilities among others.

Domogan explained once that the recommended replacement will be proven to be qualified under the rules, the United Nationalist Alliance (UNA) will in turn recommend to President Rodrigo R. Duterte his appointment as a City Councilor and to serve the unexpired term of the deceased councillor.

Under existing rules and regulations, the political party that caused the vacancy in the local legislative body will be the one that will recommend to the President the appointment of the replacement of his or her successor to serve the unexpired term of the one that caused the vacancy.

The Baguio chapter of UNA will be meeting next week to finalize the recommendation of Francisco Pacy Ortega VI to replace the late Councilor Roberto Ortega and to serve his unexpired term.

The late Councilor Ortega served as chief of police of the Baguio city Police Office (BCPO) in the late 1980s and was instrumental in achieving a zero crime rate in the city during his term. He also served as a member of the local legislative body from 1995 to 2001 and from 2013 up to 2017 before he succumbed to a lingering illness at the age of 78.

PNP, PAO agree: Kian kneeling when killed

This comes while the Philippine National Police found only 2 bullets, while the Public Attorney's Office found 3 entering Kian delos Santos' body

ANTI-DRUG TEAM. Cops in Kian delos Santos' killing face senators./hoto by Angie de Silva/Rappler

MANILA – Kian delos Santos was shot kneeling down, the Philippine National Police (PNP) confirmed Thursday, August 24.

"The position of the victim, he was kneeling down. He was kneeling face down when he was shot," Jocelyn Cruz of the Northern Police Crime Lab told senators during the probe of the boy's slay.

With this information, Senator Bam Aquino asked PNP chief Director General Ronald dela Rosa whether there is a scenario where a suspect shot in a vulnerable position can be "justified."

Dela Rosa said he couldn't imagine a scenario. "Hindi ko ma-justify, your honor, kung nakaluhod (I can't justify it, your honor, if he was shot kneeling down)," he told the senator. "Kung nakaluhod 'yan si Kian, at nakatalikod tapos babarilin mo, eh kriminal ka, murderer ka, hindi ka law enforcer (If Kian was kneeling and you shoot him, you're already a criminal, a murderer, not a law enforcer.)"

The findings presented by the PNP's Cruz matched that of the Public Attorney's Office (PAO), which concluded that Delos Santos was shot "nakaluhod tapos nasubsob" (while kneeling then fell forward).

Aside from the position before the kill, they agreed that two bullets entered the left side of his head and exited to the right, and that he was shot from at least two feet away.

A glaring contradiction can be found between their accounts, however, as the PNP did not find a bullet that hit Delos Santos' back, claiming his torso was "malinis (clean)" when they did the post-embalming autopsy.

Senators also later found that the ballistics reports pointed to PO3 Arnel Oares killing Delos Santos, confirming the police report./ Rambo Talabong /Rappler.com

Is there a Filipino in whom the Spirit dwells?

BY: ATTY. BATAS MAURICIO

LIFE'S INSPIRATIONS: "... The LORD is a God who avenges. O God who avenges, shine forth. Rise up, Judge of the earth; pay back to the proud what they deserve. How long, LORD, will the wicked, how long will the wicked be jubilant?..." (Psalm 94:1-3, the Holy Bible).

REVAMP AT CUSTOMS WILL MEAN NOTHING: When will Filipinos ever learn? Yes, this question is worth repeating over and over again, in view of mounting calls once more for the "total and complete revamp or overhaul" of the Bureau of Customs after Commissioner Nick Faeldon was sacked by President Duterte the other day in connection with the P6.4 billion shabu smuggling at the Bureau.

I mean, no amount of "total and complete revamp or overhaul" of the Bureau of Customs, or any other government agency for that matter, in the sense of replacing all its officials from top to bottom at anyone given time, can really stop corruption or stealing of government funds.

What is needed for this revamp and overhaul to truly succeed in eradicating wrongdoing at the Bureau and in all other government agencies is the installation of officials and employees who have the Spirit of God in them. Unless and until people who truly fear and love God are the ones appointed or elected in government, there will be no end to plunder, corruption, and a host of other misdeeds hereabouts.

CHANGE PEOPLE'S MINDS FIRST BEFORE TRUE CHANGE CAN COME:

This is what this column had been harping on for quite some time now. I am of the view that the criminal mind among many government officials and employees today, which causes stealing, misappropriating, and plundering among them, has to be changed radically and transformed into a mind controlled by the Spirit of God.

A mind that is controlled by the Spirit of God will not lie, cheat, or steal, as cadets at the Philippine Military Academy are told repeatedly. A mind controlled by the Spirit of God will possess a healthy fear and love of God, one that will endeavor to love God with all that person's heart, mind, and strength.

It will also be a mind that will compel the person to love his fellowmen as he loves himself. Indeed, a person who has fear and love of God will obey His commands, particularly the commands against stealing anything belonging to another, or coveting the spouse or ox.

IS THERE A FILIPINO IN WHOM THE SPIRIT OF GOD DWELLS? The question here is, is there a person in whom the Spirit of God dwells? In answering this, we have to realize that the Spirit of God will dwell only with people who know His Word, the Bible, study it day and night, and carefully obey every command that is contained therein.

The problem with many Filipinos now is that, many of us no longer listen to God's Word, and no longer obey His commands. Many of us no longer read the Bible, nor take time out to study it, much less to obey and fulfill what it ordains, not understanding that God's curses come to us if we don't do these things truthfully.

So, is it right to think that there is no longer any solution to corruption and plunder in our country? Yes, there is no longer any, if we rely merely on the officials we have now. However, there is nothing impossible with God. What we should do now is that, we must strengthen our faith by reading and obeying the Bible as sincerely as we can. God will provide a solution afterwards.

Soldier shot by police unlikely to be suffering from stress: Padilla:

MANILA – The military is not inclined to believe that one of its Marawi veterans, shot by the police in Aurora, Zamboanga del Sur, was suffering from combat stress, Army spokesperson Brig. Gen. Restituto Padilla said late Thursday.

He said that is very unlikely as the companions of Pfc. Rudillo Bartolome in the 53rd Infantry Battalion saw nothing strange in his behavior that would indicate that he is suffering from combat stress before he left camp. Padilla added that, if it was he, it would have been impossible for Bartolome to commute and reach home.

The trooper was shot dead by police officers after he allegedly pulled his .45-caliber pistol when accosted by the law enforcers Wednesday.

Joint military and police investigations are ongoing. Bartolome was given an overnight pass by his superiors to visit his family in Midsalip, Zamboanga del Sur. He had been deployed to help neutralize the Maute Group terrorists following the May 23 rampage in Marawi City. (PNA)

FBI- Face Book Intelligence (fuck off Federal Bureau of Investigation, welcome Facebook Intelligence) - I have said this so many times in the past. A lot of our PNP do not even have an iota on the dynamics of intelligence. Can you imagine the latest joker, who even had the temerity and stupidity to state before a public senate hearing that the basis or part of the basis for their intelligence with respect to the Kian's murder, coming from no less than the head of the Caloocan PNP when he said that their basis on the drug linkages of Kian are the netizens reports at Facebook or FB (note that these are even social media posts after the incident)!

The Death That Opened Every Juan's Eye

BY: CLYDE B. SACPA

Today is the burial of the teenager who became the victim of this war that is ravaging our community. Though his death is one of the saddest and cruelest event that will haunt our history forever, it had also brought so much light to the abuse of power that the men in uniform is doing. This incident has proven what we always knew about human behavior; "absolute power, corrupts even the very best of men among us.

I am often wondering on the standard operating procedure of the police, is it really necessary to shoot and kill the suspect or do they have a choice to shoot to maim instead? Taking for granted that if the person fought back, once hit by a bullet, for sure they'll think twice of continuing to fight back. That is human instinct for self preservation it is imprinted in our DNA. With all these evidence piling up, it is also imperative to ask how many of those drug related death is a legit operation and how many is a result of summary execution?

Who is to blame in this situation? Do we blame the drug Lord who is never satisfied with what he has? Do we blame the millions of people who are tired of being victimized by drugged people that they don't really care if a drug addict is executed? Do we blame the Police who got tired of arresting people that is later freed due to the limitations of laws that we have? Do we blame the president for saying words he ought not to say and in a way giving the green light to the police to do such thing in fighting criminality?

Well the thing is, all is to blame for the loss of so many lives in this fight against criminality. It always goes back to the Filipinos self-discipline, If we put our personal agenda before anything else then chaos is going to ensue and the worst is, it will cause death.

Kian's life has ended here, abruptly and tragically. But for us it will continue, and if we will not help in changing this system we will witness more death or the worst we will be one of the many deaths. We must in our ways contribute in changing our community's mindset and in changing our corrupt system. We have done it so many times, we must start doing it again and must continue doing it 'till we achieve the change we are dreaming of.

He stipulated that the first year rental was based on the assumption that the hydro plant facilities were fully operational six months after the confirmation of the agreement by the council but unfortunately, 2 years had lapsed from the time of the signing of the agreement to its actual confirmation, thus, the company has yet to conduct a joint inspection whether the facilities are still functional or not.

that were allocated for the repair of the Baguio Convention Center to build the multi-level parking facility near the Baguio fire department because the public works department committed to shoulder the programmed repair and rehabilitation of the city-owned facility," Domogan stressed.

He explained the proposed structure will serve as the parking area of all government vehicles to free the city hall premises so that private vehicle owners could park their cars in available parking slots to allow them to freely transact business with the different offices.

According to him, the local government is trying its best to look for suitable areas where multi-level parking structures could be constructed to help decongest the city's streets and contribute to reducing unnecessary factors that constrict the smooth flow of traffic around the city.

He explained the local government is circumspect in identifying the suitable areas where to build multi-level parking facilities around the central business district and it has been already clear that the Ganza area and the former site of the old city auditorium are two sites that had been identified to accommodate multi-level parking facilities to help decongest the city's roads from parked vehicles.

Under the plan for the Ganza multi-level parking structure, the rooftop will serve as a production area for flowers and other plants for the green garden while the rooftop of the old city orchidarium parking structure has been proposed to accommodate a number of business and other recreation facilities to help make the facility viable for interested proponents.

He admitted pay-parking is actually not a lucrative business, thus, there is a need to incorporate other income-generating activities in the pay parking structure once it will be done through a private-public partnership (PPP) to attract interested investors to partner with the local government for the realization of the said endeavour.

He stated the local government is always open to suggestions on how to address the city's parking problems and it has considered the same in the planning and conceptualization of the put up of the needed multi-level parking structures either through PPP or whatever available local funds to help address the rapidly increasing need of the city for available parking areas for motor vehicles. /By Dexter A. parts of the region who opt to study in the city.

According to him, PCUP representatives assured the members of the inter-agency committee that the informal settlers will definitely leave the property once the requisites of their identified relocation site in La Trinidad town shall have been completed and the property will be ready to accommodate the structures of the informal settlers which will be built in the said area.

He claimed the PCUP representatives were even requesting for a longer period for the informal settlers to stay in the BIBAK property while negotiations with the owner of their relocation site are being undertaken but it was the consensus of the committee to give them only two months considering that the demolition had been rescheduled several times over the past several years.

Under their agreement, illegal structures that remain in the BIBAK property after the October 15, 2017 deadline will be dismantled by the members of the city demolition team while business activities of the informal settlers in the area should immediately stop. /By Dexter A. See

Review of night market relocation plan eyed

BAGUIO CITY – Mayor Mauricio G. Domogan urged the City Engineering Office to review the detailed plan that it earlier prepared for the improvement of the perimeter of Melvin Jones grandstand that will serve as the permanent relocation site of the famous night market that is currently being held along the 500-meter stretch of Harrison road.

The local chief executive said there is a need for the concerned office to review the detailed plan to reduce the huge project cost so that the funds for the purpose could be sourced out from the available funds of the city to pursue the proposed relocation of the site of the night market from Harrison Road to the perimeter of the Melvin Jones football ground.

“Melvin Jones will remain as a football field but its perimeter will serve as the relocation site of the night market vendors to free Harrison road from the nightly congestions due to the huge crowd that patronize the products sold by thousands of vendors in the temporary night market area,” Domogan stressed.

He explained that the only improvement to be done in the perimeter of Melvin Jones is to put up a concrete walkway with sufficient lighting fixtures to make the area suitable for the conduct of night market.

According to him, the perimeter of Melvin Jones can accommodate a larger number of vendors who will be pursuing their lucrative trade and that more people will be accommodated and can freely move around the area because of the sufficient spaces to be provided for them to go around to look for items to purchase from the vendors.

Aside from being a major tourist attraction in the city, the night market is providing a sustainable source of livelihood for over a thousand vendors and generate additional income for the local government with lesser investment on infrastructure.

Based on data obtained from the City Treasury Office, the night market is generating some P1.2 to P1.4 million in fees paid by the night market vendors monthly which is considered as one of the city's major income generators.

More than 1,000 night market vendors conduct their trade in the night market area along Harrison road that serve as their major source of income for their families.

The local government strengthened the conduct of the night market to serve as the alternative vending area of ambulant vendors who were displaced because of the city's unrelenting and uncompromising anti-peddling campaign not only in the city public market but also along major roads, parks and public places in the different parts of the city.

The various sections of the public market and numerous roads and parks were freed from the proliferation of ambulant vendors over the past several years following the strict enforcement of the anti-peddling policy that resulted in the opening up of sidewalks to pedestrian traffic.

Domogan said that the final plan to be presented by the City Engineering Office will serve as the basis for the local government in allocating the required funds to implement the project and effect the transfer of the night market vendors to the perimeter of Melvin Jones football field. /By Dexter A.
