

THE PIRATE FROG AND OTHER TALES

---

Verse By
W·A·FRISBIE

Pictures By
BART

Authors of The Bandit Mouse

Lettering and Color Plates
BY FRED · R · BARTHOLOMEW

---

Chicago and New York
RAND, McNALLY & COMPANY
Publishers

---

The Project Gutenberg eBook of The Pirate Frog, and Other Tales

This ebook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg License included with this ebook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

Title: The Pirate Frog, and Other Tales

Author: W. A. Frisbie

Illustrator: Charles Lewis Bartholomew

Fred. R. Bartholomew

Release date: January 21, 2021 [eBook #64360]

Language: English

*** START OF THE PROJECT GUTENBERG EBOOK THE PIRATE FROG, AND OTHER TALES ***

E-text prepared by Charlene Taylor and the Online Distributed Proofreading Team
(<https://www.pgdp.net>)
from page images generously made available by Internet Archive
(<https://archive.org>)

Note: Images of the original pages are available through Internet Archive.
See <https://archive.org/details/piratefrogothert00fris>

Transcriber's Note: The Library of Congress page images of this book (<https://www.loc.gov/item/01023025/>) appear to be out of order. The individual poems have been put back together for this e-book but as the pages aren't numbered, without access to a physical copy it is not possible to tell whether the sequence of poems is in the right order.

---

THE PIRATE FROG AND OTHER TALES

Verse By
W · A · FRISBIE

Pictures By
BART

Authors of The Bandit Mouse

Lettering and Color Plates
BY FRED · R · BARTHOLOMEW

Chicago and New York
RAND, McNALLY & COMPANY
Publishers

---

A Fore Word:

This book is no arithmetic

To vex the mind of youth;
Its pages may, perhaps, appear
To be devoid of truth.
But by these tales the young who learn
To recognize a lie,
To that extent will know the truth,
And profit much thereby.

Copyright, 1901, by Rand, McNally & Co., Chicago.

---

This Book is dedicated to
MAE HARRIS ANSON
EDITOR OF THE MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL JUNIOR whose object is to amuse and educate children

THE PIRATE FROG.

THE PIRATE FROG.

Some boys whose names I do not know,
Went out to sail their boat one day:
Fast to her stern they tied a line
So she could not sail far away
But little did those boys suspect
That, just beyond a floating log,
With all his trusty followers,
There lay in wait the Pirate Frog.

Some boys whose names I do not know,

Went out to sail their boat one day:
Fast to her stern they tied a line
So she could not sail far away
But little did those boys suspect
That, just beyond a floating log,
With all his trusty followers,
There lay in wait the Pirate Frog.

On came the ship; out sprang the frogs -
A desperate, determined crew.
They climbed aboard with reckless speed
And each one found his work to do.
One cut the line, one raised the flag,
The captain seized the helm to steer;
And thus, on peaceful Plunkett's Pond,
Began the Pirate Frog's career.

On came the ship; out sprang the frogs—
A desperate, determined crew.
They climbed aboard with reckless speed
And each one found his work to do.
One cut the line, one raised the flag,
The captain seized the helm to steer;

And thus, on peaceful Plunkett's Pond,
Began the Pirate Frog's career.

Upon the shore of Plunkett's Pond
Three turtles basked beneath the sun;
'Twas afternoon, the spot was warm,
And they were dozing every one.
Their eyes were closed, they did not see
Around the point a sail appear,
Nor did they know, until too late,
The dreaded Pirate Frog was near.

Upon the shore of Plunkett's Pond
Three turtles basked beneath the sun;
'Twas afternoon, the spot was warm,

And they were dozing every one.
Their eyes were closed, they did not see
Around the point a sail appear,
Nor did they know, until too late,
The dreaded Pirate Frog was near.

The pirate crew made haste to land:
They ran to where the turtles lay,
Turned all three quickly on their backs,
Then, hoisting sail, sped fast away.
For hours the turtles strained and scratched
To turn themselves, but all in vain,
Till Mrs. Muskrat came that way
And set them right side up again.

The pirate crew made haste to land:
    They ran to where the turtles lay,
Turned all three quickly on their backs,
    Then, hoisting sail, sped fast away.
For hours the turtles strained and scratched
    To turn themselves, but all in vain,
Till Mrs. Muskrat came that way
    And set them right side up again.

As out of Turtle Bay he sailed,
The Pirate Frog the waters scanned,
And soon he steered his stolen ship
To catch some ducklings far from land.
Around the downy neck of one
A lasso made of cord he cast,
And, though the victim struggled hard,
The cord was strong; the knot held fast.

As out of Turtle Bay he sailed,
The Pirate Frog the waters scanned,
And soon he steered his stolen ship
To catch some ducklings far from land.
Around the downy neck of one
A lasso made of cord he cast,

And, though the victim struggled hard,
The cord was strong; the knot held fast.

The other ducklings hurried home,
When this unequal fight began:
All breathlessly they told the news
To Uncle Peter Pelican.
He hurried out across the pond,
And first he cut the duckling's cord;
Which gave the frightened pirates time
To dive to safety overboard.

The other ducklings hurried home,
When this unequal fight began:
All breathlessly they told the news

To Uncle Peter Pelican.
He hurried out across the pond,
And first he cut the duckling's cord;
Which gave the frightened pirates time
To dive to safety overboard.

Far up the shores of Plunkett's Pond,
    Within a deep and marshy bay,
Amid the rustling rushes green,
    The muskrats' cozy village lay.
Now, when the older rats were gone,
    The little ratlings had no fear;
'Twould have been different had they known
    The dreaded Pirate Frog was near.

But soon the pirates' flag was seen -
The town was taken by surprise.
One baby rat was caught and bound
And dragged on ship despite his cries.
But soon his bonds were gnawed apart
And he for safety scaled the mast,
His weight aloft o'erset the ship
And he laughed best for he laughed last.

But soon the pirates' flag was seen—
The town was taken by surprise.
One baby rat was caught and bound
And dragged on ship despite his cries.
But soon his bonds were gnawed apart
And he for safety scaled the mast,

His weight aloft o'erset the ship
And he laughed best for he laughed last.

'Twas in July; the sun was hot,
The pond was smooth, the air was still.
The Pirate's vessel lay becalmed
Without a breeze the sail to fill;
But soon a plan had been devised
To move the ship without a sail:
A diving frog took down a line
And tied it 'round a bull-head's tail.

'Twas in July; the sun was hot,
The pond was smooth, the air was still.
The Pirate's vessel lay becalmed

Without a breeze the sail to fill;
But soon a plan had been devised
To move the ship without a sail:
A diving frog took down a line
And tied it 'round a bull-head's tail.

The big fish felt a gentle tug,
Then saw the line and jumped with fright.
He tried in vain to shake it off,
And swam away with all his might.
This way and that, at race-horse speed,
He crossed the pond from side to side,
But where he went the ship went, too,
And all the frogs enjoyed the ride.

The big fish felt a gentle tug,
    Then saw the line and jumped with fright.
He tried in vain to shake it off,
    And swam away with all his might.
This way and that, at race-horse speed,
    He crossed the pond from side to side,
But where he went the ship went, too,
    And all the frogs enjoyed the ride.

For weeks the wicked Pirate Frog
Had filled the water folk with fright;
They hid themselves throughout the day,
While few dared venture out at night.
Had he not grown too rash and bold
They might be living that way still;
But his career closed when he tried
To stop the busy water mill.

For weeks the wicked Pirate Frog
Had filled the water folk with fright;
They hid themselves throughout the day,
While few dared venture out at night.
Had he not grown too rash and bold
They might be living that way still;

But his career closed when he tried
To stop the busy water mill.

He planned to drive his stolen ship
Against the wheel and tie it fast.
Nor did he think, on starting out,

That this exploit would be his last.
Too late he saw his grave mistake,
He tried in vain to reach the shore—
The pirates' ship was ground to bits,
And Plunkett's Pond knew them no more.

---

Old Daddy Longlegs sat him down
And wept in deepest woe.
“Alas!” he cried, “The summer’s gone
“And soon will come the snow.
“My children beg for warmer clothes,
“But yet I must refuse
“For each one has so many feet
“I can’t buy overshoes.”

---

THE HUNGRY PUPIL

To the Jungle kindergarten,

Mrs. Tiger brought her child:
He was small and roly-poly,
    He was also meek and mild.
Telling him to mind the teacher,
Not to pull his playmates hair
    And learn his lessons quickly.
    Then his mother left him there.

When she called for him at noon time,
He was sitting all alone
With a smile of satisfaction,
Gnawing at an ostrich bone.
All the ground was strewn with feathers
Well picked bones and bits of fur;
But the pupils all were missing.
Don't you wonder where they were?

When she called for him at noon time,
He was sitting all alone
With a smile of satisfaction,
Gnawing at an ostrich bone.
All the ground was strewn with feathers
Well picked bones and bits of fur;

But the pupils all were missing.
Don't you wonder where they were?

---

Her little son came wriggling up
To grave old mother Eel;

“Oh mother dear”, he said with tears
    “Such awful pains I feel.
“The doctor says he greatly fears
    “For small-pox I am slated;
“But yet I have no arms or legs,
    “And can’t be vaccinated.”

---

The Snapping Turtle's daughter
In dress displayed good taste;
But, when she tried a belt on,
She found she had no waist.

---

The jolly Rough Riders of wash day
Sat jauntily out on the line
Not a man was afraid
For 'twas but dress parade
And their showing was certainly fine.

The jolly Rough Riders of wash day
Sat jauntily out on the line
Not a man was afraid
For 'twas but dress parade
And their showing was certainly fine.

But when from their homes in the tree-tops
The enemy sailed through the air
And with coarse, muddy feet
Soiled each garment and sheet
The Riders could do naught but stare.

But when from their homes in the tree-tops
The enemy sailed through the air
And with coarse, muddy feet
Soiled each garment and sheet
The Riders could do naught but stare.

---

A crocodile made up his mind
That he'd be clean and neat;
On land he walked upon his toes,
So's not to soil his feet:
But, when he came to brush his teeth,
He found to his dismay,
They were so numerous that he
Was busy all the day.

A crocodile made up his mind
That he'd be clean and neat;
On land he walked upon his toes,
So's not to soil his feet;
But, when he came to brush his teeth,
He found to his dismay,

They were so numerous that he
Was busy all the day.

---

Jane Jenkens liked to look her best—
Though not too proud a girl—

She “did” her hair with strips of tin
To make it kink and curl.
She twisted it too tight by far
And found, to her surprise,
That, though she tried her very best,
She couldn’t close her eyes.

---

A FIRE IN FROGTOWN

One sultry night in Frogtown

The muskrats' house caught fire;
The muskrats, with their babies,
Rushed out in scant attire.

Then all the Frogtown firemen,
In startled haste arose,

And ran to put the fire out
With dandelion hose.

---

THE PORCUPINE'S DILEMMA

THE PORCUPINE'S DILEMMA

A porcupine once played at golf
And wore a sweater red.
"I notice all the swells dress so
"And so will I", he said.

A porcupine once played at golf

And wore a sweater red.
“I notice all the swells dress so.
“And so will I”, he said.

But when he found his stylish clothes
Were far too warm for golf,

His sharp quills held that sweater fast
He couldn't get it off.

---

A monkey, sitting on a tree
Above a shady pool,

Looked down and saw a crocodile
    Within the water cool.
The crocodile looked up and said,
    “Come down my friend and swim.”
Intending, when the monkey came,
    To make a meal of him.

The monkey knew this was his plan
    But leaped as if to dive.
The crocodile spread wide his jaws
    To catch his meal alive;
But he was disappointed much
    To see his sharp game fail
For, as he leaped, the monkey caught
    And hung there by his tail.

The monkey knew this was his plan
But leaped as if to dive.
The crocodile spread wide his jaws
To catch his meal alive;
But he was disappointed much
To see his sharp game fail
For, as he leaped, the monkey caught
And hung there by his tail.

---

One beast there is which should be shunned
By little girls and boys ;
That is the cross Whine-os-ce-ros,
Which makes an awful noise.

One beast there is which should be shunned
By little girls and boys;
That is the cross Whine-os-ce-ros,
Which makes an awful noise.

For if they see this animal
And do not run away,
They imitate its shrill, harsh voice
And whine the livelong day.

For if they see this animal
And do not run away,
They imitate its shrill, harsh voice
And whine the livelong day.

---

Seein' Large

Seein' Large

A frog who wore new spectacles
Observed a common fly;
"What monster can this be?" he said,
"That comes before my eye?"

A frog who wore new spectacles

Observed a common fly;
“What monster can this be?” he said,
“That comes before my eye?”

But when the fly was quickly caught,
And on the frog's inside,

He felt so empty that he knew
His glasses magnified.

---

A turtle had a big bass-drum
On which he used to play;

His comrades didn't like the noise,
And so they ran away.
He played till he was all tired out,
Then all his friends returned
And smashed that drum to kindling wood,
Which they piled up and burned.

---

When Robert Pip put out to sea,
His ship was strong and new;
He was the captain proud and bold,
He also was the crew.
And he could reef and splice and clew
And yaw and luff and steer.
For food he carried chocolate drops;
His drink was ginger beer.

When Robert Pip put out to sea,
His ship was strong and new;
He was the captain proud and bold,
He also was the crew.
And he could reef and splice and clew
And yaw and luff and steer.

For food he carried chocolate drops;
His drink was ginger beer.

The course as steered by Captain Pip
Was sou' sou' west by east;
And he had sailed upon his way
For forty days at least,
When up there came a tidal wave
And, with a rush and roar,
Picked up his ship and landed it
Fast on a foreign shore.

The course as steered by Captain Pip
Was sou' sou' west by east;
And he had sailed upon his way

For forty days at least,
When up there came a tidal wave
And, with a rush and roar,
Picked up his ship and landed it
Fast on a foreign shore.

When Robert Pip's ill fated ship
    Was landed high and dry
Upon a flat and unknown shore,
    The shades of night were nigh:
So down he lay to take his rest
    Upon the vessel's deck,
Observing that his food and drink
    Were safe, despite the wreck.

The sun was up when he awoke
And, on a hillock near,
He saw a group of monkey folk
Who showed no signs of fear.
They seemed polite, well bred and kind—
He wished to make them friends
And, by the means of chocolate drops,
He soon had gained his ends.

The sun was up when he awoke
And, on a hillock near,
He saw a group of monkey folk
Who showed no signs of fear.
They seemed polite, well bred and kind—
He wished to make them friends

And, by the means of chocolate drops,
He soon had gained his ends.

The monkeys met by Captain Pip
Were all one family,
Who, near the place where he was wrecked,

Dwelt in a banyan tree.
They took him to their lofty home
And urged that he should stay;
And he consented, for he knew
He could not sail away.

Within a week he learned their ways
    And spoke their language, too;
He climbed with ease the tallest trees
    Where dates and cocoas grew.
The father monkey and his wife
    Rejoiced in children three—
Strong Reginald and Rufus, sons,
    A daughter named Marie.

With Rufus and with Reginald,
Bob Pip went out one day
To find a place for golfing grounds
And teach his friends to play.
For clubs they used the bamboo sprouts,
In near-by jungles found;
For balls they plucked young coconuts,
Green, hard and small and round.

With Rufus and with Reginald,
Bob Pip went out one day
To find a place for golfing grounds
And teach his friends to play.
For clubs they used the bamboo sprouts,
In near-by jungles found;

For balls they plucked young cocoanuts,
Green, hard and small and round.

The monkey boys soon learned the game
And, with the greatest ease,
Could drive the ball from hole to hole,

O'er brooks and rocks and trees,
They swung their clubs with hand or foot,
Or tail—'twas all the same.
And soon they beat the Captain
At this ancient, royal game.

Within the chest of Captain Pip
    A bag of marbles lay;
He fished them out one afternoon
    And taught his friends to play.
They played the game of “little-ring”
    Upon the hard beach near
Until there came a sad mishap
    As you shall straightway hear.

For, as Marie was standing by,
There rolled close to her feet
A china "shooter" that indeed
Looked good enough to eat.
She snatched it up to swallow it;
It caught—she choked—turned pale.

To save her life they hung her up
By her prehensile tail.

Upon a sunny stretch of sand
That lay beside the sea,
The father monkey went to stroll

And with him went Marie.
She, running on ahead of him,
Cried out: "For goodness sake:
"Oh, father dear, come quickly here
"And kill this horrid snake."

He quickly grasped a driftwood club
    And reached his daughter's side;
But when he saw that serpent strange,
    He, too, was terrified.
He shook with fright, but soon he found
    That what had made him quail,
Was Rufus buried in the sand—
    All hid except his tail.

Now Captain Pip so longed for home,
He sought his stranded boat,
New rigging here, some patches there
He thought would make her float.
His mind was speedily made up,
His new idea was tried,
And soon his ship, all staunch again,
Rode proudly on the tide.

Now Captain Pip so longed for home,
He sought his stranded boat.
New rigging here, some patches there
He thought would make her float.
His mind was speedily made up;
His new idea was tried,

And soon his ship, all staunch again,
Rode proudly on the tide.

His monkey friends wept bitterly
At losing Captain Pip,
Till finally Marie ran home

To pack her little grip;
And when she said, "I'm going, too."
They all made haste to pack:
Then boarded ship and sailed away,
Nor to that isle came back.

---

There was an old school teacher bear
Whom a fever had robbed of his hair;
And the thought of his loss
Made him peevish and cross
To the cubs who were under his care.

There was an old school teacher bear
Whom a fever had robbed of his hair;
    And the thought of his loss
    Made him peevish and cross
To the cubs who were under his care.

So they bought him a bottle or two
Of a medicine famous and new;
    Then his hair grew so fast,
    That the old bear at last
Had to braid it all up in a queue.

So they bought him a bottle or two
Of a medicine famous and new;
    Then his hair grew so fast,
    That the old bear at last
Had to braid it all up in a queue.

---

Small Wee-Wip was an Indian
Who, in a wigwam warm,
Dwelt snugly all the winter through
Quite safe from frost and storm.
But he had heard of Santa Claus
And so, when Christmas came,
He hung his deerskin moccasins
Upon the wigwam frame.

Small Wee-Wip was an Indian
    Who, in a wigwam warm,
Dwelt snugly all the winter through
    Quite safe from frost and storm.
But he had heard of Santa Claus
    And so, when Christmas came,
He hung his deerskin moccasins
    Upon the wigwam frame.

And sure enough, the good, old saint
That night came jingling by;
And, as he passed, the moccasins
Caught his observing eye.
But wigwams have no chimneys tall
Through which old Kriss can drop,
So Wee-Wip's Christmas gifts were left
Upon the wigwam top.

And sure enough, the good, old saint
That night came jingling by;
And, as he passed, the moccasins
Caught his observing eye.
But wigwams have no chimneys tall
Through which old Kriss can drop,

So Wee-Wip's Christmas gifts were left
Upon the wigwam top.

---

Young Billy Hedgehog wished a nap;
He found an easy chair

And, snugly curling up in it,
He soon forgot all care.

Grave old Judge Bruin wished to read,
For books were to his taste;
In that same chair he sat him down
But rose again in haste.

Grave old Judge Bruin wished to read,
For books were to his taste;
In that same chair he sat him down

But rose again in haste.

---

A little girl Mermaid sat down by the sea,
And mournful, dejected and tearful was she;
She wanted a shirtwaist all ironed stiff and nice,
But the ocean would take out the starch in a trice.

A little girl Mermaid sat down by the sea,
And mournful, dejected and tearful was she;
She wanted a shirtwaist all ironed stiff and nice,

But the ocean would take out the starch in a trice.

And she wanted blue shoes, for she thought them "so sweet,"
So she sobbed out afresh for she saw she'd no feet.
And she wept, and she wailed, and she sobbed, and she sighed,
Till her tears added salt to the salty sea's tide.

The little girl Mermaid dove down in the sea,
The crabs and the lobster folk hailed her with glee;
The squids, shrimps and starfish stood up in a row,
To welcome her back to her home down below.

The little girl Mermaid dove down in the sea,
The crabs and the lobster folk hailed her with glee;
The squids, shrimps and starfish stood up in a row,
To welcome her back to her home down below.

Behind her sea-horses she went for a ride
Where brilliant, hued ocean plants swayed in the tide.
'Twas pleasant indeed, and she thought with regret
That once she had wished to live out of the wet.

Behind her sea-horses she went for a ride
Where brilliant hued ocean plants swayed in the tide.
'Twas pleasant indeed, and she thought with regret
That once she had wished to live out of the wet.

The little girl Mermaid once bade her friends all
To come to a beautiful fancy dress ball.
The Fiddler Crabs fiddled for waltzes and reels
Which were gracefully danced by Squids, Lobsters and Eels.

The little girl Mermaid once bade her friends all
To come to a beautiful fancy dress ball.
The Fiddler Crabs fiddled for waltzes and reels
Which were gracefully danced by Squids, Lobsters and Eels.

The Flounders were awkward; they floundered about
Till Swordfish policemen escorted them out.
But with this exception, the ball had no flaw
And the Sawfish declared 'twas the best he e'er saw.

---

The Proud Wishbone

The Proud Wishbone

The wishbone was a haughty thing
And high he held his head;
The Wing twins were but "common trash,"
And Drumsticks too, he said.
"It's just as plain as anything
That this is so," quoth he,
"For there are two of each of them
But only one of Me."

The wishbone was a haughty thing

And high he held his head;
The Wing twins were but “common trash,”
And Drumsticks too, he said.
“It’s just as plain as anything
“That this is so,” quoth he,
“For there are two of each of them
“But only one of Me.”

And when two children at the feast
Each for the wishbone cried
The Wishbone said "I told you so"
And oh, he swelled with pride.
They took him each one by a foot
As children often do,
Then each one gave a sudden tug
And broke him right in two.

And when two children at the feast
Each for the wishbone cried
The Wishbone said "I told you so"
And oh, he swelled with pride.
They took him each one by a foot
As children often do,

Then each one gave a sudden tug
And broke him right in two.

---

There was a dancing camel with a desert caravan;
His driver was a busy and an un-esthetic man,

Who made the camel work all day and gave him ne'er a chance
To lay his heavy load aside and do a fancy dance.

But when they reached a city and heard street musicians play,
The camel danced a step or two while jogging on his way,
And quickly people thronged about to wonder and to stare,

While the driver passed the hat and made his fortune then and there.

---

Young George Augustus William Bubb
Was far too dignified
To play at games like other boys—
They grated on his pride.
He did not know how kites are made,
Nor how to play at ball,
Nor how to skate, nor how to swim,
Nor anything at all.

Young George Augustus William Bubb
Was far too dignified
To play at games like other boys—

They grated on his pride.
He did not know how kites are made,
Nor how to play at ball,
Nor how to skate, nor how to swim,
Nor anything at all.

---

Said Mrs. Robin breathlessly

“The frosts are nearly due,

This moving south is troublesome,

The baggage heavy, too.”

Said Mr. Rob, “Oh, that’s all right,

We’ll bill the baggage through.”

---

THE HAUGHTY COW

THE HAUGHTY COW

Said an acrobatic monkey
To the staid and stately cow:
"Come let us turn some handsprings:
I will quickly show you how."
But old bossy shook her head,
"No indeed!" she sharply said,
"I have passed the age of nonsense
And I'll not begin it now."

Said an acrobatic monkey

To the staid and stately cow:
“Come let us turn some handsprings;
“I will quickly show you how.”
    But old bossy shook her head,
    “No indeed!” she sharply said,
“I have passed the age of nonsense
    “And I’ll not begin it now.”

---

THE PEANUT BIRD

THE PEANUT BIRD

Deep in the forest, dark and still,
There lives the peanut bird;
It rarely walks, it seldom flies,
Its song is never heard.
No fear of hunters armed with salt
Will make this bird turn pale;
It can't be caught with salt you see,
Because it has no tail.

Deep in the forest, dark and still,

There lives the peanut bird;
It rarely walks, it seldom flies,
Its song is never heard.
No fear of hunters armed with salt
Will make this bird turn pale;
It can't be caught with salt you see,
Because it has no tail.

---

THE DISAPPOINTED BAT

A bat played a hand organ out in the street,

And carried a sign "I AM BLIND";
But though all his music was joyous and sweet,
His hearers, he thought, were unkind;
For no-one who passed dropped a coin in his hat,
But each said "Why of course; he's as blind as a bat."

---

When Billy Wilson swimming went,
It took him half a day
To reach the lake because, you see,
It was so far away.
And so, to stop this loss of time,
When next he went to swim
He tied a string around the lake,
And pulled it home with him.

---

DICKIE PEG-LEG

DICKIE PEG-LEG

A sparrow with a wooden leg
Hopped o'er a roof of tin;
And, as he hopped, a girl below
Was overcome with sudden woe
To hear that noise begin.

A sparrow with a wooden leg

Hopped o'er a roof of tin;
And, as he hopped, a girl below
Was overcome with sudden woe
To hear that noise begin.

“Oh dear,” she cried, “here comes the rain,

“And this is picnic day.”
Nor did she know what she had heard
Was just a wooden legged bird
Until he flew away.

---

Young Johnny Bingle long had wished
To own a "truly" gun.
And so, when Christmas came again,
His father gave him one.
It had a barrel straight and true
A fancy walnut stock
And for his first game Johnny shot
The cuckoo in the clock.

Young Johnny Bingle long had wished
    To own a “truly” gun,
And so, when Christmas came again,
    His father gave him one.
It had a barrel straight and true
    A fancy walnut stock
And for his first game Johnny shot
    The cuckoo in the clock.

---

THE SHANGHAI TWINS.

As Mother Bantam roamed the field,
Of worms and bugs in quest,
She found two large and lonesome eggs
In a deserted nest.
"This makes my duty clear" said she,
"I'll stay and hatch them out."
And for three weeks that little hen
Was no more seen about.

As Mother Bantam roamed the field,

Of worms and bugs in quest,
She found two large and lonesome eggs
In a deserted nest.
“This makes my duty clear” said she,
“I’ll stay and hatch them out.”
And for three weeks that little hen
Was no more seen about.

At length from out those two large eggs
The young chicks broke their way;
And thus the famous Shanghai Twins
First saw the light of day
And Mother Bantam stood aghast
That newborn pair to see

For, standing in his stocking feet,
Each was as tall as she.

When Mother Bantam came to feed
The hungry Shanghai Twins,
She found she had an awful task
To fill them to their chins;
And, if they were not filled that full,
They clamored to be fed:
Until in running down their food
She worked till nearly dead.

When Mother Bantam came to feed
The hungry Shanghai Twins,
She found she had an awful task

To fill them to their chins;
And, if they were not filled that full,
They clamored to be fed;
Until in running down their food
She worked till nearly dead.

With hoppers and with lady bugs,
With moths and worms and flies,
With grains of corn and crumbs of bread
She stopped their hungry cries.
Till finally she ran so much
To get them food to eat,
That she herself, worn out and starved,
Was overcome by heat.

With hoppers and with lady bugs,
    With moths and worms and flies,
With grains of corn and crumbs of bread
    She stopped their hungry cries.
Till finally she ran so much
    To get them food to eat,
That she herself, worn out and starved,
    Was overcome by heat.

Said Mother Bantam to her twins:
"Since you two have been hatched,
"You have not found a single meal,
"You have not run nor scratched;
"I've fed you as a mother should,
"But you are stronger now
"And henceforth you must scratch for worms."
Cried they: "Please show us how."

Said Mother Bantam to her twins:
"Since you two have been hatched,
"You have not found a single meal,
"You have not run nor scratched;
"I've fed you as a mother should,
"But you are stronger now

“And henceforth you must scratch for worms.”
Cried they: “Please show us how.”

She led them to the garden plot,
“Dig in your claws” said she,
“Just catch the dirt and push it back.

“It’s easy; don’t you see?”
“Ah yes,” they cried and went to work
With all their main and might,
And, ere they knew what they had done,
They buried her from sight.

The Shanghai Twins came on apace;
So rapidly they grew,
That larger, stronger fowls than they
Became extremely few.
And Mother Bantam gazed with pride
Her foster sons upon:
The one of them was christened James,
The other one was John.

The Shanghai Twins came on apace;
    So rapidly they grew,
That larger, stronger fowls than they
    Became extremely few.
And Mother Bantam gazed with pride
    Her foster sons upon:
The one of them was christened James,
    The other one was John.

Beneath the battered hen-house door,
A hungry fox one night
Poked in his nose, and all the fowls
Were paralyzed with fright.
But James and John knew what to do,
They fought with might and main
Until the fox took to his heels
With yelps of fear and pain.

Beneath the battered hen-house door,
A hungry fox one night
Poked in his nose, and all the fowls
Were paralyzed with fright.
But James and John knew what to do,
They fought with might and main

Until the fox took to his heels
With yelps of fear and pain.

Now when the valiant Shanghai Twins
Had put a fox to flight,
They stood on guard to watch the house

The balance of the night
And, while they watched, the other fowls
Reposed in perfect peace:
So, after that, the Twins were named
As poultry yard police.

Each wore, to show his lofty rank,
A helmet, club and star,
And soon as faithful guardians
Their fame spread near and far.
The very mention of their names,
Made thieving fowls turn pale
For well they knew that John and James
Could march them off to jail.

Each wore, to show his lofty rank,
    A helmet, club and star,
And soon as faithful guardians
    Their fame spread near and far.
The very mention of their names,
    Made thieving fowls turn pale
For well they knew that John and James
    Could march them off to jail.

---

Three young and interesting pigs
Once lived within a sty;
And one was greedy, one was strong,
And one was scarce a half yard long
And scant ten inches high.

Three young and interesting pigs
Once lived within a sty;
And one was greedy, one was strong,
And one was scarce a half yard long
And scant ten inches high.

The greedy one, when large and fat,
Was led away one day;
The strong one rooted at his pen
Until he made a hole, and then
Crept out and ran away.

The smallest pig, with careful thought,
Made up his mind to stay.
He did not eat enough to grow,
He did not run away, and so
He lives in peace today.

The greedy one, when large and fat,
Was led away one day;
The strong one rooted at his pen
Until he made a hole, and then
Crept out and ran away.

The smallest pig, with careful thought,
    Made up his mind to stay.
He did not eat enough to grow,
He did not run away, and so
    He lives in peace today.

---

“ONCE ON A TIME.”

If you had lived “once on a time,”

Just as the story books all say,
Oh wouldn't it have been a sight
To see the knights with dragons fight
And bear their heads away.

And it was "once upon a time,"

That little boys came to be kings;
That fairies flitted here and there
To little girls with presents rare—
Rich gowns and diamond rings.

But now, dear me, how things are changed:
And yet, perhaps, 'tis just as well:
For, if 'twere not so long ago,
That all these wondrous things were so,
There'd be no tales to tell.

---

To Mr. Fox's barber shop,
The large important Mr. Bear
Once took his chubby, little son
To have the barber trim his hair.

To Mr. Fox's barber shop,
The large important Mr. Bear
Once took his chubby, little son
To have the barber trim his hair.

The cloth was tucked about his neck
When, in the mirror large and tall,
He chanced to see another bear
And cuffed the glass to pieces small.

The cloth was tucked about his neck
When, in the mirror large and tall,
He chanced to see another bear
And cuffed the glass to pieces small.

---

Perhaps there is a funny land
Where rabbits dress in long tailed coats,
And kittens all wear wooden shoes
And schools are taught by learned goats.

Where crocodiles play violins
And owls are decked in gowns and caps;
But if there is a land like this,
You can not find it on the maps.

Where crocodiles play violins
And owls are decked in gowns and caps;
But if there is a land like this,
You can not find it on the maps.

---

A very foolish little clam
Each night sat up till very late;
His parents said repeatedly
That he should not thus dissipate.
But he would never heed their words:
He was too headstrong to obey
And thus he had so little sleep
That he was sleepy all the day.

A very foolish little clam
Each night sat up till very late;
His parents said repeatedly
That he should not thus dissipate.
But he would never heed their words:
He was too headstrong to obey

And thus he had so little sleep
That he was sleepy all the day.

One summer morning on the beach,
He opened wide his shell to yawn.
A big red bird came walking by—

A snap, a gulp—the clam was gone!
So, children, though you are too large
For any hungry bird to hold,
You see 'tis much the wiser plan
To go to bed when you are told.

---

THE AIRSHIPS

The airship fleet of Meadowville

Floats gaily o'er the town;
For older people fully grown,
    The craft is thistle down.
    The smaller of the meadow folk
        On fluffy silk-weed ride:
        And there's a ship for every one
With ships to spare, beside.

---

*** END OF THE PROJECT GUTENBERG EBOOK THE PIRATE FROG, AND OTHER TALES ***

Updated editions will replace the previous one—the old editions will be renamed.

Creating the works from print editions not protected by U.S. copyright law means that no one owns a United States copyright in these works, so the Foundation (and you!) can copy and distribute it in the United States without permission and without paying copyright royalties. Special rules, set forth in the General Terms of Use part of this license, apply to copying and distributing Project Gutenberg™ electronic works to protect the PROJECT GUTENBERG™ concept and trademark. Project Gutenberg is a registered trademark, and may not be used if you charge for an eBook, except by following the terms of the trademark license, including paying royalties for use of the Project Gutenberg trademark. If you do not charge anything for copies of this eBook, complying with the trademark license is very easy. You may use this eBook for nearly any purpose such as creation of derivative works, reports, performances and research. Project Gutenberg eBooks may be modified and printed and given away—you may do practically ANYTHING in the United States with eBooks not protected by U.S. copyright law. Redistribution is subject to the trademark license, especially commercial redistribution.

START: FULL LICENSE

THE FULL PROJECT GUTENBERG LICENSE

PLEASE READ THIS BEFORE YOU DISTRIBUTE OR USE THIS WORK

To protect the Project Gutenberg™ mission of promoting the free distribution of electronic works, by using or distributing this work (or any other work associated in any way with the phrase “Project Gutenberg”), you agree to comply with all the terms of the Full Project Gutenberg™ License available with this file or online at www.gutenberg.org/license.

Section 1. General Terms of Use and Redistributing Project Gutenberg™ electronic works

1.A. By reading or using any part of this Project Gutenberg™ electronic work, you indicate that you have read, understand, agree to and accept all the terms of this license and intellectual property (trademark/copyright) agreement. If you do not agree to abide by all the terms of this agreement, you must cease using and return or destroy all copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in your possession. If you paid a fee for obtaining a copy of or access to a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work and you do not agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement, you may obtain a refund from the person or entity to whom you paid the fee as set forth in paragraph 1.E.8.

1.B. “Project Gutenberg” is a registered trademark. It may only be used on or associated in any way with an electronic work by people who agree to be bound by the terms of this agreement. There are a few things that you can do with most Project Gutenberg™ electronic works even without complying with the full terms of this agreement. See paragraph 1.C below. There are a lot of things you can do with Project Gutenberg™ electronic works if you follow the terms of this agreement and help preserve free future access to Project Gutenberg™ electronic works. See paragraph 1.E below.

1.C. The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation (“the Foundation” or PGLAF), owns a compilation copyright in the collection of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works. Nearly all the individual works in the collection are in the public domain in the United States. If an individual work is unprotected by copyright law in the United States and you are located in the United States, we do not claim a right to prevent you from copying, distributing, performing, displaying or creating derivative works based on the work as long as all references to Project Gutenberg are removed. Of course, we hope that you will support the Project Gutenberg™ mission of promoting free access to electronic works by freely sharing Project Gutenberg™ works in compliance with the terms of this agreement for keeping the Project Gutenberg™ name associated with the work. You can easily comply with the terms of this agreement by keeping this work in the same format with its attached full Project Gutenberg™ License when you share it without charge with others.

1.D. The copyright laws of the place where you are located also govern what you can do with this work. Copyright laws in most countries are in a constant state of change. If you are outside the United States, check the laws of your country in addition to the terms of this agreement before downloading, copying, displaying, performing, distributing or creating derivative works based on this work or any other Project Gutenberg™ work. The Foundation makes no representations concerning the copyright status of any work in any country other than the United States.

1.E. Unless you have removed all references to Project Gutenberg:

1.E.1. The following sentence, with active links to, or other immediate access to, the full Project Gutenberg™ License must appear prominently whenever any copy of a Project Gutenberg™ work (any work on which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” appears, or with which the phrase “Project Gutenberg” is associated) is accessed, displayed, performed, viewed, copied or distributed:

This eBook is for the use of anyone anywhere in the United States and most other parts of the world at no cost and with almost no restrictions whatsoever. You may copy it, give it away or re-use it under the terms of the Project Gutenberg License included with this eBook or online at www.gutenberg.org. If you are not located in the United States, you will have to check the laws of the country where you are located before using this eBook.

1.E.2. If an individual Project Gutenberg™ electronic work is derived from texts not protected by U.S. copyright law (does not contain a notice indicating that it is posted with permission of the copyright holder), the work can be copied and distributed to anyone in the United States without paying any fees or charges. If you are redistributing or providing access to a work with the phrase “Project Gutenberg” associated with or appearing on the work, you must comply either with the requirements of paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 or obtain permission for the use of the work and the Project Gutenberg™ trademark as set forth in paragraphs 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.3. If an individual Project Gutenberg™ electronic work is posted with the permission of the copyright holder, your use and distribution must comply with both paragraphs 1.E.1 through 1.E.7 and any additional terms imposed by the copyright holder. Additional terms will be linked to the Project Gutenberg™ License for all works posted with the permission of the copyright holder found at the beginning of this work.

1.E.4. Do not unlink or detach or remove the full Project Gutenberg™ License terms from this work, or any files containing a part of this work or any other work associated with Project Gutenberg™.

1.E.5. Do not copy, display, perform, distribute or redistribute this electronic work, or any part of this electronic work, without prominently displaying the sentence set forth in paragraph 1.E.1 with active links or immediate access to the full terms of the Project Gutenberg™ License.

1.E.6. You may convert to and distribute this work in any binary, compressed, marked up, nonproprietary or proprietary form, including any word processing or hypertext form. However, if you provide access to or distribute copies of a Project Gutenberg™ work in a format other than “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other format used in the official version posted on the official Project Gutenberg™ website (www.gutenberg.org), you must, at no additional cost, fee or expense to the user, provide a copy, a means of exporting a copy, or a means of obtaining a copy upon request, of the work in its original “Plain Vanilla ASCII” or other form. Any alternate format must include the full Project Gutenberg™ License as specified in paragraph 1.E.1.

1.E.7. Do not charge a fee for access to, viewing, displaying, performing, copying or distributing any Project Gutenberg™ works unless you comply with paragraph 1.E.8 or 1.E.9.

1.E.8. You may charge a reasonable fee for copies of or providing access to or distributing Project Gutenberg™ electronic works provided that:

- You pay a royalty fee of 20% of the gross profits you derive from the use of Project Gutenberg™ works calculated using the method you already use to calculate your applicable taxes. The fee is owed to the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, but he has agreed to donate royalties under this paragraph to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation. Royalty payments must be paid within 60 days following each date on which you prepare (or are legally required to prepare) your periodic tax returns. Royalty payments should be clearly marked as such and sent to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation at the address specified in Section 4, "Information about donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation."

- • You provide a full refund of any money paid by a user who notifies you in writing (or by e-mail) within 30 days of receipt that s/he does not agree to the terms of the full Project Gutenberg™ License. You must require such a user to return or destroy all copies of the works possessed in a physical medium and discontinue all use of and all access to other copies of Project Gutenberg™ works.
- • You provide, in accordance with paragraph 1.F.3, a full refund of any money paid for a work or a replacement copy, if a defect in the electronic work is discovered and reported to you within 90 days of receipt of the work.
- • You comply with all other terms of this agreement for free distribution of Project Gutenberg™ works.

1.E.9. If you wish to charge a fee or distribute a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work or group of works on different terms than are set forth in this agreement, you must obtain permission in writing from the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the manager of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark. Contact the Foundation as set forth in Section 3 below.

1.F.

1.F.1. Project Gutenberg volunteers and employees expend considerable effort to identify, do copyright research on, transcribe and proofread works not protected by U.S. copyright law in creating the Project Gutenberg™ collection. Despite these efforts, Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, and the medium on which they may be stored, may contain "Defects," such as, but not limited to, incomplete, inaccurate or corrupt data, transcription errors, a copyright or other intellectual property infringement, a defective or damaged disk or other medium, a computer virus, or computer codes that damage or cannot be read by your equipment.

1.F.2. LIMITED WARRANTY, DISCLAIMER OF DAMAGES - Except for the "Right of Replacement or Refund" described in paragraph 1.F.3, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, the owner of the Project Gutenberg™ trademark, and any other party distributing a Project Gutenberg™ electronic work under this agreement, disclaim all liability to you for damages, costs and expenses, including legal fees. YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE NO REMEDIES FOR NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY, BREACH OF WARRANTY OR BREACH OF CONTRACT EXCEPT THOSE PROVIDED IN PARAGRAPH 1.F.3. YOU AGREE THAT THE FOUNDATION, THE TRADEMARK OWNER, AND ANY DISTRIBUTOR UNDER THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR ACTUAL, DIRECT, INDIRECT, CONSEQUENTIAL, PUNITIVE OR INCIDENTAL DAMAGES EVEN IF YOU GIVE NOTICE OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGE.

1.F.3. LIMITED RIGHT OF REPLACEMENT OR REFUND - If you discover a defect in this electronic work within 90 days of receiving it, you can receive a refund of the money (if any) you paid for it by sending a written explanation to the person you received the work from. If you received the work on a physical medium, you must return the medium with your written explanation. The person or entity that provided you with the defective work may elect to provide a replacement copy in lieu of a refund. If you received the work electronically, the person or entity providing it to you may choose to give you a second opportunity to receive the work electronically in lieu of a refund. If the second copy is also defective, you may demand a refund in writing without further opportunities to fix the problem.

1.F.4. Except for the limited right of replacement or refund set forth in paragraph 1.F.3, this work is provided to you 'AS-IS', WITH NO OTHER WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR ANY PURPOSE.

1.F.5. Some states do not allow disclaimers of certain implied warranties or the exclusion or limitation of certain types of damages. If any disclaimer or limitation set forth in this agreement violates the law of the state applicable to this agreement, the agreement shall be interpreted to make the maximum disclaimer or limitation permitted by the applicable state law. The invalidity or unenforceability of any provision of this agreement shall not void the remaining provisions.

1.F.6. INDEMNITY - You agree to indemnify and hold the Foundation, the trademark owner, any agent or employee of the Foundation, anyone providing copies of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works in accordance with this agreement, and any volunteers associated with the production, promotion and distribution of Project Gutenberg™ electronic works, harmless from all liability, costs and expenses, including legal fees, that arise directly or indirectly from any of the following which you do or cause to occur: (a) distribution of this or any Project Gutenberg™ work, (b) alteration, modification, or additions or deletions to any Project Gutenberg™ work, and (c) any Defect you cause.

Section 2. Information about the Mission of Project Gutenberg™

Project Gutenberg™ is synonymous with the free distribution of electronic works in formats readable by the widest variety of computers including obsolete, old, middle-aged and new computers. It exists because of the efforts of hundreds of volunteers and donations from people in all walks of life.

Volunteers and financial support to provide volunteers with the assistance they need are critical to reaching Project Gutenberg™'s goals and ensuring that the Project Gutenberg™ collection will remain freely available for generations to come. In 2001, the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation was created to provide a secure and permanent future for Project Gutenberg™ and future generations. To learn more about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation and how your efforts and donations can help, see Sections 3 and 4 and the Foundation information page at www.gutenberg.org.

Section 3. Information about the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

The Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) educational corporation organized under the laws of the state of Mississippi and granted tax exempt status by the Internal Revenue Service. The Foundation's EIN or federal tax identification number is 64-6221541. Contributions to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation are tax deductible to the full extent permitted by U.S. federal laws and your state's laws.

The Foundation's business office is located at 809 North 1500 West, Salt Lake City, UT 84116, (801) 596-1887. Email contact links and up to date

contact information can be found at the Foundation's website and official page at www.gutenberg.org/contact

Section 4. Information about Donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation

Project Gutenberg™ depends upon and cannot survive without widespread public support and donations to carry out its mission of increasing the number of public domain and licensed works that can be freely distributed in machine-readable form accessible by the widest array of equipment including outdated equipment. Many small donations ($1 to $5,000) are particularly important to maintaining tax exempt status with the IRS.

The Foundation is committed to complying with the laws regulating charities and charitable donations in all 50 states of the United States. Compliance requirements are not uniform and it takes a considerable effort, much paperwork and many fees to meet and keep up with these requirements. We do not solicit donations in locations where we have not received written confirmation of compliance. To SEND DONATIONS or determine the status of compliance for any particular state visit www.gutenberg.org/donate.

While we cannot and do not solicit contributions from states where we have not met the solicitation requirements, we know of no prohibition against accepting unsolicited donations from donors in such states who approach us with offers to donate.

International donations are gratefully accepted, but we cannot make any statements concerning tax treatment of donations received from outside the United States. U.S. laws alone swamp our small staff.

Please check the Project Gutenberg web pages for current donation methods and addresses. Donations are accepted in a number of other ways including checks, online payments and credit card donations. To donate, please visit: www.gutenberg.org/donate.

Section 5. General Information About Project Gutenberg™ electronic works
Professor Michael S. Hart was the originator of the Project Gutenberg™ concept of a library of electronic works that could be freely shared with anyone. For forty years, he produced and distributed Project Gutenberg™ eBooks with only a loose network of volunteer support.

Project Gutenberg™ eBooks are often created from several printed editions, all of which are confirmed as not protected by copyright in the U.S. unless a copyright notice is included. Thus, we do not necessarily keep eBooks in compliance with any particular paper edition.

Most people start at our website which has the main PG search facility:
www.gutenberg.org.

This website includes information about Project Gutenberg™, including how to make donations to the Project Gutenberg Literary Archive Foundation, how to help produce our new eBooks, and how to subscribe to our email newsletter to hear about new eBooks.

Table of Contents

THE PIRATE FROG AND OTHER TALES

A Fore Word:

THE PIRATE FROG.

THE HUNGRY PUPIL

A FIRE IN FROGTOWN

THE PORCUPINE'S DILEMMA

Seein' Large

The Proud Wishbone

THE HAUGHTY COW

THE PEANUT BIRD

THE DISAPPOINTED BAT

DICKIE PEG-LEG

THE SHANGHAI TWINS.

"ONCE ON A TIME."

THE AIRSHIPS

THE FULL PROJECT GUTENBERG LICENSE