HOW TO:

What do I do when my kids say 'I'm finished!'?

I get them to pop on an 'Expert Badge'. In fact, you can use them for ANYTHING. Not only do I use them in lessons, I also use them for things like being organised, tidying up or even lining up. They work particularly well for kids who are also trying to meet a particular goal, as some added encouragement.

How to make:

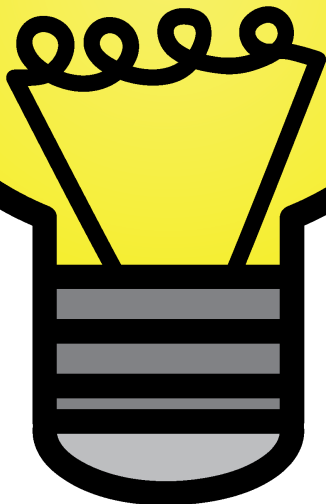

- Print and laminate (or print on thick card stock).
- Hole punch a hole in the top and thread on some ribbon or use a lanyard.
- Other options: Attach an upside down bulldog clip to the bottom and stand them up on a student's desk.

(Chewed laminator not required)
