High Tri – Outdoor table
Design by Michael Young

A long and gracious organic stem, a naive flower that blooms merrily as the days turn warmer. The High Tri side table comes to life when surrounded by other elements. Life reveals it as it unfolds and bends into place to serve its purpose with elegant discretion.

High Tri is a contemporary, foldaway side table designed as a celebration of industrial craftsmanship. The thin extruded aluminium legs are ideally positioned to allow users to combine several tables together into larger compositions. Available in wood and laminate versions finished with muted colours, the top collapses easily, making this table a smart and convenient piece perfectly suited to non-residential projects, both indoors and outdoors.
