

Mini-assessment

Is your business ready for system integration?

*Find out where you stand today and discover your next step.
In under three minutes*

Does this sound familiar?

Five tools, three data sources and hours of manual work just to compile your reports?

Many companies struggle with disconnected systems, duplicate data and inefficient processes. System integration can solve these challenges — but is your organisation ready for it?

This quick assessment gives you a clear picture of your digital maturity and reveals where you can achieve the greatest gains.

Answer the statements below honestly and add up your points. The higher your score, the closer you are to a fully integrated, scalable and customer-focused way of working.

How digitally integrated is your organisation?

Rate each of the 10 statements below on a scale from 1 to 5.

1 = does not apply at all 5 = fully in place

1. Our systems — such as CRM, ERP, accounting and marketing tools — are well connected.
2. Automated data flows help us avoid duplicate work.
3. Our customer data is up to date, complete and consolidated into a single record for each customer.
4. Different departments—such as IT, sales, marketing and finance—work together on digital projects.
5. We have a clear view of bottlenecks and delays within our processes.
6. We select IT solutions based on strategic business objectives, rather than technical requirements alone.
7. We have access to real-time insights from multiple systems.
8. We are automatically notified when an integration fails.
9. Employees receive the necessary support or training when new tools or integrations are introduced.
10. We actively monitor our digital processes and integrations.

Your result:

How did your organisation score?

10-20 points: Your foundations still need work

There is considerable room for improvement. Your systems largely operate in isolation, leading to errors, duplicate work and inefficient processes. This is a valuable opportunity to create more structure, streamline your processes and gain better insights from your data.

21-35 points: The foundations are in place. Now is time to connect the dots.

You have already taken important steps towards digitalisation, but your systems and processes still lack cohesion. Targeted integrations and closer collaboration between departments can quickly take your digital operations to the next level.

36-50 points: Ready for advanced integration

Your digital foundations are strong. You are ready for scalable automation, real-time insights and future-focused process optimisation.
