Disclaimer

Hi, I'm Aaron...

I'm a registered dietitian, an ultralight backpacker, and founder of backcountryfoodie.com.

If you feel overwhelmed with planning meals for your backpacking trips, you're not alone.

When I set out on my first overnight trip, my head was spinning with all of the logistics. Did I have the right sleeping bag? How much water will I need?

Did I pack enough food?

You don't have to worry anymore!

After 20 years of trial and error, thousands of miles, and planning for several thru-hikes, I'm here to share my meal planning secrets that will set you up for success.

This guide is packed with tips & tricks I wish I knew on my first backpacking trip.

Happy Trails,

Aaron

P.S. If you still have questions after reading this guide, please email me at aaron@backcountryfoodie.com. I'd love to hear from you!

Know Before You Go

One size doesn't fit all

Because everyone is different, no one calorie goal works for everyone. The best way to determine your needs is to spend time hiking. Over time, you'll be able to figure out your calorie needs for day hikes and backpacking trips alike. As a starting point, check out our YoutTube video dedicated to helping you pack the perfect number of calories.

Fuel like an athlete

Have you ever considered yourself to be an athlete? Backpackers are tremendous athletes! Pat yourself on the back for carrying that heavy pack, climbing thousands of feet of elevation gain, and doing this day after day unsupported. What's important is that you fuel your body like an athlete. Check out our "Backpackers are Athletes" blog post to learn more about nutrition while backpacking.

Know Before You Go

3 Eat consistently

Some people enjoy three large meals, while others prefer to snack throughout the day. Either way, make sure you're eating at least 250 calories from carbohydrates every 60-90 minutes. This will be more challenging than you might expect, but it's essential for maintaining consistent energy levels while hiking. Check out our "Backpacking Nutrition" blog post to learn more.

Balance your meals

There are three macronutrients that your body needs, and it's important to make sure you eat all of them while hiking. Eating carbheavy snacks while hiking will help keep your energy levels up, and pairing those carbs with some protein and fat will allow your body to recover properly and maintain energy throughout the day. Try to eat some fiber, too!

Grocery Store Go-To

Did you know that you can find a wide variety of backpacking food options at your local grocery store? Grocery store items are a great way to backpack on a budget and can be pretty nutritious.

Basic Shopping List

Fruit

Dried or Freeze-dried Fruit Fruit Leather Apples, Oranges, Avocado

Mix and Match

Start with a grocery store staple on the left and add in a flavorful extra from the right. Remember to test your recipes at home before bringing them on trail!

Oatmeal +

Tortilla

Peanut Butter + Honey
Hummus
Instant Refried Beans
Summer Sausage + Cheese
Tuna Packet + Pesto

Ramen

Remember that each meal, ideally, should have carbohydrates, protein, and fat. Backpackers need lots of calories and carbohydrates for optimal performance!

Sample Meal Plans

Hikers have different cooking styles in the backcountry. The following sample meal plans are designed with different types of hikers in mind.

Convenient Classic

Prefer to buy quick and easy foods off the grocery store shelves? This plan is for you! It's hard to keep weight low and nutrition value high with convenience foods, but this plan will show you the basics with simple meal ideas.

Foodie Feast

Preparing delicious, ultralight meals at home is likely easier than you think! Measure and mix dry ingredients from the grocery store and package your meals in freezer bags or other airtight containers. Meals rehydrate quickly on the trail with no cooking or simmering required.

Things To Remember

Try before you go!

When I was a beginner hiker, I often made the mistake of packing new meals and not trying them until I was in the backcountry. There's nothing worse than hiking to camp and then realizing you don't like your dinner. Remember to test new foods at home first!

Be aware of local rules & regulations.

Some areas require permits, and others may have fire bans or bans on any flame source (including canister stoves). Make sure you look into the regulations before you plan your trip.

Watch out for wildlife!

In some areas, you are required to carry your food in a bear can and/or hang your food at night. Look into the recommendations for your trail before you head out.

Follow Leave No Trace Guidelines.

Always follow Leave No Trace guidelines and principles when you're in the backcountry. You can find more information at www.lnt.org

What makes our recipes unique?

Ultralight & Low Volume

Our recipes maximize the calories and nutrition per gram to help keep your pack light while providing your body with the fuel it needs!

Quick & Easy Meal Prep

You can prepare these meals at home in only a few minutes. It's as simple as measuring dry ingredients and adding them to a bag or container. No precooking or dehydrating is required. Our freezer-bag style meals can be cooked or cold soaked in a short amount of time on trail. No simmering is needed, and minimal clean-up is required.

Optimized for Peak Performance

You'll have a spring in your step with protein optimized for performance and the carbohydrate to protein ratio needed for recovery. You can also expect reduced inflammation and a happier digestive system.

Lemon Blueberry Oatmeal

Mix Dry	3	Cook	4	1	3.9 oz
Ingredients	Minutes		Minutes	Serving	(109 g)
HOME PREP	HOME PREP TIME	FIELD PREP	FIELD PREP TIME	TOTAL SERVINGS	WT/SERVING

INGREDIENTS

 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup quick-cooking oats (40 g)

1/4 cup whole milk powder (30 g)

2 Tbsp freeze-dried blueberries (6 g)

2 Tbsp almonds, sliced (12 g)

1 Tbsp brown sugar (14 g)

1 packet True Lemon™ powder (0.8 g)

½ Tbsp coconut oil (7 g)

Substitutions: Non-dairy milk powder (i.e. coconut, almond, soy) may replace whole milk powder as a vegan alternative. Dried blueberries may be used in place of freeze-dried blueberries. Homemade lemon powder may replace True Lemon® powder.

Nutrition: For a lower calorie meal, do not add the coconut oil (60 calories).

HOME DIRECTIONS

- Put all dry ingredients in a bag or container to be used in the backcountry.
- 2. Pack ½ Tbsp (7 g) coconut oil in a leakproof container to be added to the meal when consumed. We recommend double bagging the oil in the event there is a leak.

FIELD DIRECTIONS

- 1. Add 8 oz (240 mL) hot water or to desired consistency.
- 2. Stir and let stand to allow blueberries to rehydrate and oatmeal to thicken.
- 3. Add $\frac{1}{2}$ Tbsp (7 g) coconut oil.
- 4. Stir to mix well and enjoy!

Garlic Parmesan Ramen

Mix Dry	2	Cook	7-30	1	5.7 oz (159 g)
Ingredients	Minutes	Cold Soak	Minutes	Serving
HOME PREP	HOME PREP TIME	FIELD PREP	FIELD PREP TIME	TOTAL SERVINGS	WT/SERVING

INGREDIENTS

1 package ramen noodles (85 g)

1 Tbsp parsley, dried (1.5 g)

1/4 tsp garlic powder (0.8 g)

1/4 tsp black pepper (0.6 g)

 $\frac{1}{8}$ tsp table salt (0.8 g)

1/4 cup parmesan cheese, shelf-stable (30 g)

3 Tbsp olive oil (42 g)

Substitutions: Rice ramen noodles may be used as a gluten-free alternative. Home precooked and dehydrated noodles may be used as a healthier alternative to ramen noodles.

Nutrition: For a lower calorie meal, reduce olive oil volume by 1 Tbsp (120 calories).

HOME DIRECTIONS

- 1. Discard ramen noodle spice packet.
- 2. Put noodles in a bag or container to be used in the backcountry.
- Put remaining dry ingredients in a second bag to be stored inside the noodle bag or container. If preparing the meal for long-term storage, we recommend packing the parmesan cheese in a separate container just prior to leaving for the trip. See meal prep tip below.
- 4. Pack 3 Tbsp (42 g) olive oil in a leakproof container to be added to the meal when consumed. We recommend double bagging the oil in the event there is a leak.

FIELD DIRECTIONS

- 1. Remove the parmesan herb packet.
- 2. Add 8 oz (240 mL) hot/cold water or enough to cover the noodles.
- Let stand to allow the noodles to rehydrate. This will take approximately 7 minutes if cooking and 30 minutes if cold soaking. Avoid over-soaking noodles as they will become mushy.
- 4. Consume or properly discard the noodle broth to practice the Leave No Trail principle.
- Add parmesan herb packet and 3 Tbsp (42 g) olive oil to the noodles.
- 6. Stir to mix well and enjoy!

Meal prep tip: To lengthen the shelf life of the meal, add shelf-stable parmesan cheese when the meal is consumed. Single-serving packets, such as those used by pizza restaurants, work well.

Sun-Dried Tomato Couscous

Mix Dry	3	Cook,	3-15	1	5 oz (140 g)
Ingredients	Minutes	Cold Soak	Minutes	Serving
HOME PREP	HOME PREP TIME	FIELD PREP	FIELD PREP TIME	TOTAL SERVINGS	WT/SERVING

INGREDIENTS

½ cup couscous (86 g)

3 pieces sun-dried tomatoes, oil-free and chopped (15 g)

2 Tbsp pine nuts (20 g)

½ tsp parsley, dried (0.2 g)

½ tsp oregano, dried (0.5 g)

½ tsp basil, dried (0.3 g)

½ tsp turmeric (1 g)

½ tsp garlic powder (1.5 g)

1/4 tsp black pepper, ground (0.6 g)

1/8 tsp salt (0.8 g)

1 Tbsp olive oil (14 g)

Nutrition: For a lower calorie meal, do not add the 1 Tbsp or 14 g olive oil (120 calories). Although, the meal is more flavorful with the addition of the oil.

HOME DIRECTIONS

- 1. Put all dry ingredients in a bag or container to be used in the backcountry. See meal prep tip below.
- 2. Pack 1 Tbsp (14 g) olive oil in a leakproof container to be added when the meal is consumed. We recommend double bagging the oil in the event there is a leak.

FIELD DIRECTIONS

- 1. Add 6 oz (180 mL) hot/cold water to the bag or container.
- 2. Stir to mix well and let stand allowing the meal to fully rehydrate.
- 3. Add 1 Tbsp (14 g) olive oil.
- 4. Stir to mix well and enjoy!

Meal prep tip: We recommend using kitchen scissors to cut the tough sun-dried tomatoes to save time and effort.

Chocolate Peanut Butter Shake

Mix Dry Ingredients	1 Minute	No-Cook	1 Minute	1 Serving	4.6 oz (128 g)
HOME PREP	HOME PREP TIME	FIELD PREP	FIELD PREP TIME	TOTAL SERVINGS	WT/SERVING

INGREDIENTS

1/2 cup whole milk powder (60 g) 1/4 cup peanut powder (32 g) 1 x 1.26 oz packet Carnation Breakfast Essentials™ powder, chocolate (36 g)

Nutrition: To reduce calories by 200, use non-fat milk powder in place of whole milk powder.

HOME DIRECTIONS

1. Put all ingredients in a bag or container to be used in the backcountry. See meal prep tip below.

FIELD DIRECTIONS

- 1. Add 8 oz (240 mL) cold water to the container. More or less water may be added to reach the desired flavor.
- 2. Stir or shake vigorously to mix well.
- 3. Massage bag with fingers or use a utensil to break up any lumps as peanut powder may clump.
- 4. Enjoy!

Meal prep tip: Several brands of peanut powder are available for purchase (i.e. PB Fit®, Anthony's®, Emergency Essentials®) at grocery stores or online. Recommend reading food labels and choosing peanut powder containing only peanuts. Many contain added sugar. For example, PB Fit® has a higher fat content than PB2®.

Mixed Berry Crumble

Mix Dry	HOME PREP TIME 5	FIELD PREP Cook	FIELD PREP TIME 5	TOTAL SERVINGS 1	wt/serving 2.5 oz
Ingredients	Minutes		Minutes	Serving	(71 g)

INGREDIENTS

- 1 Tbsp freeze-dried blueberries (4 g)
- 2 Tbsp freeze-dried strawberries (4 g)
- 2 Tbsp freeze-dried raspberries (4 g)
- 1 Tbsp cane sugar (13 g)
- 1 tsp cornstarch (3 g)
- ½ tsp cinnamon, ground (1.3 g)
- 1 packet True Lemon™ powder (0.8 g)
- 2 Tbsp butter powder (12 g)
- 2 graham cracker sheets, crumbled (16 g)
- 1 Tbsp coconut oil (14 g)

Substitutions: Homemade lemon powder may replace True Lemon® powder.

Gluten-free graham crackers may be used as a gluten-free alternative.

HOME DIRECTIONS

- 1. Put all ingredients, except graham cracker crumbs and coconut oil, in a bag or container to be used in the backcountry. See meal prep tip below.
- 2. Put graham cracker crumbs in a separate bag or container to be stored with the berry mix.
- 3. Pack 1 Tbsp (14 g) coconut oil to be added to when the meal is consumed. We recommend double bagging the oil in the event there is a leak.

FIELD DIRECTIONS

- 1. Add 1-2 oz (30-60 mL) hot water to the berry mixture.
- 2. Stir to mix well and let stand to allow the berries to fully rehydrate and sauce to thicken.
- 3. The mixture should be the consistency of a fruit compote. More or less water may be added to reach the desired consistency.
- 4. Add 1 Tbsp (14 g) coconut oil to the berry mixture.
- 5. Stir to mix well.
- 6. Sprinkle graham cracker crumbs over the berry compote and enjoy!

Meal prep tip: Dehydrated fruit is not recommended as it will not create a compote unless cooked for an extended period of time in a pot.

Nutrition: For a lower calorie meal, do not add the 1 Tbsp (14 g) coconut oil (120 calories). To reduce calories by an additional 40, reduce the volume of butter powder by 1 Tbsp (6 g).
