- AHEAD OF TIME, decide which version of the Places to Visit booklet you want students to complete:
 - Version 1: Students read, cut out and assemble booklet.
 - Version 2: Students choose their own events or places to write about. (You can allow some students to simply draw a place or event, if they may better meet with success this way.)
- Have students discuss their favourite places to visit in Prince Edward Island. Make a list on chart paper or the blackboard.
- Consider sharing the Canada Road Trip: The Best Things to See in Prince Edward Island (It is suggested that the teacher PREVIEW the video prior to sharing it) video with students to show the wide variety of places and events that people can visit!

Natural Resources

Natural resources are things we find in nature. Prince Edward Island has fruits and vegetables like apples, carrots, and corn. It also has fish such as lobster and cod. There are trees like spruce, fir, and maple. Fruits and vegetables are food products. Trees provide wood.

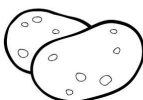

Using natural resources can be good, but it can also harm the environment. For example, if there are too many trees cut down, there might not be enough left for birds and animals. Growing too many crops in one place can use up the soil's nutrients, making it harder for plants to grow in the future. We need to use resources carefully so we can keep our planet healthy and beautiful.

Grid Mapping

- Using a large classroom map of Canada, discuss the function of the vertical and horizontal "lines" (latitude and longitude) are for.
- Demonstrate that these lines form a type of grid that helps us find specific locations of a city or region.
- Consider showing students an online video about grid mapping such as this one: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=r8kOZkiJl8M>
- Explain that one axis uses numbers and the other uses letters (these may vary from map to map.)
- Show students the Prince Edward Island grid map and have them find squares that are and aren't covering at least a part of the province.
- Review the compass rose, cardinal directions (N, S, E, W) and intermediate directions (NW, NE, SW, SE).
- Review student instructions before they start working on the
