Glazed Pizza Stones

Heat resistant up to 1,100°F, our Glazed Stones share the same engineering as our Traditional Stones, but won't absorb fats and oils. This makes for easy cleanup and eliminates the need to use parchment paper when cooking items with a higher fat content like cookies and pastries.

BEST SELLER

Traditional Pizza Stones

Start making restaurant-quality pizzas, breads, pastries and even vegetables in the comfort of your own home. Heat resistant up to 1,450°F, this pizza stone is ideal for use in residential ovens, pizza ovens, and grills.

Crafted from cordierite, this pizza stone is durable and has excellent thermal properties that prevent cracking, ensuring that it will last you for years to come. The specially engineered heat core eliminates soggy centers, ensuring your baked goods are cooked to perfection. Plus, this baking stone absorbs heat and transfers it evenly, ensuring that your bakes are crispy and delicious.

4 Piece Square Pizza Stone Sets

7.5 x 7.5 INCH

Bring the Family Together with Perfectly-Baked Pizzas, Breads, and More!

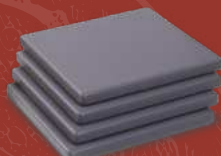

Create restaurant-quality pizza at home with this 4-Piece Cordierite Pizza Stone Set. Available in both Glazed and Traditional Cordierite, these stones provide excellent heat retention and even cooking. With a heat resistance of up to 1,100°F for Glazed and 1,450°F for Cordierite, they are perfect for use in home ovens, pizza ovens, and grills.

Each set includes four 7.5 x 7.5-inch square stones—ideal for personal-sized pizzas for each family member. For a larger, shareable family-sized pizza, simply combine the stones to create a 15 x 15-inch square.

Pizza Steel WITH MOAT

14 x 14 INCH

PST1414M

Crafted from 1/4" steel, our Pizza Steel is durable, resistant to warping, and has excellent thermal properties, ensuring that it will last for years to come. Preseasoned and cured at high temperatures, the steel is ready to use out of the box and with use will develop a patina to protect the steel further.

Designed for use beyond baking, the unique moat on the reverse side of the steel captures excess oil and fats, preventing a mess in your oven or flare ups on the grill when cooking oiled vegetables or searing a steak.
