

The PostGradDC Intervertebral Disc Certification Program

Program Overview

This educational program offers advanced certification for doctors who want to elevate their clinical competence in pursuing chiropractic excellence.

Qualifications

The American College of Chiropractic Orthopedists, the International Academy of Neuromusculoskeletal Medicine, NCMIC, and PACE uniquely approve and recognize PostGradDC coursework.

Our primary instructor is Dr. James Demetrious. He is a nationally distinguished board-certified chiropractic orthopedist and an internationally recognized expert in cervical artery dissection. Dr. Demetrious was the first doctor to correlate fluoroquinolone antibiotics with a pre-existing iatrogenic risk factor for cervical artery dissections.

The Intervertebral Disc Certificate

We offer a 10-CE Hour PostGradDC Certification Program entitled The Intervertebral Disc Certification. We seek to provide advanced insight into the differential assessment of the intervertebral disc to improve its recognition and clinical management.

Requisite Coursework

To achieve this advanced certification, chiropractic doctors must complete at least 10 CE Hours of IVD-eligible PostGradDC online recorded and/or live coursework.

Getting Certified

Upon completing 10 CE hours of eligible IVD coursework, respective doctors will submit their completed coursework to PostGradDC for verification and certification.

Maintenance of Certification

This certification is valid and recognized for two years. After the initial two years, you may complete two IVD-eligible CE hours annually and pay a $50 annual fee to maintain your certification.
