Find out more about our German Conversation Card Sets:

I have found it difficult to find good German materials and curriculum for kids. Early on we used a lot of free German worksheets and materials, but then at a certain point the kids were ready for more. See more about the German Curriculum we use now in this post.

I made a whole series of Conversation Cards and we are slowly building conversations skills and vocabulary from day-to-day, week-to-week. This is what we will be covering (Click on the links to find out more about each packet):

1. Family tree for greetings and family words (See this post.) - 2 files, approx. 20 pages
2. The days of the weeks, months, weather and seasons, - Approx. 18 pages
3. Clothing (will be shared next week -- probably Oct. 20, 2015) - Approx. 16 pages
4. Where are you from? Nationalities
5. Food and Drink
6. Daily Activities

Last spring I made our first set of German conversation cards. It consisted of a family tree and various family members (brother, sister, mom, dad, aunt, uncle and grandparents). We used these to practice greetings and for basic conversations asking and answering questions like What's your name? How old are you? Is this your aunt? etc. Wow! Having props absolutely transformed German for us. So this past summer, I made a half-dozen more sets. The kids have made amazing progress with these already.

We use this family set **every day** during our conversation practice... to talk about the weather, how we're feeling, where we're from, what we're wearing, what we're up to and on and on! :)

Find out more about these here: German Conversation Cards \(die Familie\) or weather, days of the week, seasons, and finally clothing card set.

These are sold separately or together in a bundle of three.

die Kleidung – Clothing Cards

German Conversation Card Set: Clothing

Clothing Cards

Have students each color in the clothes on the previous pages. Use them for conversation practice. What color is the...?

Students can use the blanks under the pictures to fill in the German vocabulary. Add in a price, to use these cards in a store scenario. (How much do the boots cost?)

Have the students make up prices (on the previous cards) and use them in a store scenario. Have students ask one another questions such as:

- How much does the red coat cost? (etc.)
- Was tragt sie? (What are you wearing?)
- Was tragt er? (What is he wearing?)

Conversation Starters:

Use the clothing cards to ask questions and for conversation practice. Ask questions such as:

- What does she look like?
- Is she wearing a hat?
- What color is his/her shirt?
- What do you wear in summer?

Wie sieht die Oma (der Junge) aus?
Welche Farbe ist sein T-Shirt?
Trägt sie...?
Was trägt sie im Sommer? im Winter?

Wie viel kostet es?

In Germany, the Euro symbol follows the amount.

Der Mantel kostet 100€.
 Das Kleid kostet 15€.
 Der braune Pullover kostet 25€.
 Das graue Head kostet 10€.
 Die schwarzen Stiefel kosten 40€.

*Articles must, use an -e ending with your adjective after der, die, das... Use -en after the adjective when the noun is plural.

*Colors ending in -a (blue, red, orange) do not take the normal adjective endings. (das rote Kleid...)
