

Please Read Before You Begin

Hello,

Thank you for downloading Story of the Season's Free Media Guide Indesign Template. We appreciate you using our design template and wish you the best in your media guide creation process. Regardless of the sport or gender of your team this template can help you create a professional looking media guide. You will need an Adobe Indesign Subscription or free trial to access this template.

Please note that this template is meant to be edited by you to fit your team's colors, logos and branding. The colors, logos and photos can all be changed to match your own team. These pages offer you a starting point for your designs. Pages can be copied, deleted or changed to fit your team's needs. While all the essential media guide pages are included please feel free to create and add your own pages.

We ask that you honor the time and effort we put into this FREE resource and DO NOT remove our Story of the Season branding. It's how we offer this free resource!

If you're interested in a media guide for your team but not in the workload, check out our media guide services at www.storyoftheseason.com. Digital and print options available! Our media guides act as a fundraiser, weekly magazine and end of season yearbook all in one! Want the best media guide on the market?
