TEAM TWO

My kids really enjoy this game. I have used it with the other levels of rhythm chairs. It was fun watching them make the half note on the chairs. The kids so excited when we play this game. I love that it gets the kids out of their seats, but also engages them in learning while they are playing. Its a win-win.

– Carolyn R.

Play collaboratively and keep score to create a competition among grade levels using a sports-themed bracket system.

Rules are broken down into small, easy steps that students can follow

GAME RULE ONE

Your team must put the correct number of people in the chairs.

GAME RULE TWO

The people who aren't sitting in the chairs must speak the rhythm.

GAME RULE THREE

Your team earns one point for the correct number of people in the chairs.

GAME RULE FOUR

Your team earns another point for speaking the rhythm correctly.

GAME RULE FIVE

You can only listen to the audio to check your answer after your team has spoken the rhythm

That means two points for

Your team will lose one point if you listen to the rhythm before your team speaks it.

If you have students who aren't able to play the game, ask them to be the referee and keep score.

Interactive audio makes it easy for students (and subs) to check their answers!

Some of my students have a hard time understanding that half notes take 2 beats. Using the chairs really reinforced the idea. And they love the game!

– Bailey C.

Ask the referee or other volunteer to click the audio icon and check their answer.

The bonus round is a perfect challenge

BONUS ROUND

Add four more chairs to your set-up.
Now you must speak an eight-beat rhythm pattern!

Students simply set up another four chairs

Change it up by asking your students to clap the rhythm or play it on a rhythm instrument.

No chairs in your classroom? No problem!

Any place marker will work, as long as the students get to be the rhythms and join in the fun!

Very fun way to show beat value! My kids love taking turns "organizing" the rhythm students into the proper chairs (or on top of desks!)

You can use this game with sit spots, carpet squares, hula hoops, or even taped-off squares!

This resource was a great visual learning tool to help students understand the difference between the length of various notes and rests. The were highly engaged and LOVED the game!!
