Parents & community members learn facts about the benefits of music education

I used this during our first ever district wide band night and it was fantastic! Parents and families enjoyed it while waiting for the concert to start. It was a wonderful addition to our event and a great value.

Testimonials about band from students and parents across the United States

TESTIMONIALS FROM BAND PARENTS ACROSS THE UNITED STATES

Music is vital because it helps to keep at-risk kids engaged in school and extra-curricular activities. It has helped keep my son involved after school and taught him discipline, independence, and responsibility. I am a single mother, and I am so proud that my son will graduate with a high GPA and having participated in the U.S. Army All-American Bowl because he worked hard with his music.

TESTIMONIALS FROM BAND PARENTS ACROSS THE UNITED STATES

My son took band starting in the 6th grade and is now in college taking some music classes. He is not majoring in music but has an interest in it. It helps with his mild case of Tourette. We feel that music helps him only with his Tourette, but also in math and discipline. I helped him with activities outside of school hours and noticed the band student had a stronger interest in school academics and followed directions more than other students. I could tell the difference in a student who was in music during school activities because they were better disciplined.

TESTIMONIALS FROM BAND STUDENTS ACROSS THE UNITED STATES

Music has helped me find my place. I've always been a person who doesn't make friends easily, but music classes offer an avenue for me to meet people and make connections. I have gone through some rough times that could have damaged me, but because of music and the people I have met through it, I can proudly say that I'm still standing, I'm still fighting, and I don't give up. Now I'm a music education student who wants to create a safe environment for other people.

TESTIMONIALS FROM BAND STUDENTS ACROSS THE UNITED STATES

Music is important because it clears my mind whenever I'm mad or sad or whatever. Music can really calm you down. It can also help your concentration. Like when you're writing an essay, it can help you focus on your specific essay/homework. And, without music, there would be nothing to calm you down, keep you focused. We need music!

Lots of great info for band and band parents! Thanks!
