Teen Topics Handling Stress

The Issue:

Stress seems to be a fact of life for most teens! Never ending homework projects, extra-curricular activities, various obligations, drama within our friendships, problems that arise at home, pressure to excel in sports or in academics (etc.) all add to stress! Stress can make life seem overwhelming at times, and it can even have harmful effects on our health! Let's see what God says about handling stress in our lives.

What does the Bible say?

Note what advice these verses give for handling stress:

- > Ex. 18:17-23 Ask for help, don't carry your burdens alone.
- > Deut. 20:1-4 Recognize the Lord gives victory and relief.
- > Ps. 18:6 Take any and all burdens to the Lord in prayer.
- > Eph. 5:15-17 Seek the Lord's will in using time wisely.

What should I do?

Being busy is not a bad thing, for God wants us to be productive and get things done. However, God does not want us to be overcome with stress to the point we are miserable. Looking at the above verses, consider these thoughts:

- 1. Are you willing to share your burdens with a friend, parent or youth leader? Opening up and praying with someone goes a long way in relieving stress!
- 2. God calls us to work and study hard, but He also calls us to give the pressure of success over to Him. Do your part and give the rest over to God. He can handle it!
- 3. What adjustments do you need to make in your life?

  Consider what schedule changes or relationship changes you need to make to free up unneeded stress!

Handling stress correctly is critical if we desire to be used by God. It is essential for us to turn our stress over to Him!

Teen Topics Handling Stress

The Issue:

Stress seems to be a fact of life for most teens! Never ending homework projects, extra-curricular activities, various obligations, drama within our friendships, problems that arise at home, pressure to excel in sports or in academics (etc.) all add to stress! Stress can make life seem overwhelming at times, and it can even have harmful effects on our health! Let's see what God says about handling stress in our lives.

What does the Bible say?

Note what advice these verses give for handling stress:

- What should I do?

Study. Grow. S

Being busy is not a bad thing, for God wants us to be productive and get things done. However, God does not want us to be overcome with stress to the point we are miserable. Looking at the above verses, consider these thoughts:

L.	Are you willing to	your bur	aens with a friend,
	parent or youth leader? _		and
with someone goes a long way in relieving stress
2.	God calls us to	and	hard, but He also calls us to give the pressure of success over to H			over to Him. Do your part and give the res	t over to God.	He can handle it!
3.	What adjustments do you need to make in your life?
	Consider what	changes	or
	changes you need to make	ke to free up ι	inneeded stress!

Handling stress correctly is critical if we desire to be used by God. It is essential for us to turn our stress over to Him!

Teen Topics Handling Stress

The Issue:

Stress seems to be a fact of life for most teens! Never ending homework projects, extra-curricular activities, various obligations, drama within our friendships, problems that arise at home, pressure to excel in sports or in academics (etc.) all add to stress! Stress can make life seem overwhelming at times, and it can even have harmful effects on our health! Let's see what God says about handling stress in our lives.

What does the Bible say?

Note what advice these verses give for handling stress:

- > Ex. 18:17-23 Ask for help, don't carry your burdens alone.
- > Deut. 20:1-4 Recognize the Lord gives victory and relief.
- > Ps. 18:6 Take any and all burdens to the Lord in prayer.
- > Eph. 5:15-17 Seek the Lord's will in using time wisely.

What should I do?

Being busy is not a bad thing, for God wants us to be productive and get things done. However, God does not want us to be overcome with stress to the point we are miserable. Looking at the above verses, consider these thoughts:

- 1. Are you willing to share your burdens with a friend, parent or youth leader? Opening up and praying with someone goes a long way in relieving stress!
- 2. God calls us to work and study hard, but He also calls us to give the pressure of success over to Him. Do your part and give the rest over to God. He can handle it!
- 3. What adjustments do you need to make in your life?

  Consider what schedule changes or relationship changes you need to make to free up unneeded stress!

Handling stress correctly is critical if we desire to be used by God. It is essential for us to turn our stress over to Him!

Teen Topics Handling Stress

The Issue:

Stress seems to be a fact of life for most teens! Never ending homework projects, extra-curricular activities, various obligations, drama within our friendships, problems that arise at home, pressure to excel in sports or in academics (etc.) all add to stress! Stress can make life seem overwhelming at times, and it can even have harmful effects on our health! Let's see what God says about handling stress in our lives.

What does the Bible say?

Note what advice these verses give for handling stress:

- > Ex. 18:17-23 Ask for help, don't carry your burdens alone.
- > Deut. 20:1-4 Recognize the Lord gives victory and relief.
- > Ps. 18:6 Take any and all burdens to the Lord in prayer.
- > Eph. 5:15-17 Seek the Lord's will in using time wisely.

What should I do?

Being busy is not a bad thing, for God wants us to be productive and get things done. However, God does not want us to be overcome with stress to the point we are miserable. Looking at the above verses, consider these thoughts:

- 1. Are you willing to share your burdens with a friend, parent or youth leader? Opening up and praying with someone goes a long way in relieving stress!
- 2. God calls us to work and study hard, but He also calls us to give the pressure of success over to Him. Do your part and give the rest over to God. He can handle it!
- 3. What adjustments do you need to make in your life?

  Consider what schedule changes or relationship changes you need to make to free up unneeded stress!

Handling stress correctly is critical if we desire to be used by God. It is essential for us to turn our stress over to Him!

Teen Topics Handling Stress

The Issue:

Stress seems to be a fact of life for most teens! Never ending homework projects, extra-curricular activities, various obligations, drama within our friendships, problems that arise at home, pressure to excel in sports or in academics (etc.) all add to stress! Stress can make life seem overwhelming at times, and it can even have harmful effects on our health! Let's see what God says about handling stress in our lives.

What does the Bible say?

Note what advice these verses give for handling stress:

> Ex. 18:17-23
> Deut. 20:1-4
> Ps. 18:6
> Eph. 5:15-17

What should I do?

Are you willing to

Being busy is not a bad thing, for God wants us to be productive and get things done. However, God does not want us to be overcome with stress to the point we are miserable. Looking at the above verses, consider these thoughts:

your hurdens with a friend

	Aic you willing to	your baracii	3 Willia illelia,
	parent or youth leader? _		and
	with someone goes a long way in relieving stress!
2.	God calls us to	and ha	rd, but He also calls us to give the pressu	ire of success ov	er to Him. Do your part and give the res	t over to God. He	can handle it!
3.	. What adjustments do you need to make in your life?		n your life?
	Consider what	changes or _
	changes you need to make	ke to free up unn	eeded stress!

Handling stress correctly is critical if we desire to be used by God. It is essential for us to turn our stress over to Him!

Teen Topics Handling Stress

The Issue:

Stress seems to be a fact of life for most teens! Never ending homework projects, extra-curricular activities, various obligations, drama within our friendships, problems that arise at home, pressure to excel in sports or in academics (etc.) all add to stress! Stress can make life seem overwhelming at times, and it can even have harmful effects on our health! Let's see what God says about handling stress in our lives.

What does the Bible say?

Note what advice these verses give for handling stress:

> Ex. 18:17-23
> Deut. 20:1-4
> Ps. 18:6
> Eph. 5:15-17

What should I do?

Study. Grow. Sh

Being busy is not a bad thing, for God wants us to be productive and get things done. However, God does not want us to be overcome with stress to the point we are miserable. Looking at the above verses, consider these thoughts:

1.	Are you willing to	your burdens with a friend,
	parent or youth leader?	and
	with someone goes a long way in relieving stress!
2.	God calls us to ar	nd hard, but He also calls us to give the pressure of success over to Him. Do your part and give the rest	over to God. He can handle it!
3.	What adjustments do you r	eed to make in your life?
	Consider what	changes or
	changes you need to make	to free up unneeded stress!

Handling stress correctly is critical if we desire to be used by God. It is essential for us to turn our stress over to Him!