

Pagan Symbols

The Triple Moon is a symbol of the Goddess. Maiden, Mother and Crone are depicted as a lunar cycle.

The Pentagram or Pentacle is used to invoke or banish forces. Each point represents one of the five elements.

The Horned God is the symbol of the masculine aspect of the Divine. The Horned God and the Triple Goddess are equal and opposite in polarity.

The Witch's knot is a protection symbol of folk magic. It stands for the knot magic practiced by Witches during the Middle Ages.

The Wheel of the Year is the cycle of seasons which serve as a calendar for Wiccans. The seasons are marked by 8 holidays called sabbats.

The Ankh is an ancient Egyptian hieroglyphic that represents the word "life" and is a symbol of life itself. It was used as an amulet in Ancient Egypt and as a symbol of fertility.

Hecate's Wheel shows a labyrinthine serpent which represents rebirth, surrounding a spiral as a symbol of the emanations of divine thought

The unicursal hexagram is a six-pointed star used for invoking and banishing, typically associated with the Golden Dawn

The Triskelion or Triskele is a symbol used mainly by groups with a Celtic cultural orientation. It may have been an ancient solar symbol.

The Triquetra or Trinity Knot represents triplicity. In Wicca, symbol of the Law of Threefold Return, or the cycle of Life, Death and Rebirth.

Spirals have been primary Goddess symbols since ancient times. They represent the Divine Feminine, the movement of creation and power of

The Solar cross has been used by many different cultures and is probably the oldest religious symbol in the world.