Doon in the wee room, underneath the stair;
Everybody's happy, everybody's there;
And we're a' makin' merry each in his chair;
Doon in the wee room underneath the stair.

When ye're tired and weary, and ye're feelin' blue;
Don't give way tae sorrow, I'll tell ye what tae do.
Take a trip tae Springburn, find Quin's Bar there,
Go doon tae the wee room underneath the stair.

Daniel McLaughlin was born of Irish parents who lived in Springburn, Glasgow. He wrote poetry, was active in the Gaelic League, played fiddle and was a champion singer. The tune has been heard in an old Laurel and Hardy film to a song, "Down in the forest, under the trees".
