Editor Notes:

I did my best to list conventions that have more than a few tables over more than a day and that have advance sign ups by some means, like Warhorn, a game grid, or table tickets. Every player should have a reasonable guarantee when they drive across the state that they will play a specific module/table of a game in a comfortable setting.

This list is by no means complete, I am sure more events will qualify for inclusion, so look for the next version.
