Essay Questions:

What changes, if any, could be made to the class that would have helped you to learn more? What could the instructor have done to make the course an even better learning experience?

I wouldn't change anything.

Provide some of the discussion points before the reading is due so that connections can begin being made while reading.

less readings

What could you have done to make the course an even better learning experience?

I could have made it a better learning experience by engaging myself in the readings more.

I could have spent more time doing homework so I could have contributed more to the class.

Read closer to the text.

What did you like most about the class and your instructor?

I liked most that the class was very collaborative and the instructor was open to questions and discussion.

I liked that I learned so many things that I would never learn without this class. It was also a good chance to learn how to conduct undergraduate research.

The instructor was passionate about the subject and helped inform me about how I could pursue my passions.

What factors about this class contributed the most to your learning? What aspects of this class helped you to learn to think critically?

The fact that we had to take notes for nearly everything we read. It helped me remember what material I read. How we had to link our readings with problem solving helped me learn how to think critically at a college level.

The reading and thinking notes assigned in class really helped me to think critically and contributed most to my learning.

The small class and welcomed discussion helped me learn the most.

What factors about your own performance helped you learn the most? What did you do to facilitate your learning?

Organization helped me learn most in this class. Knowing where everything is when needed was very beneficial.

Reading with the assigned due dates helped keep me on track with the course material.

Essay Questions:

What changes, if any, could be made to the class that would have helped you to learn more? What could the instructor have done to make the course an even better learning experience?

I have no recommendations for improvement for the Engl 307 distance learning course taught by Dr. Rochelle Rodrigo. She has made the course interactive and interesting, and has been very responsive throughout the semester. I have learned so much from this class that will prove useful in my future professional career and I thank Dr. Rodrigo for her commitment to the learning environment she has created.
I would not change anything about the course.
The instructor needs to be more organized and time efficient with grading and email responses. Also, the reading notes and rhetoric of design assignments do not need to be assigned every week ESPECIALLY on weeks where we had portions of our projects due...after a while it just felt like busy work when I had hundred of other things that I could be doing.
There is entirely too much busy work associated with this class. The weekly learning reflections/reading notes/rhetoric of design posts became extremely redundant and by the end of the fourth week I felt like a robot because I was not learning anything new as a result of these assignments. This was especially annoying while I was trying to work on major projects. If I were able to focus more on the project assignments instead of worrying about completing busy work, then I would have learned more and more effectively.

What could you have done to make the course an even better learning experience?

I could have spent extra time making sure that I understood the material and perfecting the assignments before I turned them in.
I wish I have committed even more time to it than I was able to. But I have truly enjoyed this course and am so grateful to Dr. Rodrigo for the knowledge my she has helped to impart during senior year here at ODU.
No comment.
This class's online requirements are FAR TOO complex for an online class. It was too confusing to take a class outside of blackboard.

Essay Questions:

What did you like most about the class and your instructor?

I liked that I didn't have to meet physically being that it was an online class. My instructor was nice and supportive of our work.
I really liked the way the class was organized and I really liked her style of teaching and getting us to learn in new and different ways.
My inst. was pleasant.
That we could contact her with anything
This has been the most creative and pertinent class to my career path as a communications/marketing professional in my entire course curriculum. Employers looking for communications professionals today are looking for experience as well as education/abilities in media and digital writing. Dr. Rodrigo has demonstrated extreme interest in each and every student's success and a passion/creativity for digital writing and creative media that has far exceeded my expectations. Dr. Rodrigo is a gem in the higher education system and I am thankful to have been able to learn all that I have under her instruction during the Fall 2013 semester.

What factors about this class contributed the most to your learning? What aspects of this class helped you to learn to think critically?

I loved how we utilized the course outcomes in this class and related them back to the assignments. I've never been required to do that for a class before and I thought that was a really important part of this course.
The major projects definitely contributed most to my learning and helped me to learn to think critically.
The only thing that contributed to my learning was having to apply skills in order to do the project. The reading had a few points that were good to know but not much.
This Digital Writing class with Dr. Rodrigo has been the best organized and most pertinent course to my future career that I have taken in all of my coursework toward my BS degree in Communication with ODU. Dr. Rodrigo is passionate about her class materials and her students and it shows in all of her interactions, even though it all be distance.
n/a

What factors about your own performance helped you learn the most? What did you do to facilitate your learning?

I made sure that I took a solid amount of time on each assignment. Also I had someone review my work before I turned it in.
There is a good amount of time commitment required to be successful in this course and that was a challenge as an adult learner, raising a family and working full time. But the design of the course and the direct communication opportunities with Dr. Rodrigo has made the course interactive, interesting and most pertinent to my future career in communication.
To facilitate my learning I found that it was important to use materials, such as tutorials, online to help me achieve my goals.
When I was on top of everything and practiced good time management is what helped me the most.

Essay Questions:

What changes, if any, could be made to the class that would have helped you to learn more? What could the instructor have done to make the course an even better learning experience?

I know there's a lot to be covered in a grad class, so this will sound like whining, but even just a little lighter reading load may have given me the time I typically need to read an article, think as I'm reading, and annotate. Combined with the other weekly assignments, I would say the majority of my time each week of the semester was spent working on this class.

My instructor did a great job, and her flexibility with the schedule and readings to the dynamics of the class was great.

Some weeks the reading seemed a bit too much for the amount that we discussed it (e.g. we didn't have enough time to unpack all of the reading) and then I left still feeling like I didn't understand pieces of the text.

What could you have done to make the course an even better learning experience?

I think it was difficult for me to not completely know where I wanted to focus my research project until later in the semester. This made me feel like I was flailing at times.

What I could have done more of, and will try to do in the future, is look into other texts by authors we read in class.

What did you like most about the class and your instructor?

I really appreciate that we had ample opportunity to familiarize ourselves with the research of our peers as well as to obtain robust peer and instructor feedback.

The enthusiasm for the subject and the readings.

Essay Questions:

The instructor is incredibly knowledgeable, enthusiastic, approachable, and cares about what students in the class want to learn. She made the rationale for her assignments very clear.

The instructor's enthusiasm and the knowledge of all my classmates.

What factors about this class contributed the most to your learning? What aspects of this class helped you to learn to think critically?

Asynchronous work that had us apply readings to specific works; guided peer review

Class discussions were the most helpful because it was everyone coming together to work through the materials.

The interaction between all of the students and the instructor's engagement on the same level. It was very much a roundtable format without the instructor standing up and pouring knowledge into us. We felt free to stumble over ideas together.

Writing the weekly questions helped me think critically about the material prior to class discussions. Also, the scaffolded nature of the major project gave me an opportunity to think through my research and object of analysis.

What factors about your own performance helped you learn the most? What did you do to facilitate your learning?

Reading and staying engaged with the course material and being part of the discussions.

Tried to make the most sense out of the material by applying the theories to other works I read outside of class.
