

Dialogue with a Text

Text: _____

Group Members:

Dialogue with a Text

Text: _____

Group Members:

Dialogue with a Text

Text: _____

Group Members:

Dialogue with a Text

Text: _____

Group Members:

At each page do the following:

1. Have someone read the question aloud.
2. Take a moment to think about your response.
3. Discuss the question making sure everyone has a chance to say something.
4. Once you've finished discussing that question, then turn to the next page.

At each page do the following:

1. Have someone read the question aloud.
2. Take a moment to think about your response.
3. Discuss the question making sure everyone has a chance to say something.
4. Once you've finished discussing that question, then turn to the next page.

At each page do the following:

1. Have someone read the question aloud.
2. Take a moment to think about your response.
3. Discuss the question making sure everyone has a chance to say something.
4. Once you've finished discussing that question, then turn to the next page.

At each page do the following:

1. Have someone read the question aloud.
2. Take a moment to think about your response.
3. Discuss the question making sure everyone has a chance to say something.
4. Once you've finished discussing that question, then turn to the next page.

What is your first response to the text? What thoughts did you have as you read? Jot some notes here, and then discuss with your group.

What is your first response to the text? What thoughts did you have as you read? Jot some notes here, and then discuss with your group.

What is your first response to the text? What thoughts did you have as you read? Jot some notes here, and then discuss with your group.

What is your first response to the text? What thoughts did you have as you read? Jot some notes here, and then discuss with your group.

Does this text remind you of anything else you have read, seen, or heard? Think of newspaper articles, television, movies, books, and music. If it does, what is the connection you see between the two?

Does this text remind you of anything else you have read, seen, or heard? Think of newspaper articles, television, movies, books, and music. If it does, what is the connection you see between the two?

Does this text remind you of anything else you have read, seen, or heard? Think of newspaper articles, television, movies, books, and music. If it does, what is the connection you see between the two?

Does this text remind you of anything else you have read, seen, or heard? Think of newspaper articles, television, movies, books, and music. If it does, what is the connection you see between the two?

What is the most important word or phrase in the text? Why?

What is the most important word or phrase in the text? Why?

What is the most important word or phrase in the text? Why?

What is the most important word or phrase in the text? Why?

Good books raise more questions than they answer.
What questions are in your mind at this point?

Good books raise more questions than they answer.
What questions are in your mind at this point?

Good books raise more questions than they answer.
What questions are in your mind at this point?

Good books raise more questions than they answer.
What questions are in your mind at this point?

Photocopying Instructions:

We need booklets prepared from these masters. Each sheet has four copies of the same small page. Please make photocopies in the amount of roughly 1/4 the number of participants (25 copies for 100 teachers). The copies can then be stapled and cut, each yielding 4 small booklets 5.5" x 4.25".

Then we'll also need one copy of the text for each participant.

rep