Jimmie Allen PRIME....., who recently enlisted in the Navy, arrived at this Station for preliminary recruit training for service in the Navy.

Upon the satisfactory completion of his preliminary training each recruit is listed either for assignment to a sea-going vessel or, if considered qualified, for a course in a Service School. Upon the satisfactory completion of the Service School course the recruit then becomes available for sea assignment.

The Navy endeavors to provide its men with careful discipline and congenial work in healthful surroundings and care for their physical, mental and moral welfare.

It is requested that official communications be addressed, Commanding Officer, U. S. Naval Training Station, San Diego, California.

Frequent and cheerful letters from his home are of great benefit to the recruit and they are the best means of encouraging him to write home frequently. Prompt delivery of mail for each recruit will result if addressed:
