CHOLERA.

Since our last the bad news, that the Cholera Morbus had commenced its ravages at Quebec, has come to hand. Several deaths have already happened at that place. It may soon visit the United States.

INDIAN WAR.

From St. Louis papers we extract the following Indian war items:

June 14. Five American citizens were killed about five miles below Hamilton's Fort.

June 16. A citizen was killed about a half a mile from the same place. Gen. Dodge, with 20 of his mounted men, went in immediate pursuit; and after going about three miles, discovered the murderers—11 in number—but did not overtake them until they crossed the East Pick-eton-eka, and entered an almost impenetrable swamp. At the edge of the swamp the men were ordered to dismount and link horses, four men were left in charge of the horses, and four were posted round the swamp, on high ground, to observe the motion of the enemy; the remainder (21) advanced into the swamp, about half a mile, when they received the fire of the Indians, at the distance of about thirty feet, by which 3 of our men fell, severely wounded. Orders were instantly given to charge; and as the Indians were lying under the bank of a slough, it was not until our party got within six or eight feet of them, that they were seen and fired upon. The whole hostile party was killed and scattered within one or two minutes, but one who attempted to make his escape by swimming the slough and he was shot down on the opposite bank.

On the 15th day, a party of Indians was attacked by Capt. Snyder, near K. Hogg's Grove, and defeated, with the loss of 15;—one of Capt. Snyder's company mortally wounded. On his return, he halted near a small stream of water, and was fired upon by a body of Indians, who by concealed; 2 of his men were killed, and 1 mortally wounded. The company was immediately formed, and retreated in good order before a superior force of the Indians.

June 18. A bloody engagement took place between a small party of Americans, commanded by Capt. Stevenson, and a superior party of the Indians, on Apple Creek. Three of our men were lost and Capt. Stevenson, wounded, though, it is hoped, not dangerously.

The following is, as far as we can learn, the disposition of the forces:—250 men at Fort Wilburne, 200 on Rock river; the country between Rock river and Onisconsin, is filled with rangers; and from three to five hundred men ranging on the Illinois frontier; strong parties to be detached from the main body as circumstances require. From this disposition, it will be perceived that the two important objects are effected:—1st. The protection and security of the frontier in the vicinity of Chicago to the Yellow Banks of the Mississippi. The formation of a strong line from the mouth of Fox river to the Rock river, and from thence to the Onisconsin, so as to prevent the Indians from recrossing the Mississippi. This judicious disposition of the forces precludes all hope of escape for the Indians, except in the direction of Lake Superior, where they will still meet with opposition.—[Union]

GREECE.—A letter dated Syria, 18th of March, says:—I unexpectedly the news was received here of the choice of a new Prince for Greece, in the person of Prince Otho of Bavaria. It caused probably greater enthusiasm than the account of the battle of Navarino or the protocol of 6th July. In less than a quarter of an hour all the town was informed of it—people run to churches to return thanks to God.—I do not believe there was a single person who was not rejoiced at it. The portrait of the new King which was in the possession of M. Thersersch, was in the hands of all the citizens, every one wishes to see it and some endeavored to copy it.—[N. Y. Whig.]

PORTUGAL.

Lisbon, April 19th.—Every thing here is going on in the same way as for months past. Both sides of the Tagus are daily receiving a fresh supply of guns, and the old hulks are fitted up as floating batteries. Both are well manned and properly defended, and every day will have some work to do, before he is in quiet possession of Lisbon. The private accounts from Lisbon, of the 14th inst. are fearful. The arrests were still increasing, orders had been issued to apprehend any person who had paid the forced loan, and direct him to a particular place of residence. About 100 eminent persons were taken in consequence in hiding places; when they were taken and constantly sent to dungeons on the frontiers. About 100 Portuguese were nearly killed by the attendants on Miguel, his serjeant M. Jesty having gone out the evening, and not been recognized in due time.

Pope says, the greatest advantage I know of being thought a wit by the world is, that it gives one the greater freedom of playing the fool.

SPAIN.

Our direct intelligence from Madrid justifies and contains the hope expressed by the English papers that Spain will maintain a neutrality in the approaching struggle in Portugal. Here then as in all the difficult questions which have compromised for a wide year the peace of Europe, the sincere alliance with France and England has extinguished the germs of collision with which the expedition of Don Pedro menaced the interests of all Europe. Every thing promises an easy victory to Don Pedro, and no doubt, before the end of May we shall hear of some doings of a conclusive nature.—Journal des Debats.

Boston Municipal Court, March term, 1832.—Extract from the Charge of Judge THACHER to the grand Jury:—"I deem it to be my duty to express to you, at this time, my opinion, that to publish books, pamphlets, or newspapers, designing to be circulated here and in other States of the Union, and having a direct and necessary tendency to excite in the minds of our own citizens deadly hatred and hostility against their brethren of other States, and to stimulate the slave population there to rise against their masters, and to effect by fire and sword their emancipation, is an offence against the peace of this commonwealth, and that it may be prosecuted as a misdemeanor at common law."

DISSOLUTION.

BE it known to all who it may concern, that on this 1st day of June, 1832, the partnership between James Everitt and Daniel M. Stout, is by mutual consent, dissolved; and all debts contracted with the firm, to do settled with the said Daniel M. Stout.

Cornelius Gilliam & James Nickle.

In Chancery

NOW at this day came the complainant, by her Solicitor, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the Court, that the defendant, James Nickle, is a non-resident of this State—upon motion of the complainant, by her Solicitor, it is ordered by the Court, that public notice be given in some news paper printed in this State, that unless the defendant, James Nickle, do appear at the next October term of this Court, and pay in his answer to the complainant's said Bill of complaint, the same will be taken for confessed.

Mr. James Nickle, You will therefore take notice that I have commenced suit against you in Chancery for alimony and maintenance, you having left this state without having made a sufficient provision for me, otherwise than by leaving in my possession some property real and personal, all which has been sold for the payment of your debts, and a balance of money remaining in the hands of Cornelius Gilliam, Sheriff of Clay county, arising from the sale of said property, which money or so much of it as may be necessary to afford me a reasonable subsistence, I pray the Court to order the Sheriff to pay over to me. You are therefore required to appear at the next term of the Court and put in your answer to my said Bill, otherwise the same will be taken as confessed, and a decree entered up accordingly. And it is further ordered by this Court that this order of publication be inserted in some news paper printed in this State for eight weeks successively, the last insertion to be at least four weeks before the next term of this Court.
