

REMOTE COMMUNITY POOL MANAGER

Royal Life Saving Society WA

ABOUT US:

Royal Life Saving Society WA (RLSSWA) is a not-for-profit organization servicing the community as the largest provider of water safety and drowning prevention activities in our state. Our purpose is to empower our community to be safe when they are in, on or around water and to lead efforts to reduce the impact of drowning.

Contributing to the achievement of this purpose is our management of six remote Aboriginal community pools in partnership with the State Government's Department of Housing.

RLSSWA's key role in the management of these six facilities is to work in consultation with each community to run safe, efficient and effective aquatic facilities that meet the needs and expectations of community members.
