

BRICKDUST

15MM NAPOLEONIC MINIATURE RANGE

The Napoleonic Wars (1803–1815) were a series of wars between Napoleon's French Empire and a series of opposing coalitions. As a continuation of the wars sparked by the French Revolution of 1789, they revolutionized European armies and played out on an unprecedented scale, mainly owing to the application of modern mass conscription. French power rose quickly as Napoleon's armies conquered much of Europe. In the military career of Napoleon Bonaparte he fought 60 battles. The great French dominion collapsed rapidly after the disastrous invasion of Russia in 1812. Napoleon was defeated in 1814; he returned and was finally defeated in 1815 at Waterloo, and all France's gains were taken away by the victors.

Before a final victory against Napoleon, five of seven coalitions saw defeat at the hands of France. France defeated the first and second coalitions during the French Revolutionary Wars, the third (notably at Austerlitz), the fourth (notably at Jena, Eylau, and Friedland) and the fifth coalition (notably at Wagram) under the leadership of Napoleon. These great victories gave the French Army a sense of invulnerability, especially when it approached Moscow. But after the retreat from Russia, in spite of incomplete victories, France was defeated by the sixth coalition at Leipzig, in the Peninsular War at Vitoria and at the hands of the seventh coalition at Waterloo.

Brickdust is the colour of red used by the British Army during the Napoleonic Wars and 15mm.co.uk has chosen it as the new name for the re-released 15mm scale white metal range of miniatures originally released in the 1980's by Tabletop Games. This is a classic range present in the collections of wargamers all over the world. Now its released once more! Napoleonics, is probably one of the most popular periods in wargaming and with the 200th Anniversary of Waterloo in 2015 this is even more relevant.

You can find the Brickdust range on our website and while you can browse the codes at your leisure you can also refine the pages by using the search box to narrow the display to the nation or type of your choice.
