Drunken Toads of the Mountains

Welcome to Alternative Armies uniformation for 56593 Montagna Bucati a set of miniatures for use in Flintloque and Slaughterloo. If you are interested in these for your collection go to our website at www.alternative-armies.com and use the search box with the code given. In this article you will find background which you can work into your games along with game statistics for Flintloque and also for Slaughterloo. As well as this there are uniform details and pictures along with details of where they fits into the World of Valon and the Mordredian Wars. Lastly we make a suggestion of where to go from here.

A CHASM AND WINE PARTY

Not many gentleorcs of learning know about the aborting landing of troops under the command of General Merksorc on the coast of Nepolise. It is not a surprise through since not only it a top secret in the halls of Orseguards in Londinium but also because it was a total disaster. Merksorc had been ordered to advance into the mountains east of Glencroaka to a remote monastery to recover chests of gold. This gold had belonged to the Emperor's vanquished brother and it would be most welcome in fighting against the Tyrant. What had not been taken into account was the deep chasms and narrow trails of the mountain ranges and the presence of the veteran Montagna Bucati.

Using their rifles acquired from the magazines of the defunct 33eme Regimente who used to be armed with the weapon which spun their ball to give deadly accuracy the Todoroni sniped and then fled in front of the greater Orcish numbers. This was bad enough but when it came to the rickety wooden bridges which had to be crossed it became truly dangerous. The Todoroni using a combination of ropes and drunken bravado swung from the cliffs and flung grenades onto the bridges. While several Toads fell to a messy death it unnerved the Orcs so badly that the advance was abandoned.

MONTAGNA BUCATI LIGHT INFANTRY

Bravado in the extreme and with hangovers that can last for days the infamous braggarts of the Montagna Bucati are drunkards for sure but they are also excellent mountain troops. They are purpose trained Light Troops. There are two regiments each of two battalions with each battalion holding six hundred Todoroni divided into five companies all designated Light Troop. Each of the companies has two platoons and a headquarters element. A Section has around twelve to fourteen Todoroni including an Officer, a Sergeant, a Bugle player, the rest being Privates. The Bucati are armed with a Standard Rifle, Officers have a Sword, Sergeants have a rifle. The Infantry uniform consists of an emerald green tunic, white breeches, white gaiters, black hats, white cords and gold metal fittings and black shoes. Facing colours (cuffs, collars, etc.) are pink. Equipment is black and brown, with equipment straps being of white leather

Rules for Flintloque: When playing Flintloque treat this section as Little Todoroni, Light Troops and Elite with a higher number than normal of Average and Experienced characters and fewer Raw ones. They are armed with Standard Rifles. Refer to your Flintloque game book to create your section. There is are two additional special rules for the Montagna Bucati in Flintloque which you must use with all characters.

Up the Rope: This character may treat all movement which involved climbing such as up a wall or a slope as Clear Terrain when ascending. When coming down the normal movement rate applies. Cost: 4 Points.

Oh my Head! This character is suffering from the effects of the excessive consumption of wine and it shows. It was a great night before but now the day is stinging. The whole section is the same. At the start of each turn roll 1D10 and on a result of 1 the section may NOT use any Command Points that turn due to aching heads. Cost: -5 Points.

Rules for Slaughterloo:

MONTAGNA BUCATI

Excellent quality mountain trained light infantry who have a real problem with bravado and wine meaning they like wine then they get going on the bravado. Typically found in Catalucia and in Nepolise they have managed to avoid the Witchlands thus far.

STATUS & ARMAMENT: Light Infantry and are armed with Rifles.

SPECIAL RULE: As per the Slaughterloo rules this unit is Light Infantry and moves as such however when it comes to Impossible Terrain a few forms of it are passable to this unit. Impossible Terrain which is a cliff or a crevasse which can be ascended or descended with the unit remaining in play (a cliff top or flat ground at the bottom) they may treat it as Difficult Terrain.

Where To Go From Here: You will get best use from these titles. Use 5030 Slaughterloo 2nd Edition and also 5025 War in Catalucia Flintloque 3rd Edition game book under Todoroni. Miniatures which go well with these in scenarios are codes such as 56525 Todoroni Line Infantry and 56541 Fruscati Grenaderia who will give you regular infantry to go with your light troops. Enemies can be any of the Ferach Empire but a good match for the Montagna Bucati are the 5104 105th Rifles who are part of the Army of Albion as both make use of rifles.
