1. Boat show docks in West Palm

City's waterfront alive with hundreds of crafts

The 29th Annual Palm Beach International Boat Show, which opened Thursday, bills itself as one of the top five boat show in the United States. Organizers say the event will feature more than $1.2 billion worth of boats, yachts and accessories from the world's leading marine manufacturers. Not in the market for a yacht? Not to worry as the event includes hundreds of crafts including 8-foot inflatables, power boats, fishing boats, center consoles, bow riders and personal watercraft as well as, yes, super yachts that exceed 150 feet. Show entrances are at Evernia Street and Flagler Drive and North Clematis Street and Flagler Drive. Times are 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. today and Saturday, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. Cost is $18 for adults; $8 for children 6 to 15 and free for children younger than 6. www.showmanagement.com.

2 At the Norton: 'Industrial Sublime'

Featuring paintings by artists such as George Bellows, Robert Henri, John Marin, Reginald Marsh, Georgia O'Keeffe, and John Sloan, "Industrial Sublime: Modernism and the Transformation of New York's Rivers, 1900-1940," the Norton's latest exhibition examines the shift to urban views of New York's waterways.

The Palm Beach Boat Show, downtown West Palm Beach, all weekend.

These artists celebrated the changing way of life along the city's waterfront, painting bridges, cranes, and ocean liners and borrowing ideals from the Machine Age. They eventually created new visual vocabulary for the modern era: the Industrial Sublime. The exhibit runs through June 22. The museum is at 1451 S. Olive Ave., West Palm Beach. 561-832-5196; www.norton.org

3 On Mainstreet: Peace, love, wellness

Natural jewelers, food trucks, bands, yoga classes, children's activities and more will fill the streets of Mainstreet at Midtown from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday during the second Peace, Love & Wellness Music Festival. There'll be demonstrations and health screenings during the free event. Chef Christopher Slawson of Christopher's Kitchen will discuss clean eating and cooking, and JFK Emergency Medical Center, the event's sponsor, will provide health information. Mainstreet at Midtown is at 4801 PGA Blvd., Palm Beach Gardens. 561-630-6110; www.midtownpga.com

4 Science as art: Stem-cell research

The Palm Beach Photographic Centre is presenting the exhibition "Keys to The Cure" by artist Kelly Milukas through May 31. Comprising more than 50 multi-media artworks, the exhibit is an interplay of photography and sculpture to tell the story of stem-cell research and regenerative medicine. Also on exhibit is "The Art of Science: Under the Surface" featuring pictures taken through a microscope that takes the viewer into the world of regenerative medicine and the human body. The center is at 415 Clematis St., West Palm Beach. 561-253-2600; www.workshop.org

5 Walk for a cause: Annual ALS event

The Palm Beach Walk to Defeat ALS is set for Saturday at Okeeheelee Park in suburban West Palm Beach. Check-in is 8:30 a.m. and the walk starts at 10 a.m. The event raises money to support the search for a cure for amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, also known as Lou Gehrig's disease, a progressive neurodegenerative disease that affects nerve cells in the brain and the spinal cord. Palm Beach County Sheriff Ric Bradshaw and his wife will be there. Join a team, including that of former Palm Beach Post staffer Susan Spencer-Wendel, for a good cause. 813-637-9000; <http://web.alsa.org>, (Click on 'Find a Walk Near You' tab)
